U. S. WILL ACT WITHIN 48 HOURS; 35,000 MILITIA ON WAY TO BORDER

FIXES TIME LIMIT FOR RELEASE OF TROOPERS

President Will Not Wait Beyond Tomorrow or Thursday at Latest if Carranza Refuses to Yield.

DECISIVE STEP BY WASHINGTON COMING SOON

Washington, June 27.—There were clear indications today that if American cavalrymen captured by Mexican troops at Carrizal were not released within 48 hours, action would be taken by the United States.

The impression prevailed in official circles that President Wilson would not wait beyond Thursday at the latest and possibly not beyond tomorrow afternoon for a definite reply from the Carranza government to the note demanding the immediate release of the prisoners and a declaration of intentions.

Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City reported in an over night message received early today that he had delivered the note to the Mexican foreign office yesterday morning. He did not indicate how it had been received or when a reply might be expected.

Discussed by Cabinet.

Discussion of the Mexican crisis occupied today's brief session of the cabinet. When it was over Secretary Lansing announced that there was no change in the situation; that the administration was awaiting word from Carranza.

Secretaries Baker and Daniels said no new army or navy orders had been given.

While the diplomatic aspects of the crisis awaited Carranza's action, the war department drove forward its efforts to hasten mobilization of the national guard on the border.

Must Back Up Regulars.

DR. JORDAN GETS THREATS BY MAIL

Interventionists Seek to Intimidate Peace Mission Members.

El Paso, Texas, June 27.—Dr. David Starr Jordan, who is here as a member of a Mexican peace mission, said today he had received a number of threatening letters from interventionists. But despite threats, he added, the peace conference will continue.

Two more members of the commission —Frank P. Walsh and Modesto Rollan, are expected to arrive late today. Dr. Jordan expressed the belief that William J. Bryan will not be among their numbers.

"We're not against intervention if intervention is necessary in the name of humanity," Dr. Jordan said, "but we do object to a soldier's row being made an excuse for it. We ought to intervene on broader grounds than mere revenge."

The exhibit is a large one and many chicken breeders, it is anticipated, will be in attendance.

GERMANS MAKE STRONG STAND

Von Linsingen's Men Hold Against Terrific Russian Attacks.

ALLIES SHOWING MARKED ACTIVITY

Numerous Battles Raging Along Franco-Belgian Front.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Teutonic stand against the Russians southeast of Kovel is being firmly maintained in defending this vital railway junction point that German continue to deliver heavy attacks. Berlin today reports a successful assault on the Russian lines southwest of Sokul where the Russians have made their nearest attack to Soul. The ground gained was held against all counter attacks.

The incessant heavy shelling of the German lines from the front in Belgium to a point south of the Somme by British and French artillery is continuing, giving color to a widely held belief that an allied offensive is in progress. There also has been marked reconnoitering activity along this front and numerous gas and smoke clouds have been let loose by the entente forces. Berlin denied that the French have reaped any advantage from these attacks.

Berlin, June 27.—(Via London, 4:55 p. m.)—Russian positions southwest of Sokul, in Volhynia, have been stormed by Gen. von Linsingen's troops and held against counter attacks, according to announcement made from the war office today. Several hundred Russians were taken prisoners.

Marked activity continues in evidence along the Franco-Belgian front held by the British and the northern wing of the French line. Numerous battles are being waged by the entente forces in the operations, the war office announced today. The artillery fire on the German lines was especially intense in the vicinity of Sommeme.

That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time. Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as if by magic? Try this prescription. Go to the Dreier Drug Co., Meyer Bros. Co. or the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. FORT WAYNE CLOSE TO 100,000 MARK

New Directory Gives the City's Population at 87,360.

Fort Wayne's population is dangerously near the 100,000 mark, according to the new city directory that will soon be ready for distribution. Mrs. Edith K. Andrews, the local representative of R. L. Polk & Co., estimates the population at 87,360. There are in the directory 43,680 names, which multiplied by two makes the population as stated above.

The following is reprinted from the foreward of the new directory:

"Perhaps in no other way is the progress or decline of the city more clearly shown than through the medium of the city directory. During periods of special prosperity, great numbers of people may be seen upon the streets, and the cry goes out, "How we are growing," but the next week when the excitment is over and the crowds decline then we look upon the matter with different eyes. One week business may be good, and the bank clearings out of the ordinary and again we cry, 'prosperity,' but with changing conditions business again changes and then we feel we are falling behind rather than advancing. But the city directory stands as a means of correct information concerning the city's growth and its corresponding prosperity from year to year."

Thomas J. Logan, deputy clerk of the United States court, was a business visitor in Hartford City Tuesday.

NOTED FORGER WINS HIS WAY TO FREEDOM

Peter Van Vlissingen Gets Release from Illinois Pardon Board.

Chicago, June 27.—Peter Van Vlissingen, who in November, 1908, confessed real estate mortgage forgeries amounting to $1,600,000, will be released from Joliet penitentiary on July 25.

The announcement was made by the state pardon board yesterday. Van Vlissingen has been in Joliet nearly eight years. He was sentenced to from one to fourteen years. Early in his term he applied for pardon, but his term was fixed at the maximum. Because of his exemplary behavior, however, seven months was taken from his maximum sentence, which, with the good time granted by the pardon board, was eight years and three years.

Says He Is Penniless.

Van Vlissingen says he will emerge from prison penniless and without prospects. His private fortune went to relieve his victims, among whom were numbered his nearest friends, all wealthy men and women. Mrs. Van Vlissingen, who sued for divorce in 1913, died last February. There was some mystery connected with her death, but it was finally declared due to angina pectoris. Mrs. Van Vlissingen at first obtained a decree, but this was fought by her husband on the ground that she had been cognizant, first as his secretary and later as his wife, of his misdeeds. The decree was set aside.

Thies J. Lefens and Conrad Seipp, who lost large sums through Van Vlissingen's forgeries, discovered his crimes. He confessed and was sent to Joliet the same day, being the quickest conviction of its kind ever obtained.

The forger at first worked in the prison shops and later became editor of the prison magazine. When the honor system was instituted he was sent with the road crews and his record was so good that his time was reduced.

INDIANA FACTORIES ALL ENJOYING BOOM

Washington, June 27.—A very substantial growth in the manufacturing industry in Indiana is shown by the quinquennial census of manufacturers of the state, which has been made public by the census bureau. The comparison is for 1914 and 1909. Every item of the report except one shows an increase. The single exception was in the number of proprietors and firm members, which decreased from 7,674 in 1909 to 7,229 in 1914. During the same time, however, the average number of wage earners increased from 186,984 to 197,503, or 5.6 per cent.

The cost of materials used was $423,857,000 in 1914, as against $334,375,000 in 1909, an increase of $89,482,000, or 26.8 per cent. The average cost of materials per establishment was approximately $53000 in 1914 and $42,000 in 1909.

The value of products was $730,795,000 in 1914 and $579,075,000 in 1909, the increase being $151,720,000, or 26.2 per cent. The average per establishment was approximately $91,000 in 1914 and $73,000 in 1909.

The salaries and wages amounted to $155,854,000 in 1914 and $121,816,000 in 1909, the increase being $34,038,000, or 27.9 per cent. Capital invested in Indiana manufacturing enterprises increased from $508,717,000 in 1909 to $668,863,000 in 1914, or 12.1 per cent.

FT. WAYNE DOCTORS IN ANNUAL PICNIC

Big Time is Enjoyed by the Physicians of the City at Robison Park.

The annual picnic of the physicians of Fort Wayne was held Tuesday at Robison park, an event that has been looked forward to with great expectancy by the doctors for several weeks.

Good eats were provided and plenty of amusements, the principal event being a ball game between Dr. M. F. Porter's Pacificists and Dr. H. A. Duemling's Apostles of Preparedness. The game was scheduled to start at 3 o'clock, and there was no time set for the finish. The lineups of the two teams are as follows:

Dr. Porter's Pacificists—Drs. M. F. Porter, jr., J. E. McArdle, C. C. Gandy, K. C. Eberle, L. T. Rawles, E. E. Morgan, H. E. Glock, D. Metcalf and H. A. Ray.

Dr. Duemling's Apostles—Drs. C. G. Beall, B. Van Sweringen, E. C. Singer, B. M. Edlavitch, H. M. Senseny, E. N. Mendenall, M. B. Catlett, J. C. Wallace and D. R. Benninghoff. Plenty of substitutes were provided for both teams.

SURROUNDS THE RED CROSS WITH SECRECY

New York, June 27.—The war department has placed the movements of the Red Cross under the same cover of secrecy as those of regular army and the militia. Officials of the Red Cross throughout the country have been advised to be careful as to information they give out as the disposition of their forces would indicate the points where troops are to be sent.

The Red Cross began to enroll nurses three years ago for emergencies and now has 6,000 who are expected to respond if needed. It was arranged also to provide equipment and personnel for enough base hospitals to care for 400,000 men and to turn these over to the government in event of war.

FIERY DEBATE ON MILITIA DRAFT BILL

Guardsmen Measure Passes Senate After Heated Wrangle.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—After one of the most stirring debates in a decade the senate last night passed the Hay resolution declaring the existence of an emergency in the relations of the United States and Mexico and authorizing the president to draft the national guard into the federal service for such use as he may care to put it to meet the situation.

Just prior to the passage of the resolution Senator Sherman, of Illinois, offered an amendment to the effect that, instead of an emergency, "a state of war exists between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico."

The offering of this amendment raised a commotion in the senate such as has not been seen in many years.

Wilson Men Accept Gage.

Administration leaders leaped from their seats to remonstrate with the Illinoisan and to urge him to withdraw his motion.

Republicans who had been insisting throughout the debate that a state of war existed became panic stricken when Senator Sherman put it squarely up to them to vote the way they talked.

After wrangling for nearly an hour the senate voted down the Sherman amendment without a roll call. Then it passed the emergency resolution with a provision instructing the secretary of war to accept the resignation of any national guardsmen who have families dependent on them for support and who wish to resign.

Bar Pay for Families.

Senators Lewis, of Illinois, Reed of Missouri, Hitchcock of Nebraska, and Smith of Georgia made an ineffectual effort to have the measure approved as it passed the house, providing pay of $50 a month for the dependent families of guardsmen. They were beaten, 30 to 45.

A motion of Senator Lewis to give the guardsmen a chance to resign or serve with pay for his family, as he chose, was defeated, 17 to 58.

The resolution, as amended by the senate, now goes back to the house, where it is said the leaders will insist upon the pay for the guardsmen feature which was beaten in the senate yesterday. A deadlock is likely to result, to break which President Wilson probably will be called upon for assistance.

Senator Sherman caught the senate leaders asleep when he offered his amendment to the effect that a state of war exists between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico.

"We are apt to delude ourselves with fine phrases," said the senator. "Emergency sounds more euphonious than war. But for my part I am tired of mere phrases. I favor a declaration of war."

WILL USE DRAFT TO GET HARVEST HANDS

Hungarian Authorities to Take No Chance on the Weather Man.

Budapest, (Via Berlin to London, June 27, 1:20 a. m.)—With memories of the 1915 weather fresh in mind and the freakish weather of the past three weeks as a warning that a record crop can easily be turned over night into a partial failure, the Hungarian agricultural authorities have decided upon unusual and radical measures to harvest the 1916 crops in the speediest possible manner.

The municipal local authorities throughout the country have been empowered to requisition for harvesting purposes the services of every man, woman and child at home, not serving in some indispensable way, at fixed wages. Prisoners of war working in non-military concerns also have been requisitioned for the harvesting, several thousand workmen have been imported from Russian Poland and all the troops in the interior who can be spared will be furloughed for the same purpose.

The ministry of agriculture has acquired all available harvesting machinery for distribution among the peasantry, and agricultural experts estimate that six weeks of sunshine, after the long rains, will result in the production of a record breaking crop in Hungary.

ROOSEVELT WILL DINE WITH HUGHES

Colonel Accepts Invitation to Break Bread With G. O. P. Nominee.

New York, June 27.—Theodore Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to dine with Charles E. Hughes at the republican presidential nominee's hotel here at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night, it was learned here today.

Only the candidate and the colonel, it was stated, will be present at this dinner, which will be held in Mr. Hughes apartment.

The appointment with Mr. Roosevelt brought about a change in Mr. Hughes immediate plans. Instead of returning to his temporary summer home at Bridge Hampton, N. Y., this afternoon the candidate will remain in New York until Thursday.

While Mr. Hughes was receiving callers today the national sub-committee which will direct the organization of the new national committee and its executive committee was meeting. The sub-committee had before it the selection of a national chairman which Mr. Hughes is known to have made. It is understood that William R. Willcox, former public commissioner was Hughes first choice. W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, chairman of the sub-committee, expected to consult Mr. Hughes later in the day.

On behalf of the republican club of California, Mr. Henning invited Mr. Hughes to visit San Diego during the campaign. The candidate said he was anxious to visit the Pacific coast and the two discussed a suggestion that the presidential speech-making tour be put under way in cities in California, Oregon and Washington early in September, Mr. Hughes later making addresses in the middle west and the east. Mr. Hughes took this plan under advisement.

ulars, who unquestionably would lead any movement.

President Wilson's first step, should he decide to force the issue, probably would be to lay the whole situation before congress in joint session. It is believed he so informed committees of both houses in his conference with them Sunday night.

Specific authority, under which the national guard could be employed beyond the border and also authorization for calling out volunteers would be needed.

It is regarded as certain also that any resolution presented for action would include a reaffirmation of the position of the administration that is being forced into military action for the defense of its own territory from outlaws, and has no purpose of territorial aggrandizement.

Expect a Surrender.

Mexican officials here have expressed the opinion that General Carranza would surrender the American prisoners whatever reply he might make to the demand for a formal diplomatic expression of his purposes. The state department has had no official report tending to confirm this view.

Every day's delay in what seems the inevitable break in relations with the Mexican government sees the army in better position for the first swift action that may follow. This has influenced against pressing matters to an immediate issue. Had the border forces been sufficient to release the regulars for aggressive operations it is thought probable a time limit would have been included in Secretary Lansing's note demanding release of the prisoners.

Trains Sweeping Southward.

Advices from General Funston's headquarters indicate that trains loaded with state troops are sweeping southward today from many parts of the country. Additional regiments are entraining or receiving the last necessary equipment. At the war department and in congress hurried measures are being taken to provide supplies promptly for the army ordered to the border.

A definite statement of the number of guardsmen en route to the border was not available. Secretary Baker's order directing that movements of these troops be arranged between General Funston and the officers commanding the various army departments cut out the red tape and delay incident to centralization of all this work in Washington.

Another task aided by delay in an outbreak of general hostilities is that of getting American residents out of Mexico. The number there has been reduced to less than a thousand.

ON WATCH FOR HOSTILE SIGN

paid to marshalling the thousands of men along the border.

The units of the national guard now moving throughout the United States are expected to begin arriving in Texas tonight. Where they will be stationed will not be made public here and in most cases those commanding the guardsmen have not been informed of their final destinations.

See Some Impatience.

Some impatience was displayed at Gen. Funston's headquarters today that so much publicity already had been given to the movements of troops and it was indicated as practically certain that a censorship that would be far reaching in its operation soon would be instituted.

The activity of Mexican troops at Naco last night was explained today. Information had reached headquarters here that the Mexicans had planned to sweep across the line to Bisbee and there raid the office and storehouse of the copper smelting concerns. The Twenty-second infantry was rushed from Douglas to Bisbee last night.

FILIBUSTER IS HALTED.

Soldiers Bar Plan to Retaliate Upon Mexicans.

Nogales, Ariz., June 27.—A heavily armed filibustering expedition organized to cross the line at Sasabe and bring back an automobile seized by the Mexican authorities, was broken up here last night by the military authorities. Eighteen men, all carrying revolvers or automatic pistols, and most of them rifles or shotguns, were quietly leaving town in six automobiles when a squad of infantry barred the road.

he brought to her on February 9, the day of her death.

"I bought the bottle, of six-ounce size, of Otto Peterson and filled it two-thirds full in my room," he said. He testified yesterday that Marion when he met her in Helm's wood refused to accept it, saying "that will not do me any good."

Orpet was in better voice than yesterday. He talked with more assurance and more connectedly.

"Why did you tell State's Attorney Dady that you were at Madison on February 9th?" asked Mr. Potter.

"Well, the way things were I thought it would look bad," replied the witness.

Every Ear Strained.

Every ear was strained as Attorney Potter asked:

"What were your relations with C. Youker?"

"There was a tacit understanding between us. I had known her six years."

"Did she return your affections?"

"Yes."

"You were engaged?"

"No, there was an understanding. No date was set for marriage, I had not ever formally asked her to marry me."

"Did you tell Mr. Dady or any one else that you saw Marion take poison?"

"No."

The Cross-Examination.

Interrogation for the state was by Attorney David R. Joslyn, who is assiting State' Attorney Dady. He asked about an automobile ride which Marion and Orpet took last September.

It was on this trip that the relations between the young pair passed the bounds of morality, the witness admitted.

"You stopped and went into the woods?" asked Mr. Joslyn.

"Yes."

"What did you say to Marion?"

"I can't remember."

"Well, make a guess."

"I can't guess, as that would be independent of any real memory."

"You were desperately in love with her weren't you?"

"Not then, that came later."

"You can't remember independently of the letters, how your love developed?"

"No, sir."

Mr. Joslyn called attention to a letter which the defendant wrote to Marion last September in which Orpet spoke of "this kind of weather makes me think of fussing." "What do you mean by 'fussing?'"

"It means paying attention to a girl," explained Orpet.

Women Hang Their Heads.

For a half hour questions and answers were of a nature that women hung their heads and the men were plainly uncomfortable, but Mr. Joslyn's insistent voice went on relentlessly. The young witness faced by his father and mother, turned his head as he replied. There was a sigh of relief as "exhibit one"—a letter from Orpet to Marion, was called to the witness' attention.

Mr. Joslyn asked about Orpet's return from the university in June a year ago and having called on Marion.

"Her parents were there always but some times I stayed after they had gone to bed," said Orpet.

"Nothing occurred at that time which the parents might not have seen?" asked Attorney Joslyn.

"No, sir."

Orpet said he had only one year of chemistry in his studies at the University of Wisconsin.

"And you knew pretty much about potassium cyanide?"

"If I ever studied about cyanide I have forgotten it," answered the witness.

"Weren't you considered quite an expert?"

"No, sir."

"Not by Celestia Youker?"

"No, sir."

Miss Youker it appeared was an excellent student of chemistry, but when Orpet was called upon to discuss the subject with her, had to refer to his text book on the subject, he said.

NATIONAL GUARD IS MOVING SOUTHWARD

and Vermont was ready with 1,200 men. New Jersey had one infantry regiment ready to start and expected to send other units later. The Massachusetts and New Jersey troops are bound for El Paso. The Vermont guardsmen are ordered to Eagle Pass, Texas. Those of Connecticut to Nogales, Ariz.

THREE REGIMENTS STARTED.

Framingham, Mass., June 27.—Actual movement of the brigade of Massachusetts militia toward El Paso, Tex., begun late last night, was continued through the early hours today and by 6 a. m. three regiments of infantry had started on their long journey. Michigan Guardsmen Delayed in the Start Southward.

Camp Ferris, Grayling, Mich., June 27—The first contingent of Michigan national guardsmen to leave for the border will not be able to depart from Grayling until Thursday at the earliest, it was announced today. Surgeons were still busy making physical examinations and army officers had a mass of routine work to complete before the Thirty-first regiment—which is to be the first to depart—could be mustered in.

The Michigan Central railway has thirty-five sleepers here for the first companies that entrain.

Belgian front, where the British artillery has been ontably active for two or three days. The latest reports from both Berlin and the front, however, lend color to the somewhat prevalent belief that the long threatened concerted attack by the entente allies on the various fronts is in preparation, if not in actual process of execution.

At Verdun the situation has not materially changed over night. Paris reports further progress for the French in regaining ground in the region of the Thiaumont work north of Citadel. Rather spirited fighting also has been in progress in the region of Fleury, with no alterations in position.

Operations by Teutonic submarines are being continued in the Mediterranean, where the British steamer Cardiff and French steamer Foulnet have been sunk.

Constantinople reports successes in Turkish Armenia, where the Russians in some sectors north of the river Tchoruk are said to be retreating toward the Black sea coast after a defeat at the hands of the Turks.

FRENCH RETAKE TRENCHES.

Struggle for Possession of Fleury Village Still in Progress.

Paris, June 27.—(11:23 a. m.)—The French have recaptured another section of the trenches at Thiaumont, in the Verdun sector, according to an official statement issued by the war office today. The struggle for the possession of the village of Fleury is still progressing.

Three allied aeroplanes dropped 65 shells on German ships near the Belgian coast.

ITALIANS MAKE GAINS.

Rome, June 27.—(Via London, 6:43 p. m.)—Following up their recent successes on the Trentino front, the Italians have driven back the Austrians still further, the war office announced today. The Italians have captured Posina and Arsiero.

Guy Colerick, city attorney, and C. B. Tolan, city sealer, have gone to Roma City, where they will spend a week's vacation.

Miss Bertha Brainard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Brainard, and Earl Ackerman, son of J. E. Ackerman, all of this city, were married June 15, at Wilkinsburg, Pa. Miss Brainard went east several weeks ago to visit friends and at Pittsburg, Pa., met Mr. Ackerman, who was working on a job for the McCray factory, and they decided to marry and surprise their friends. After the ceremony they took a honeymoon trip to New York city, Boston and other eastern points. The bride has been bookkeeper at the J. Keller & Co. store for the past eight years. They have gone to housekeeping in their new home on North State street.

Miss Ruth Baughman is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Matthews at their home in Chicago.

Aurora, Ill., June 23.—Miss Bessie Amell, 20, a nurse, was never stingy about smiles. Today she need not be stingy about anything. Her smiles have won a fortune for her.

Miss Amell was in professional training in Ravenswood hospital in Chicago. Mrs. W. S. Blake, of Los Angeles, was one of her patients. Mrs. Blake was old and alone in the world. The only sunshine that brightened her life was the smile of nurse Amell.

On recovery Mrs. Blake returned to Los Angeles. Her death just occurred in Portland, Ore., and Miss Amell has been notified she is sole beneficiary to a fortune of $500,000. Mrs. Blake had no other heirs.

"I don't know what I will do with the money," says Miss Amell. "I can hardly realize that Mrs. Blake has left me so much. I did so little for her."

HOW TO BE SLIM

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughed at on account of your fat, but go to any good druggist and get a box of Oil of Korein capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body.

DECLARES CHURCHES SHOULD ADVERTISE

Should Also Have Service Worth Advertising, Says Rev. Mr. Barton.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 27.—Churches should advertise and should have a service worth advertising, Rev. William E. Barton, editor of a church paper and pastor of the First Congregational church of Oak Park, Ill., said in an address before the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, here today. He said:

"I believe in advertising church services, but I wish it understood in advance that I believe first of all in having something to advertise, and that the thing advertised should not be meretricious, or cheap, or theatrical, but fundamentally and invariably the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

"But there is no reason why the gospel should be either preached or advertised in a dull or uninteresting fashion. Jesus was an interesting preacher. He knew how to get the attention of the crowd and how to keep it. He did not always preach alike. He changed His style of preaching at least four times and always for a reason. He did not depend upon His miracles to bring in the crowds; indeed, He deprecated the gathering of multitudes after that fashion. But He got the people and they heard Him gladly.

"Every church should consider thoughtfully what are its best and cheapest and most productive forms of advertising. I am satisfied that a good many churches do not utilize to the full the available resources of this character. I place well to the front among advertising agencies the local press. A minister ought to go to the editor of the local paper, or papers, large or small, and say frankly, 'I want to help you in every way I can and I want you to help me. I want to give you all the news features you care for in connection with our church work and to report them in a style which you will find interesting to your readers, and I want to know what features of our work you are willing to announce and to report.'

"I am prepared to be told that ministers ought not to seek newspaper notoriety, and I agree heartily with that statement; but ministers ought to seek to let their lights shine before men that they may see their good works and glorify their Father who is in heaven. So the first rule which I have learned to follow with regard to advertising the church itself is to make the largest possible use of the local press. I will fill just as many inches a week as the local papers will give me in announcing the services of my own church; and in reporting events of interest that have occurred there, and I will try to do it so well and have my copy in so early as to insure a good position and a favorable reading.

GOVERNOR SELECTS HERRON TO COMMAND

Would Make Him Brigadier General With Approval of War Department.

Indianapolis, June 27.—Capt. Charles D. Herron, U. S. A., adjutant of the Tenth regular infantry now stationed in the Panama canal zone, has been selected by Goveror Ralston to command the Indiana national guard with the rank of brigadier general, subject to the approval of the war department. The war department is expected to take favorable action at once on the recommendation made yesterday by the governor. If the approval is given Capt. Herron immediately on his arrival will assume command of the Indiana brigade, whether it is at Camp Ralston at Fort Benjamin Harrison or on patrol duty on the Mexican border.

As brigadier general, Capt. Herron, if his selection is approved, will be in supreme command of the national guard, wherever it may be. He will be at the head of the three regiments to be given over to the federal government by the state of Indiana, and the three colonels in command of the separate detachments of the brigade will be subject to his orders at all times. It will be the first time in the military history of the state that the militia has been under one head with the rank of brigadier general.

Capt. Herron is a son of William P. Herron, of Crawfordsville, where he was born and reared. He is a graduate of Wabash college. He formerly was instructor for the Indiana national guard, and later was transferred to the Twenty-third regiment, then stationed at Fort Harrison.

1 Thessalonians 2:1-12.

1. For yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:
2. But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Phillippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.
3. For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleaness, nor in guile:
4. But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.
5. For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; God is witness:
6. Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.
7. But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:
8. So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.
9. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.
10. Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:
11. As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,
12. That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

The End of the Progressive Party.

The action of the progressive national committee at Chicago Monday, when it voted 32 to 6 to follow the advice of Colonel Roosevelt and give endorsement to the candidacy of Mr. Hughes, the republican presidential nominee, marked the finish of the progressive party as a national entity. It is dead beyond resurrection, and those who have tears to shed may as well proceed to shed them. It does not by any means follow that the rank and file of progressive party voters have been delivered, body, soul and breeches, to the republican party. That was made very plain by the course of committeemen from six of the states which voted disapproval of the Roosevelt program, and by those from nine other states who refused to vote at all. Still more emphasis was given it by the declaration of Raymond Robins, chairman of the recent progressive convention, and by others in the company of bull moose leaders that they will probably support President Wilson.

We may fully expect to find the widest divergence of views regarding the amazing letter of Colonel Roosevelt in which he administers the death blow to the political organization which he nurtured into being four years ago. Mr. Hughes and his friends are going to see it in a manifestation of the loftiest patriotism and the most conspicuous example of self-sacrifice in the history of American politics. The remainder of the country will scarcely subscribe to any such appraisement. The outstanding phase of the colonel's pronouncement is his malignant attitude toward President Wilson. He goes to the length of making all else subservient to his purpose to accomplish Mr. Wilson's defeat. His labored defense of his own course and has studied effort to rally behind him in the new tack he has taken the thousands of sincere voters who followed his leadership four years ago amounts to ruthless audacity. He was the self-proclaimed leader of a cause that, at least by his own estimate, was of supreme importance to this country's well being, and he fought for it vigorously. Without important change in the alignment of his opponents since that time, Colonel Roosevelt now casts that cause into the ditch, and puts the duty of the hour on an anything-to-beat-Wilson basis. We do not believe the real, purposeful progressives will accept the new-made faith he has proclaimed for them. If they had a cause at all, that cause is still a live one, despite the fact that Colonel Roosevelt has put to death the organized expression of its ideal.

A very real duty devolves upon those who remain at home no less than upon those who respond to the call for service upon the Mexican border. That duty is to make certain that the dependent families of the soldiers do not suffer for necessities during the absence of the bread-winners. Several Indiana cities have already taken up this matter in splendid fashion. Unless there shall be speedy termination of the trouble on the border their example should be followed by every Indiana locality that has contributed men to the service.

Under the ruling of the high court the Corn Products company and its affiliated corporations will be compelled to dissolve, and details for the unscrambling are now being arranged. Even the Corn Products company will be disposed to forgive and to forget, however, if the net result is increased profits as was the case in Mr. Rockefeller's benevolent oil enterprises.

If it's all the same to Mr. Bandit Villa, we prefer to apply in advance the discount to the new rumor that our one-time friend has been shot and severely wounded by one of his own men. Senor Villa has been dead and wounded so often that confidence in this sort of thing is beginning to wabble perceptibly.

Somehow we fancy those Tenth ward citizens mean business in their efforts to secure a new fire department station in that locality and an improvement of the water system thereabouts. They very clearly know what they want and are going to it to get it because they're going after it.

With the democrats, the republicans and the prohibitionists extending the glad hand of effusive welcome to the uncertain progressive, that interesting but puzzled political orphan can at least be assured that if worst comes to worst, he has some place to go.

The new city directory will say that Fort Wayne now has a population of 87,360, a handsome gain during the past year. The city directory, too, has always been conservative in its estimates. You can safely assume that it is so in the present instance.

Now they are accusing the special prosecutor who has been pushing the prosecuting of the graft cases at Muncie. Well, since it's wash day down at Muncie, that town might as well send all her linen to the laundry while she's about it.

And when the history of the present Mexican trouble is finally written, it must doff its hat to the splendid valor and courage of those colored troopers who fought at Carrizal.

Who Killed It? History Will Say, and in Saying Will Cover Some Great Names With Shame, Declares Herbert Quick.

(The second of four articles in which Herbert Quick, who knows politics from A to Z, tells the real inside story of the death of the progressive party, born four years ago and just laid to rest.—Editor.)

By Herbert Quick.

"Beautiful Evelyn Hope is dead"—and so is the progressive party, the beautiful Evelyn Hope of American history.

It was scarcely out of its swaddling clothes, and it lies here on its little white cot, with some devoted souls standing by, still insisting that it lives—but the sounds which issue from its lips are not breathing. They are the death rattle in its throat.

Who killed it? History will say, and in saying will cover some great names with eternal shame.

As my influencing contribution to the verdict of history, let me tell of what took place at the Maple Bluff farm, the home of Senator Bob LaFollette, at Madison, Wis., some five or six years ago.

Then there was no progressive party, but a powerful progressive movement in the republican party, which commanded the sympathy and aid of many progressive democrats. The movement was strongest in the middle west, and on the Pacific coast, but it was not without its witnesses for the truth in every state in the union.

LaFollette had spent a decade putting Wisconsin at the head of the movement by his sturdy radicalism, and his sane, sound, democratic program of legislation. He had already accomplished so much that his Wisconsin achievements alone will give him place among the greatest of American statesmen.

Dolliver, who had so long trod with Aldrich and his group the downward road of political iniquity, had felt his great soul in revolt, and in a three days' onslaught in the senate had driven the big burglars before him cowed and trembling. Insurgency everywhere was setting the Aldriches, Cannons, Ballingers, Tafts, Hitchcocks, Penroses, Cranes, Butlers, Lippitts, Smoots and their ilk into tremors of fear and rage.

It was a great, an inspiring time. It looked as if the republican party would soon be captured by the insurgents and returned to the democracy of Lincoln.

When did Roosevelt return from Africa? I can date the occurrence by that. By reference to the books I find he reached the United States in June, 1910. That being the case, some of the things mentioned above had not yet taken place; but let it go. They were all foreshadowed by what had occurred; they were all already conceived in the womb of Time.

At LaFollette's home, which had become a sort of shrine to which the insurgents went for inspiration, there was about the usual Sunday group on that sunny May Sunday in 1910.

Talk ran on Roosevelt, then surrounded with newspaper men on his homeward trip from Africa, all eager to know what he was going to do politically. Our company wondered about this, too. Would he take sides with righteousness? Would he support the horrible, clumsy, senseless, sordid, plutocratic Taft administration for which he was so solely responsible? Surely not! Oh, if he were only here now! He would be a tower of strength for that decency and righteousness of which he was always talking. He was so needed that even as the hart panteth for the waterbrooks, so panted the hearts of most of those present for the return of Roosevelt.

LaFollette listened to these generous rhapsodies, saying nothing, until the question as to his views on the return of the colonel was plumped directly at him.

"I think," said he, "that every true friend of the progressive movement ought to wish that Col. Roosevelt might stay just where he is—in Africa!"

There were gasps of astonishment.

"When Roosevelt returns," Fighting Bob went on, "the FIRST GREAT PERIL OF OUR MOVEMENT will be upon it. He will either fight us, or he will thrust himself in as the creator and leader of the movement which for seven years as president he tried to hamstring by the power of his great office.

"We are a happy family of fighters. He will introduce disunion among us. He will smear over and obscure the issues. HE WILL MAKE PRINCIPLES HAZY AND EXALT PERSONALITIES! He is not a progressive, except with his tongue, and never was.

"He talks for progressivism, but he has put on guard against us who were making the fight in the states, his judges, his district attorneys, his postmasters and United States officials generally over whose postrate forms we have had to march to every victory we have won in the past nine years.

"He has tried to strangle AT ITS BIRTH every progressive movement which he could not control. Why does he want to control them? Has he any sinister motive? I will not say, but in all history there is no instance of a similar policy except for sinister motives.

"However that may be, the best thing we can hope for is that when he returns he will fight us openly; for if he associates himself with us openly or covertly he will either rule us or ruin us—and if he rules us he will surely ruin us."

I cannot tell this story, even sketchily today. I will go on with it tomorrow?

(Toledo Blade.)

For much of the feeling against automobilists, more pronounced a few years ago than now, the manufacturers of automobile horns may be held responsible.

They have made horns which said "Get out of the road!" though drivers merely wanted to say "Look Out!" Their contrivances demanded the right of way. What the motorists desired to say was "Please let me by," or "Move over a little bit," or "If it isn't too much trouble for you, I'd like to pass you." The tones are imperious. Most of them are lacking in common politeness. What the inventors should have striven for is not something to make a pedestrian jump, but something that will make him glad to be warned. The exercise of a little ingenuity might have caused dogs to wag their tails when they were saluted. Instead, most dogs when they hear an automobile horn either run howling away or else turn as if they would devour the whole blessed machine if they could.

The field is still open. Designers of horns can make the world a good deal happier as more certainly they can make it more courteous, if they muzzle the harshness of their instruments. Few motorists enjoy seeming boors. As it is, that cannot be helped. They are compelled to take such horns as are in the market, and good mannered horns are not now to be had. What man will seize the opportunity and brighten the streets and highways with amiable, well-behaved, honey-tongued sounds?

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL?

THE GRASSHOPPER

Here is the grasshopper, as light in the knob as the interior of a toy balloon.

My! doesn't it act strange! Is there any hope for the poor thing?

Shhh! not so loud! It's doing one of those classic barefoot dances. Only the

Haw! Haw! aren't you glad you're a low-brow or one of the masses and get enjoyment watching a Chas. Chaplin film? (So are we!)

This dancing on a lawn in bare feet is supposed to be classic, and artistic, but imagine one of the dames that do it scrubbing a floor in her bare feet when somebody walked into the room.

GIRL SOLDIERS ARM TO OPPOSE AMERICAN ADVANCE IN MEXICO.

TYPE OF WOMAN SOLDIER IN MEXICO.

Women and girls are always with the Mexican armies, not only as camp followers, but as "soldaderas"—female soldiers. They can shoot with the best of them, and many are expert riders.

There was a soldadera in Villa's band, who fled one morning when United States troopers surprised a band of the chieftain's men. They declined to shoot when they recognized the fleeing figure on a horse as a woman.

Revolutions of the past five years trained practically all the younger women in northern Mexico in the use of arms. Their presence in the battle line will complicate the duties of United States troops sent to clean up the country.

AMERICAN AIRMEN BREAKING RECORDS

Daring Aviators in French Army Training School Prove Fearless.

Paris, June 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Robert Rockwell, of Philadelphia, and Paul Pavelka, of Madison, Conn., have broken two records in their preparatory training at the military flying school at Buc, according to information given out at the headquarters of the Franco-American flying corps.

Rockwell completed his trial flights required before incorporation in the corps in 25 hours and was publicly congratulated by the officer commanding the school. Pavelka, who, previous to enlisting in the flying corps, served fourteen months in the trenches with the foreign legion, established a record in pistol shooting while in the air. He placed twelve bullets out of twelve shots in the head of a moving silhouette, representing the body of a man, at a distance of 100 yards. His work with the machine gun is said to be fully equal to his precision with a revolver. Pavelka now has his license for the most recent addition to French aviation, the new fast Nieuport biplanes, as well as all the other machines in the service.

Willis Havilland, of Chicago, and Frederick Prince, of Boston, have also finished their preliminary training at Buc, and have gone to Pau to familiarize themselves with the newest machines before going to the front. Pavelka is completing his preparation at the Aerial Artillery school at Cazeau. Robert Soubrian, of New York, whose preparation was delayed by illness, will soon undertake his official trials and then join the corps.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MINISTER SERVES ON JURY.

Waives Right to Exemption in Suit Over Payment of Insurance.

Indianapolis, June 27.—Although a minister is exempt from jury service, the Rev. Daniel M. Horner, a Lutheran clergyman living near Broad Ripple, did not care to exercise his right, and today sat on a jury in a trial in the superior court, room 5, in a suit between a stepmother and a stepdaughter. Mrs. Sarah E. Howard, widow of George R. Howard, formerly a guard at the Monument, and Mrs. Mary Alice Beckman, Howard's daughter by a former marriage, both seek an interest in $1,000 insurance money paid into court. The widow contends that she and Howard made a contract by which she was to get the insurance money in return for a loan.

When you buy an article for $50.00 and agree to pay for it within six months' time, the terms of payment are just as much a part of the contract as is the price. You have no more right to break your part of the contract than the merchant has to break his, and the merchant who should attempt to charge you $55.00 for what he sold you for $50.00 would only be doing just what you are doing when you buy on six months and let your account run a year. Think it over. Foster's.

CLEANUP WORK IS SUCCESS

Muncie Finds Number of Flies Greatly Reduced by Spring Campaign.

Muncie, Ind., June 27.—Muncie is more nearly a flyless city now than ever before at this season of the year, and conditions are ascribed largely to the cleanup campaign in the spring. Conditions that were nearly as good existed last year until August and even then the flies were comparatively few in number. It has been the ambition of the health and school authorities in the last few years to exterminated the fly. Thousands of fly "swatters" were distributed among the schools and cash prizes were awarded to the children bringing in the most dead flies.

TRENCHES PARALLEL ON 400 MILE LINE

But Run Into Each Other in Little Italian Hamlet.

Headquarters of the Italian Army, June 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Zagora, which is a little mountain hamlet that was buried in oblivion before the war, is famous today as the only point on the Austro-Italian front, and perhaps on any army front, where enemy trench lines actually run into each other. For 400 miles on this front the Austrian and Italian trenches run parallel, being often as close as thirty to fifty yards, but at Zagora they slide into each other and then slide away again, uphill and down dale, following the general trend of the Isonzo river which empties into the Adriatic sea far above Venice.

The situation at Zagora illustrated the difficult and curious character of the warfare on this front, where there are probably not anywhere opposing lines of trenches crossing so much as a single acre of flat land, for there is no flat land except on a rare mountain top.

"You must see Zagora, they're always fighting there, playing little tricks on each other," said a division staff officer to a correspondent of the Associated Press. He then took down a photographic map and showed two lines of trenches running for miles along the mountain sides. "The upper is the Austrians, and the lower is ours," he explained. "Note that at Zagora the two lines run together."

It was decided that the best time to see Zagora was in the early morning when the actual firing was desultory. Many miles of walking before daybreak over a pontoon bridge spanning the Isonzo river, and up a mountain side protected from artillery shells by tunnels, brought the party to the headquarters of the officer in command of the hill forces. The commander conducted his visitors still further up the mountain towards Zagora, already visible as a heap of ruins of what once had been the peaceful homes of peasants. The visitors went up at an angle of sixty degrees, in the shelter of old trenches that once had been front trenches. At every turn were visible little plots of wooden crosses where Italian or Austrian soldiers had fallen during the terrific fighting carried on by the Italians to gain their way up the face of the mountain.

"It has been like a sword duel between us all the time," said the commander, "with little artillery fire because either side using guns would in view of the closeness of the opposing trenches kill both friends and enemy."

"It's wonderful the way the soldiers have kept up their spirits here," he went on. "For a whole month last fall, when the mountain was a mass of wet rock and mud, when it was possible to get food up only by night, when the men could not be relieved, when to strike a light meant death from a sniper, when our trenches were but hastily constructed piles of stone felt by the Austrians as we pushed them foot by foot towards the mountain top, the men held on with amazing cheerfulness. Not even the wounded complained. The death struggle developed the best qualities of our men. Even the socialists among them whose principles do not include fighting, became some of my best soldiers."

As the visitors came full upon the shattered blackened stone walls of the hamlet of Zagora, the commander advised: "Stoop low, now, and run quietly. When you reach our front line, don't talk, don't even whisper. The Austrians will hear you and begin an attack, thinking we ourselves are about to start one."

The party halted near the walls of what once had been a huge country kitchen, built under the lower side of a house, facing toward the mountain top. Within stood men against the wall with rifles in their hands peeping out little apertures. On the other side of this wall, not two feet away, stood silent enemy watchers, always ready to fire The place might have been a tomb, so silent were its occupants. The only sound came from the floor where men were sleeping with their faces covered with blankets to deaden their snores.

This place of Zagora, with its silence fraught with expectant danger, was more impressive than any open field filled with the shriek of bursting shells. The party crept from this silent corner through dark tunnelled ways and zigzagged about other ruined foundation walls, where other soldiers stood, and on, down a line, until the Austrian trenches could be seen through a maze of barbed wire defenses.

An officer pointed to the barbed wire and said: "We are on such intimate relations with the Austrians that we and they use the same barbed wire protection. There isn't room to plant any more and their wires prevent them from getting at us, as well as keeping us from getting at them." Then, with a dulled expression, he pointed to the bodies of soldiers lying in the open space, caught in the wires, fruit of attacks and counter-attacks. "The Austrians won't let us pick up the dead, so there they lay," he explained. "They play the mitrailleuse there until they die. Sometimes it takes a long time. This morning a man died who had been there for three days with a fractured leg. At least he doesn't move any more, so he must be dead."

How to Get Rid of a Cold.

Summer colds are serious. Read how C. E. Summers, Holdredge, Neb., got rid of his: "I contracted a severe cough and cold and could hardly sleep. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and the very first dose relieved me. I took a second dose before going to bed and can truthfully say I did not cough all night. By using as directed the next two days my cough was entirely cured and I give Foley's Honey and Tar full credit for my speedy recovery." Foley's always soothes and heals. Children love it. The charms of the Country club were enjoyed by one hundred and fifty ladies this afternoon, who were guests at an auction bridge party given by Mrs. Arthur E. Smith and Mrs. B. Paul Mossman. The porches and living room were decorated with many jardinieres of Canterbury bells and daisies, the colors of pink and white being the favorite and the contrast between the flowers and the gay colors of the costumes and hats against the green of foliage and lawns around the club house was very beautiful. A luncheon after the game was enjoyed equally with the visiting of those who sewed instead of playing and the contestors in the games. Assisting ladies were Mrs. George Jacobs, Mrs. B. J. Griswold, Mrs. John Vesey and the Misses Chapin. Visiting guests from away included Mrs. Emory J. Wilson, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Hesser, of Davenport, Iowa, and Mrs. Ralph Pidgeon, or Los Angeles.

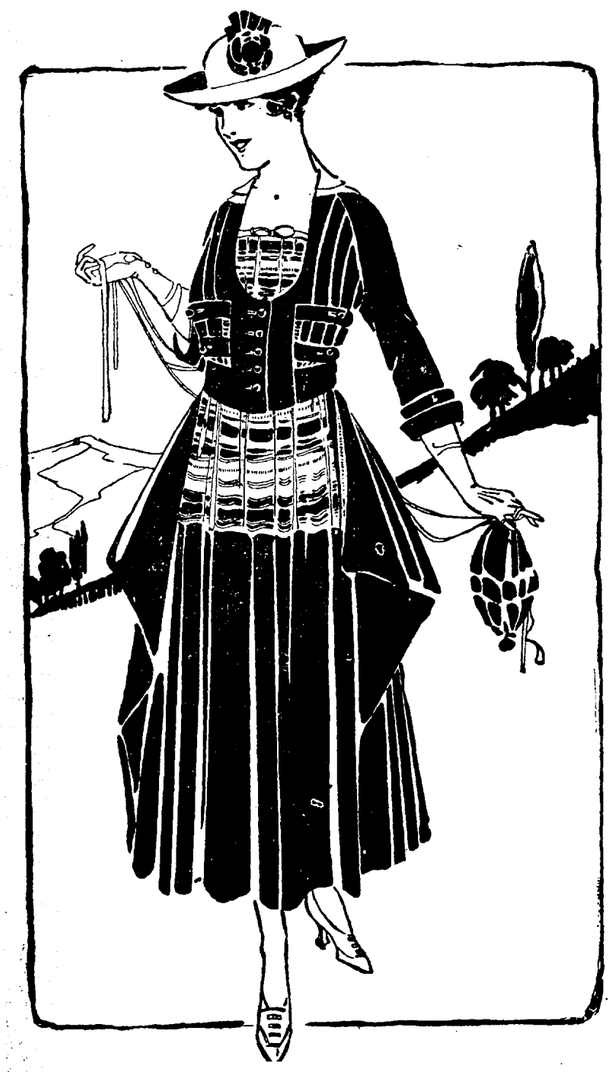
FROCK FOR COOL DAYS IN SUMMER.



BY BETTY BROWN.

Even on a rare day in June the serge dress has its usefulness. Especially suitable for the cool days that so often overtake us in midsummer is this model designed by Mme Allie Bailey of the Fashion Art League of America.

It's navy blue brightened with an elaborate trimming of the new shiney black braid which is so popular this summer.

The braid forms a yoke for the skirt and a little vest of it is set in the bodice. The side pockets are really draperies—and take note of the buttons—should you ask any modiste "where's the button?" she'll tell you dozens of it are on the newest summer frocks.

MERMAID SUIT GAY AS PORCH AWNING.

By Betty Brown.

The Bathing Girl is ready for the high dive into the whirl of fun and frolic. Her bathing suit is not as the bathing suits of half dozen years ago—"a simple thing, good enough to swim in." One dresses for the beach as gayly and smartly this summer as for tea-dance or matinee.

Here is a pussy willow taffeta suit with blue and white stripes, and many of the beach suits are as gayly striped as porch awning. The waist is made surplice fashion with a very wide girdle finished in front with a navy blue lapel. The belt is also blue.

The silk "troudies" are fastened to the elastic belt of the skirt. Three elastic bands shirred in at the knees keep silk hosiery in place no matter how gayly a mermaid may disport in the water.

The beach hat is becoming—but whatever will her curls do? She'll probably wear a rubberized handkerchief under her hat. It's navy blue silk with shirred crown.

Miss Mollie Grensfelder has returned from a week's visit in Logansport, where she attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Bertha Greensfelder, to Fred Goodman, on June 22. Rabbi Meyer Messing, of Indianapolis, officiated at the wedding. The bride is well acquainted in this city.

The following people motored to Hamilton lake for dinner Sunday: Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Kruse, Dr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Thimlar, and Misses Ignota White, Marie Travis, Lucile Vail and Merrydel Waterfield and Messrs. James Peddicord, Al Fruite, Dr. E. C. Singer and Dr. H. M. Sensény.

A week-end house party at Tippecanoe lake was composed of Mrs. Sarah Vesey, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Vesey, Misses Margaret and Catherine Vesey, Clara Poole, Constance Underhill, Dorothy Wilding, Helen Niblick, of Decatur and Joseph Underhill. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Offutt joined the party on Sunday.

The Bay View study club has closed its year's program of work and elected to serve as officers, Mrs. J. P. Martin, president, Mrs. W. C. Geake, vice president; Mrs. C. W. Honeck, secretary; Mrs. A. E. Kickley, treasurer; chairman of program committee, Mrs. Willard Smith. The club held a picnic with their families at Swinney park last Thursday.

Mrs. Jerry Strayer and children, Betty and Billy, are to leave Thursday, for their home in Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Strayer has been with her mother, Mrs. Mason Long, for three months and the little boy was born here during the time. Mrs. Strayer will be accompanied west by Miss Ella Jones, to California, and by her sister, Mrs. Chester Schiefer, as far as Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lose spent the week-end in Indianapolis, visiting their son, Ralph, who is in camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Mr. and Mrs. Lose were much impressed with the view they had of the camp where thirty-five thousand men looked like a hundred thousand to them, and found the Fort Wayne boys in good health and spirits, who enjoyed a picnic supper as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lose.

Two small companies were given on Monday afternoon and evening in honor of Miss Pearl Nelson, of James street, who announced that she is to wed H. K. Chambers on August 2. Miss Helen Norton and Mrs. L. C. Nelson entertained the A. R. girls in the evening and Miss Nelson gave the afternoon party at her home. Miss Nelson has been a teacher in the James H. Smart school for several years.

Miss Kay Spencer entertained forty people on Monday evening at her studio as a result of the combined efforts of herself and pupils in presenting a benefit recital at Elks' hall for the Y. M. C. A. fund. As this money was turned over to the general fund through Mrs. M. S. Willson, one of the chairmen, and as the Vazenois brothers offered to donate at the time of the benefit several gallons of ice cream for the purpose of increasing the funds raised at the music recital which they supposed had a social side to it, the gathering of last night was a sort of a wind-up affair. Mrs. Willson was an honor guest at the party and the ice cream so generously donated was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present.

Schone—Linnemann.

The wedding of Miss Rose Linnemann and Mr. Carl J. Schone at the Church of Precious Blood at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning was a very pretty one. A brother to the bride, Rev. A. Linnemann, of St. Joseph's college, Rensselaer, officiated at the ceremony and mass. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Johanna Linnemann, and the groom by his brother, Mr. Raymond Schone. The bride wore a very becoming gown of white taffeta and her tulle veil fell to the bottom of the short skirt of the dress and was held to her hair with a tiny wreath of swansonia blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of bride roses tied with tulle ribbon. The bridesmaid wore a stylish pink taffeta gown with a beautiful bonnet of pink maline and silk embroidered in colors. The bridesmaid's bouquet was composed of pink roses. The wedding beakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Linnemann, of 1612 Andrew street, and relatives were present to extend congratulations to the bridal couple. The house was tastefully trimmed with festoons of smilax and many pink and white roses. The bride's table was done in pink and white and the big wedding cake was an ornamental feature of the table. Later in the day the bride and groom went to lake points on a trip that will last from a week to ten days and on their return they will make their home for the present with the bride's parents. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schone, of Washington boulevard east, and is a machinist who is employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works. Both bride and groom are liked and admired by their many friends.

Walker—Archer.

Miss Carrie Archer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Archer, and Mr. Victor Walker, a son of Mr. E. C. Walker, of Auburn, were married on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the bride's home by Rev. Mr. Schoemaker, of Trinity Lutheran church. Little Vera Archer, the bride's sister, was ring-bearer and the bride's only attendant. Mr. Perry Archer, a brother to the bride, was the groomsman. Miss Wensley played the wedding music and "Hearts and Flowers" during the ceremony. The bride wore a handsome gown of white net trimmed with bands of satin and she held a bouquet of roses and snapdragon. There were thirty-five guests at the wedding and after felicitations with the bride and groom and their parents the wedding repast was served. The bride's table was extremely lovely with a decoration of white tulle tied on candlesticks, pink and white roses and smilax. The bride and groom left on a trip and will be at home when they return in their own home in Greenlawn avenue. Mr. Walker is a draftsman at the Bowser plant. For traveling the bride wears a blue cloth suit with hat to match in coloring. The bride is a bright and capable young woman with much knowledge of household affairs and a sweet disposition.

Piano Pupils' Recital.

A number of the pupils in piano of Miss Nellie Herrick gave a recital in Packard hall last evening to relatives and friends who were interested in their work. Miss Herrick has an individual way of teaching beginners that is not tiresome and the children don't have to worry about reading notes in the early part of their work. Instead of reading the children sing their pieces and learn to play melodies on the piano. Ehrman Kickley, Virginia Seemeyer and Helen Lawrence gave several illustrations of doing this and were very sweet and cunning while doing so as well as displaying very musical ears. Helen Lawrence appeared to be unusually musical and as little Virginia Seemeyer has only been studying for three months it seemed remarkable that she could do as much as she did. Victor Wohlford was another little student who sang and played and also beat a drum to show his progress in musical development. Esther Stock and Melvin Honeck played a duet and each played alone afterwards. Miss Esther needs to do some serious practicing with her left hand as does Calvin Ludwig, for their right hand development is more advanced than the other. Miss Ada Harris played a spirited duet with her teacher and also a rondo from memory, while Princess Rayburn and Melvin Honeck displayed splendid talent and are certainly most promising students. Miss Helen Bryson played with Miss Herrick in a duet for the closing number, kept good time and played accurately.

AT KEITH PALACE.

THE LAUGH OF LAUGHS.

Guy Voyer in Skirts and Bustle at the New Palace.

The usually immaculate Guy Voyer in skirts that are a cross between a mother-hubbard and a sick sheath gown, with a bustle that looks like a bumping post at the end of a freight siding, furnishes the laugh of laughs in the hilarious farce comedy, "Whose Little Girl Are You?" at the New Palace. It is a musical adaptation of the sure fire hit, Charley's Aunt, with a score of clever specialty numbers thrown in and the comedy talk revamped to bring it right up to the minute. Guy Voyer's song, "The Villian Still Pursued Her," is a bit of nonsense that found a ready response with his first night audience, while the winsome and graceful little ingenue, Harrie Lee, does a half dozen singing and dancing numbers that will win her even more admirers. The Lasalle quartet exhausted its entire repertoire of new songs last night and sang a couple they used three weeks ago before the audience would call it quits.

Harrie Lee Matinee.

Wednesday afternoon will be Harrie Lee day at the New Palace for on that afternoon each woman attending the performance will be presented with a Japanese fan as a souvenier of this clever little girl. This is the last week of the Lasalle company's local engagement.

On Thursday evening the players will open their final offering, "My Cinderella Girl."

"'Vola-Vita' Grew This Hair,--You Try It!"

"Vola-Vita" is a Scientific Discovery on a New Principle. It Forces Hair to Grow by Giving Hair the Very Elements That MAKE It to Grow. Restores Original Color, Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair.

Both of these men were bald. One of them has done the seemingly impossible—he has actually grown hair on a scalp that was bald for years.

"By George! It's wonderful how Vola-Vita forces hair to grow even on the baldest heads. You ought to use it, Henry!"

There are thousands of men and women, bald or getting bald, who do not know that hair can actually now be made to grow.

The positive way to do it has been fully discovered. Vola-Vita, the new hair discovery, does it. It is absolutely new in principle.

Hair is made up of certain elements. If these elements are not in proper proportion, your hair always loses its growing power—its vitality. Then your hair falls out, grows thin, your scalp itches, dandruff often forms, baldness always follows, and the hair that is left turns gray.

Vola-Vita supplies the missing quantities of these necessary hair-growing elements. With these elements supplied, your hair and scalp are bound to resume their normal health. The results are positive. There is no guesswork—you can actually see and measure the results.

Vola-Vita gets down to these real, immediate causes of all hair and scalp troubles, and stops them definitely. The result is that your hair does absolutely stop falling, you actually see bald spots fill out with new hair, you can measure the increase in growth of your hair, dandruff positively stops, and you can't find a flake of it even on your coat collar; itching stops and your gray, faded or bleached hair assumes its natural, original color, whether your hair was originally red, brown, black or any other color.

Vola-Vita is, therefore, not a dye. It gives renewed vigor to the color glands of the hair as nothing else does, or has ever done before. Vola-Vita contains no alcohol, as is found in other hair treatments. Alcohol dries up the secretions of the hair and seriously affects its vigor.

There is absolutely nothing else known on the market today like Vola-Vita. It is a clean, oil-less liquid, easy to apply, practically odorless. You'll see the results in a very short time. Might as well begin using Vola-Vita now. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Vola-Vita, for men and women, is sold at drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, or sent direct by the Vola-Vita Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

TURKEY WILL MAKE FIRST TARIFF LAW

Unhindered by Foreign Interference from Any Quarter.

Constantinople, May 30.—Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Turkey is about to adopt its first tariff law unhindered by foreign interference. Up to the outbreak in connection with the public debt, so that it was not able to change its tariff without the consent of the great powers, which found it to their interest to keep the Turkish duties as low as possible. For many years they kept them at eight per cent. ad valorem and lower. Turkish statesmen often pointed out that the duties were too low to yield sufficient revenue, and the government long demanded their consent for an increase. Germany gave its consent about fifteen years ago, but England and France refused till several years ago, when they agreed to an increase to eleven per cent. Soon after Turkey joined the central powers and entered the war, the government denounced the so-called "capitulations," or arrangements which gave the foreign powers special rights in Turkey, including their control over the tariff system.

After waiting more than a year the government has now brought in a bill for revising the tariff. It is, for most articles, a very moderate measure, fully two-thirds of the duties ranging between only 10 and 15 per cent. Most other articles range between 20 and 50 per cent., and a few are as high as 100 per cent. These highest duties are intended for the protection of agriculture and some manufactured goods. There is a small free list, which includes school books not bound and other educational supplies. Agricultural machinery is also put on the free list in the interest of the farmers. Among dutiable articles there is no uniform tendency to increase duties; in fact, about one-sixth of the list shows even lower duties than are now paid.

MUCH INTEREST IN MASON-IZZO AFFAIR

Title Bout Will Be Pulled Off Tonight at the Majestic.

When the gong sounds for the starting of the Mason-Izzo championship tilt tonight the fans will see the fastest ten rounds of fighting they will have seen in the city for a number of years. Frankie Mason, Fort Wayne's will o' the wisp, is primed to the limit for the scrap and if conditions can help Frankie he will win.

Frankie Izzo, the newly created king of the flyweight division, has the crown sitting on his head with the confidence that it is going to stay there. Izzo is not to be underestimated for he is more than a fair scrapper; he is a fighter of class. Mason is also a scrapper that has something behind each fist. Both boys are eager to get in the ring and, there's going to be a lot of cannonading in the ring and the battle is to be with gloves acting as 42-centimeters.

Mason and Izzo met in Chicago a number of years ago and the Chicago man came out with the totals to his credit. Frankie has been nursing the sore spot ever since that time and he wouldn't stop hunting Izzo until he gave him a return fight. Now he's got it and he says he is going to make the best of the opportunity.

There will be two other ten-round battles which makes a fan look twice to see what we've got. In the semi-windup Jimmy Dalton, of Indianapolis, meets Battling Hess, of this city. Hess, a local boy, is said to be one of the toughest nuts any fighter ever undertook to crack, and Dalton, who is an experienced fighter, will have one of the scrappiest scraps that he has had on his hands for a long time.

In the first bout of the evening Lee Lapado, the Friar football player, will meet Nip Howell, of Dayton. Lapado has a big following here among the football fans and friends that are pulling for him to give a good fight.

The Summit City Athletic club, headed by George Biemer, is promoting the bout. The advance seat sale for the scrap has been heavy and indications point to a crowded house. Lou Bauman, of Cincinnati, will referee the bout.

WOMEN PADDLERS TO CELEBRATE FOURTH BY RACING FOR NATIONAL TITLES IN FRISCO POOL.

(By Harold Johnson.)

Records are doomed when the crack women paddlers of the United States meet July 4 at San Francisco in the annual championships of the National Amateur Athletic union. Among the entrants are Miss Olga Dorfner, of the Philadelphia Turngemeinde; Miss Claire Galligan, of New York; Miss Dorothy Burns and Mrs. Aileen Allen, of the Los Angeles Athletic club ladies' athletic team. These four head a field of speedy mermaids, expected to star in the Sutro baths.

Miss Dorfner's records include the world's 50-yard and the American 100 and 200 yards. The Quaker city miss, conceded by expert judges to be the best woman spinter in the country, has, within a year, set the following records: 50 yards in 30 2-5 seconds; 100 yards in 1 minute 9 3-5 seconds, and 220 yards in a 60-pool, in 3 minutes 3 2-5 seconds.

Her 100 yards mark compares favorably with the world's record for women, held by Miss Fannie Durack, of Australia, which is 1 minutes and 6 seconds. Her American standard was set in open water while Miss Durack negotiated her century in a short, smooth pool.

Miss Galligan is rated second olny to Miss Dorfner. The former, competing last March for the national women's life saving league of New York, won the 500 yards championship, setting the record at 8:05 1-5. She also established new standards for the 30 0and 400 yard distances on the way. Her time for the 300 was 4:43 4-5, and the 440 she covered in 7:06 3-5.

Miss Burns is the southern California champion at 50, 100 and 220 yards, the 150 yards back stroke and the ocean swim. A pupil of F. Vance Veith, coach of the Los Angeles A. C., she is considered the most perfect crawl stroke swimmer in the United States. Mrs. Allen is the champion woman diver of the Pacific coast and also is the only woman member of the Royal Life Saving league of England.

Other mermaids entered are Miss Frances Cowell, of Frisco, who won all the races at the Panama-Pacific exposition last year; Dorothy Becker, former holder of the 50-yard mark, and Alice Goodman, Edith Daly and Dolly Meyers, all of Frisco. Hawaii will be represented by Miss Ruth Stacker, former holder of the world's 50-yard record for women; Miss Lucile Legros, who has won many sprinting championships, and Miss Bernice Lane.

WILLAND CAN'T FIGHT FULTON ON LABOR DAY

Chicago, June 27.—Jess Willard and Fred Fulton are not going to fight on Labor day. That is a certainty. Thursday Tom Jones, in charge of Willard, wired that it would be impossible for the champion to get away from the Sells-Floto circus to fill a fight engagement on the date mentioned. Jones is willing to send his man against Fulton, but not until after his fat contract with the show folks expires.

Jones was perfectly willing to go through with the Labor day date, but the circus management told him Jess was too big a card to let away ,even for one day. The Minneapolis men who wanted to stage the fight say they will make no further bids. It was their intention to stage the fight in the open, and they rightfully contend that it will be too cold for an outdoor show after Labor day.

SKULL FRACTURED.

William Sites is Knocked From Bicycle and Seriously Hurt.

William Sites, 1503 Walton avenue, was seriously hurt about 5 o'clock Monday evening when a motorcycle hit the bicycle he was riding and threw him to the pavement, fracturing his skull. The accident occurred at Hanna and Hayden streets. Francis Harding, who lives on Clinton street and is employed at the Bass foundry, was riding the motorcycle that collided with Sites, and according to eye witnesses was in no way to blame. He reported the accident to the police station.

Sites was hurried to the St. Joseph hospital in the police ambulance. He had not regained consciousness Tuesday morning, but was reported as getting along as well as could be expected.

WILLIE RITCHIE PROUD OF HONORS FROM NEW YORK ATHLETIC CLUBMEN.

Willie Ritchie, ex-lightweight champion, and the "winged foot" emblem of the New York Athletic club, a gift of honor which Willie has displayed on the radiator of his new car.

San Francisco, June 27.—Willie Ritchie, who is "back among the home town boys," is quite proud of a new honor bestowed upon him by the New York Athletic club. On the radiator of his touring car glistens a large sized "winged foot" emblem of the club, the latest token of esteem from the eastern athletes.

When Ritchie first made his invasion of the east he won the regard of fight fans and athletes generally and was adopted by the big athletic club. At that time he was presented with a "winged foot" set with diamonds and rubies. Willie wears this beautiful gift on his coat lapel. This year when he started away from the east, the New York men gave him the larger emblem for his car.

"Since I am a Californian, it makes me feel mighty fine to win these honors from the New York club," said Willie. "I certainly appreciate their genial spirit back east. They make a westerner feel at home."

Ritchie is back in San Francisco to look after his business interests, which are growing all the time.

MORDECAI BROWN SUES.

Former Manager of St. Louis Browns Demands Sum of $12,500.

Chicago, June 27.—Mordecai Brown, former manager of the St. Louis Federal league baseball club, has filed suit for $12,500 in the United States district court here against Otto Stiefel and Phillip A. Ball, owners of the club, alleging that amount still is due him on the unfinished portion of his contract, according to his petition. Brown contracted to manage the St. Louis team for the years 1914-16 inclusive for the total sum of $22,500. He said he received pay for one year's employment.

FISHER HAS THE LAUGH ON TINKER

Joe Tinker finally came to the conlusion that most people reached long ago, that neither Mike Doolin or Steve Yerkes is capable of playing big league ball any longer. Both men have been released by the mentor of the Cubs. Which doubtless gives Bob Fisher, of Cincinnati, a long laugh.

Fisher was the regular Cub shortstop last year. He outhit all the short fielders of the National league. Yet when Tinker assumed the management of the Cubs he announced that he would displace Fisher with Mike Doolin, who had shortstopped for his champion Federal Whales. How Tinker got waivers on Fisher from National league managers must ever remain a mystery, but he did. He shipped Bob out to the Pacific coast league.

Doolin proved a terrible frost this spring. In fact, his failure at short was largely responsible for the Cubs' mediocre showing to date. Tinker labored to get the once great Mike in shape, but at last realized that his case was hopeless. Tinker was doubtless influenced by loyalty to the Federal league in retaining Doolin over Fisher. This must have affected his judgment. Anyway, the laugh is Fisher's. Bob is now acting as utility infielder with the Reds, having been purchased recently by Herzog.

THE QUESTION WILL BE SETTLED THURSDAY

Are actors better ball players than Elks? This question is going to receive a final and authoritative answer Thursday afternoon when the Lasalle Musical comedy players and the B. P. O. Elks No. 155 will play off their rubber games at Lawton park.

Each club has won once from the other and Thursday's will decide it. Immediately after the game the two teams will go to the Elks' club for dinner and in the evening the Elks and their wives will be guests at the New Palace.

TOM TAGGART WILL RAISE A REGIMENT

Indiana Senator Has Presented His Offer to President.

By Willis S. Thompson

Indianapolis, June 27.—Senator Thomas Taggart has offered a regiment of infantry to the government in case of need, or in event of hostilities in Mexico. He has presented his offer to President Wilson.

The senator explains that it is his purpose to raise the regiment in Indiana in case the offer is accepted. He says he will personally supervise the work of recruiting. Senator Taggart declares that he does not know who might be the colonel of the regiment, that being a matter easier settled by the proper authority than other details. Personally, he assures interviewers he is not ambitious to command, preferring that officers with more military knowledge shall take charge.

"It might be like the United States senatorship situation," says one of his republican friends. "He was appointed senator and then he did not wish the nomination. The democratic state convention would not hear to any other course, reflecting the wishes of the voters, and he was forced by a unanimous call to accept. Now the whole state seems to have declared for his election.

"With a regiment of infantry recruited under the Taggart inspiration he might start something again that he might have difficulty in dodging, and the "T. T." fighters might go to the front and insist upon doing their fighting under his leadership. In which case he mignt have enough newspaper correspondents along to make a couple of extra companies."

WAR DEPARTMENT LOWERS AGE LIMIT

Corporal George H. Bradley, in charge of the Fort Wayne recruiting station, has received the following order from G. W. Read, adjutant general of the war department, which is self-explanatory: "The act of congress, approved June 3, 1916, 'The National Defense Act,' as construed by this department, renders unnecessary the parental consent to enlistment of persons between the ages of 18 and 21 years, and authorizes the enlistment of any person under 18 years of age who is able to meet the requirements and has the consent of his parents or guardians."

Forty-three applicants have sought enlistment this month. Of this number but eleven have been accepted. Those sent to Columbus barracks are the following: Dominick A. Deuitch, Avilla, cavalry; Asa Fusselman, Huntington, who served three years in the third United States cavalry, re-enlisted in that service; Frank Godfrey, a young man who is a full blooded Indian, cavalry, and Edward J. Mirtes, cavalry.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The barometric pressure is low over the Rocky mountain region and relatively low over the St. Lawrence valley. It is high in the extreme northeast, off the Pacific coast, and over the upper Mississippi valley and upper lake region. This distribution of pressure has resulted in showers in the gulf states, lake region, northwest and north Pacific states. The weather is cooler than the seasonal average in the lake region, but in the other sections of the country temperatures are close to the normal. During Monday the temperature was 100 degrees or higher at Abilene, Phoenix and Roswell.

Now Expect Orders to Entrain at Any Moment

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., June 27.—An air of expectancy pervaded Camp Ralston, where the Indiana national guard is concentrated preparatory to service on the Mexican border, as it was believed orders for at least a part of the Indiana brigade might be received to entrain at almost any moment. None of the troops, however, is expected to get away before Thursday at the earliest.

Meanwhile the Big Four railroad is collecting cars sufficient to move the entire guard and it was said there would be no delay for lack of railroad equipment.

Mustering and medical officers worked hurriedly today getting the guard ready to move the minute the orders are received. Maj. Robert H. Tyndall, commanding the field artillery battalion who was the first Indiana soldier to be mustered into the federal service, assisted today in invoicing the state property, preparatory to turning it over to the federal government. Everything from a field piece down to a harness buckle has to be invoiced The entire equipment, not including animal equipment, is valued at about $70,000.

John Heddy, a private in A Company, Vincennes, died today after a prolonged illness. He was ordered removed to an Indianapolis hospital when his nervous condition became critical, but died on the way. The body will be sent to Vincennes.

BATTERY B NOW HAS 152 ENLISTMENTS

Captain Scheffer Will Confer With Adjutant General Wednesday.

Battery B now has an enlistment of 152 men and is ready for the call any time it comes, according to Captain J. C. Scheffer. Captain Scheffer, Captain Harry Clark and Lieutenant Leonard F. Wood will go to Indianapolis Wednesday to confer with Adjutant General Bridges and upon this conference will depend largely the future of the local battery.

It is not at all improbable that the battery will be in camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison by the latter part of this week or the forepart of next, in view of the order of the war department for an immediate increase in the artillery arm of the service for duty on the Mexican border. The prospects are that three new batteries will be organized in the state.

Gart Shober reported Tuesday morning that he was sure of fourteen men for the Third regiment band, which he is organizing, with six on the waiting list. The band must have twenty-three pieces, but Shober is making an effort to secure thirty-two men.

CAUSES SENSATION IN COURT.

Judge Blair Finds Queer Juror Venire Box in Use at Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., June 27.—A sensation was caused in the circuit court here when Judge Alonzo Blair, of Shelbyville, who is to act as special judge in the trial of Mayor Rollin H. Bunch for conspiracy to solicit and accept bribes, beginning July 5, learned that the box from which names of veniremen are drawn, consists of five separate comments, instead of one, as provided for by law. Harry Long, attorney for Mayor Bunch, made the charge before Judge Blair, who had the box brought into court for examination. County Clerk C. F. Bowden and the jury commissioners were called in and they told the court that because of the way the compartments were arranged it was impossible to mix up the names put into the box.

Judge Blair ordered a new jury name box provided. The one to be discarded has been in use in Delaware county for years.

Water Competition Wiped Out by War, Says Order to Railroads.

Washington, June 27.—Holding that water competition between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts has been completely destroyed under war conditions, the interstate commerce commission today ordered trans-continental railroads to revise their rate from the east to the Pacific coast by September 1, so that they shall not be lower than rates to intermediate points.

The order was a result of the investigation of existing rates on application of the Nevada railroad commission, the Spokane merchants and representatives of various intermediate cities.

The commission found that the need for lower rates to meet water competition has completely disappeared for the time being and that "there is little likelihood of any material competition by water during the present year."

The unprecedented freight rates being paid between this and other countries have attracted practically all of the ships here engaged in coast to coast service. In these circumstances coast rates are lower than conditions require.

TURN WAS UNEXPECTED

Prosecution in Casement Case Rests Suddenly.

London, June 27.—The prosecution in the case against Sir Roger Casement, leader of the Dublin revolt, rested its case suddenly shortly after luncheon recess and the attorney general announced that he had no statement to make.

Mr. Sullivan immediately began an address in an attempt to have the indictment quashed. His argument was highly technical, being an effort to show that the alleged treasonable acts were committed outside British realms and could not be tried in Great Britain.

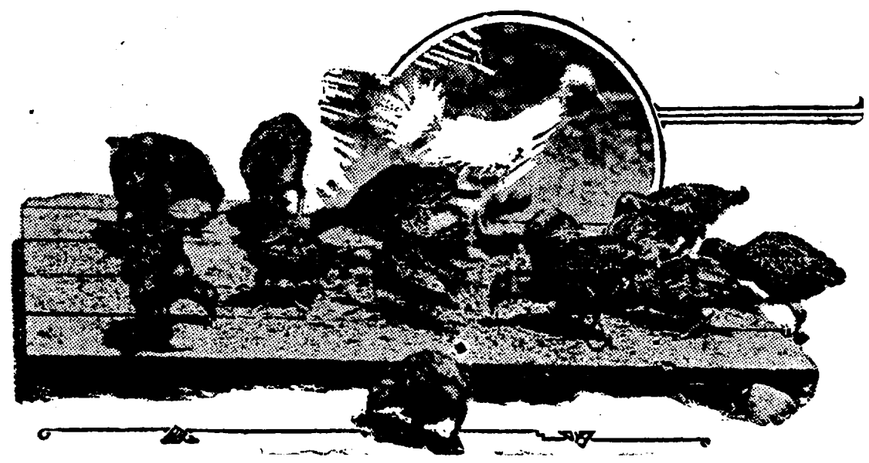
"SILKY" IS FOSTER MOTHER OF HUNDREDS OF LITTLE BROWN PHEASANT CHICKENS.



"Silky" and a Brood of Pheasant Chicks.

Snoqualmie Falls, Wash., June 27.—Kipling doesn't enjoy a vogue among the fowl of the county game farm here.

"Silky," a bantam hen whose mission in life it is to raise little Chinese pheasants for sportsmen to shoot, doesn't know there is such a thing as an "East" or a "West."

And she's exceedingly proud to be the foster mother of hundreds of little brown "Chinks," as the hunters call the gamy bird which has been introduced throughout the northwest.

Unlike the haughty, ultra-modern hen, "Silky" doesn't believe in birth control. This makes her task exceedingly onerous, though important. It cuts in dreadfully on sleep and pleasure.

The pheasant eggs, which the female "Chink" would allow to go unhatched (having modern ideas as to environment and the higher duty of her sex, probably,) are adopted by the little Cochin bantam.

Like the Old Woman in the Shoe, "Silky" often has so many children she doesn't know what to do. No sooner is one brood able to toddle about than another lot comes along. Life is just one big hatching after another.

"Silky," however, is borne up by a certain Rooseveltian disdain for mollycoddles. She doesn't speak to those barnyard creatures who complain about raising their chicks to be shot at by huntsmen. Her mother and grandmother hatched little "Chinks" for that purpose. And what was good enough for Ma and Grandma is good enough for "Silky."

Anyway, it makes her head ache to think about life and fate and the destiny of feathered creatures. So she just goes ahead and keeps her alien charges from falling into the creek, defies the hawks and scratches up the best living she knows how.

"Silky" is only one of dozens of Cochin bantams used on the county game farm here for this purpose.

Chatain—Haller.

A home wedding of much beauty took place on Tuesday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Haller, 3209 Fairfield avenue, when their daughter, Marguerite A. Haller, became the bride of Mr. Robert M. Chatain, of Chicago. The wedding took place at noon in the presence of immediate relatives of the two families. The ceremony was read by Rev. F. W. Knatz, pastor of Salem Reformed church. Mr. Edward Haller had charge of the wedding music and "O, Promise Me" was rendered during the wedding service. The bride, who is an unusually beautiful young woman of a blond type, looked very sweet and girlish in a white gown of swiss and organdie that had a delicate border of blue flowers as a trimming. The bride wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair and held a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley tied with tulle ribbons. Little Marguerite Rahe was the only attendant and she had the honor of carrying the wedding ring in the cup of a lily, the lily stalk having white ribbons to finish its appearance. Blue sash and hair ribbons gave the pretty touch of color to the child in harmony with the same bit of color in the bride's costume. The house was elaborately trimmed with smilax and many flowers. Garlands of smilax hung on all the chandeliers and in archways between rooms and branches of dutzet in blossom and marguerites were banked on mantels and on top of large pieces of furniture. In the diningroom, where a dinner was served to twelve people, the table was in smilax and pink and white snapdragon. This afternoon the bride ad groom started on a trip west and are going to Denver, Col. Chicago will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chatain as he is in the real estate business there. A house is ready to begin housekeeping in at the corner of Evans avenue, near Jackson park. FARMERS STIRRED BY BARN BURNING

Howard County Case May Be Connected With Cattle Poisoning.

Kokomo, Ind., June 27.—Farmers of Howard county have been aroused by a report that the burning of the barns on the farm of T. J. O'Toole, a large stock raiser near here, might be connected in some way with the recent poisoning of cattle belonging to Aaron Deardorff, a local dairyman. O'Toole could give no other explanation than that the fire was the work of an incendiary. He lost five blooded horses, more than 200 bushels of corn, twenty tons of hay and farm implements.

O'Toole was before the federal grand jury in Indianapolis recently in connection with an investigation to determine the authorship of a number of annonymous threatening letters circulated in Howard county, some of them pertaining to the poisoning of Deardorff's herd of cattle. The investigation did not result in charges.

A neighbor of Deardorff was convicted in the circuit court recently of poisoning the cattle. Last week Deardorff found paris green scattered in his pastures again, but it was discovered before it affected any of the animals. Since then he has been guarding his farm with a gun. A proposal that a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest of the poisoner is pending before the county commissioners.

VILLA IS SHOT ONCE MORE, BORDER RUMOR

Field Headquarters, June 20—(By Courier to Columbus, N. M., June 27.)—Francisco Villa was shot from the rear by a Mexican he had impressed into his gang during the battle with Carranza troops at Guerrero, but his fate still is unknown.

This information was contained in a semi-official account obtained by Major Robert L. Howze, who was close on Villa's trail last April, and given out here today.

Major Howze learned the details of the wounding of the bandit chieftain from one of the Mexicans Villa drafted, and who afterwards deserted.

The details of the story agreed with facts American officers obtained in their pursuit of Villa and by their independent secret service work, but the account does not say whether the bandit died or recovered.

Villa, the Mexicain deserter said, exhibited every evidence of terror during the early stages of his flight, after the Americans had defeated his men at Guerrero. The informant said he believed Villa was dead, but if he still were alive, he was in the state of Durango, for which point he was heading during his flight from Gen. Pershing's men.

BULLETIN.

Washington, June 27.—Counselor Polk of the state department today declined to discuss mediation of the Mexican difficulty with Charles A. Douglas, a Washington lawyer, formerly counsel for General Carranza, who called to say he had authoritative advice from Mexico City that Carranza would agree to mediation with the military status quo maintained in the meantime.

LACK OF SYSTEM IS BLAMED BY GEN. WOOD

Explains Reason for Delay in Getting Militia to the Border.

Major General Wood, commander of the department of the east issued a statement today in which he declared that "the present system or rather lack of system of equipping the state militia for active duty is the main reason for delay in the mobilization and sending of troops to the border."

The militia is not permitted under existing rules to keep extra field equipment in their armories and as a result when the call to arms came, as in the present instance, rifles, canteens, clothing, etc., must be obtained from the nearest arsenal. There is no reserve supply of horses, necessitating purchase in the open market and their training before they can be used.

"This is far different from the regular army system and from the reserve system of European nations."

An European reserve can leave San Francisco for the headquarters of his company in his own country and find there awaiting him in lockers everything he will need.

"The result of the Mexican trouble, I believe, will be reconstruction of the system of equipping the national guard. In the future, I believe, state organizations will have on hand in their armories their own equipment."

GERMS BIDE THEIR TIME.

Smallpox Bacilli Hid Behind Wall Paper for Twenty-five Years.

Sharon, Pa., June 27.—That smallpox germs existed for twenty-five years under the wall paper of a living room is the contention of physicians who have investigated the case of Miss Agnes Hines, of 205 Sharpsville street, who is ill with the disease.

The girl was engaged, with her mother, in removing old wall paper. She had not been vaccinated. The board of health discovered that twenty-five years ago a resident of the dwelling had smallpox.

INTAKE PUMP STARTED.

An intake pump located at St. Joe boulevard and Tennessee avenue, primarily installed for the purpose of replacing the water in the Delta lake and lagoons which is lost through seepage and evaporation, has been started in an effort to raise the level of the lake and lagoons. It is pumping water from the St. Joe river into the lake at the rate of 550 gallons a minute, or approximately 500,000 gallons a day. A slight rise in the water level is already noticeable and the park board, which is conducting the experiment, hopes if the operation of the pump is continued for several days a satisfactory level will be reached.

SOME MOOSE CHIEFS LINE UP FOR WILSON

Committee, Voting 32 to 6, Endorse Hughes at Roosevelt's Request.

Chicago, June 27.—After a day of wrangling the progressive national committee last night voted to indorse Charles Evan Hughes for president.

Thirty-two members of the committee supported the indorsement resolution offered by James R. Garfield, of Ohio. Six voted against it and nine declined to vote.

May Support Wilson.

Several of the fifteen minority members, including Raymond Robins, of Chicago, the chairman of the progressive national convention of three weeks ago, announced they probably would support President Wilson.

The action, which was taken in accordance with the wishes of Theodore Roosevelt, as expressed in a letter to the committee, marked the demise of the progressive party.

While the national executive committee was instructed to co-operate in the Hughes campaign it was admitted the full national committee never would have another meeting. The progressive party is now officially dead.

Debate Lasts Seven Hours.

The resolution as finally adopted after seven hours of debate was as follows:

Whereas, The statement issued by this committee in January and the platform adopted by the progressive national convention set forth that, putting aside all partisan consideration in view of existing world and national conditions, we would work with any man or party who saw the nation's need and put forth a leader fit to meet it; and

Whereas, We believe with Colonel Roosevelt that in nominating Charles E. Hughes, of New York, the republican party has put forth such a leader, we indorse and concur in the recommendation of Colonel Roosevelt that we support Mr. Hughes.

Line-up on Vote.

The various states and territories, through the committeemen, lined up as follows on the resolution:

Yeas—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, Wyoming, Hawaii—Total, 32.

Nays—Idaho, Kentucky, Montanna, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Utah—Total, 6.

Declining to vote—Florida, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Missouri, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Washington, West Virginia—Total, 9.

Leaders of Opposition.

The opponents of the proposal to indorse Hughes put up a stubborn fight. Leaders on this side were Matthew Hale, of Massachusetts, who presided as vice chairman of the committee in the absence of Victor Murdock, the chairman; Bainbridge Colby, of New York, who held the proxy of the committeeman from Florida; John M. Parker, of Louisiana, who was nominated for vice president by the progressives three weeks ago, and others.

There were heated scenes during the day, and one of these came when Mr. Robins declared that Mr. Colby already had declared himself for Wilson.

"You're a liar," shouted Mr. Colby.

HUGHES WELCOMES MOOSERS.

New York, June 27.—Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee for president, sent a telegram to O. K. Davis, secretary of the progressive national committee last night welcoming the support of the progressive party and arraigning the present administration for its "weakness and incertitude."

In making public the contents of the telegram Mr. Hughes also gave out a letter he had written to Colonel Roosevelt in which he declared that the nation was indebted to the colonel "for the quickening of the national spirit and for the demand for an out-and-out 100 per cent Americanism."

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes the dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—Advertisement.

FIGHTS THE CHARGE OF CHILD NEGLECT

David Evans Draws Delay to Get Doctor to Testify in His Behalf.

The case of David Evans, charged with child neglect, was continued until June 29 in municipal court Tuesday, after testimony had been given showing that Evans had substantially spent the last three years idling while his wife worked by the day to support a family of two children. Evans pleaded physical disability and asked his case continued until he could procure a doctor to testify. by the testimony Mrs. Evans bought the coal and groceries. Mrs. Evans said her husband spent some time in fishing.

The case against James Gillday, charged with being drunk, resulted in a fine of $5 and costs.

John Troman was allowed to return to Arcola following arraignment on a charge of being drunk.

Case Involves Watch.

Cases against James Henderson and James De Bout, charged with loitering, were continued until July 6, Henderson being placed under $300 bond and De Bout under $100 bond. The case involved a watch Henderson tried to pawn at a local pawn shop.

The case of Ed Burns, charged with assault and battery on Robert Weighmeister, was continued until Saturday. Bond is $25. Burns is a picket at the Western Gas Construction company. His arrest points to the first trouble since the reopening of the plant after the molders went on strike several weeks ago.

Fred Kerner, held by the police following recent arraignment, until he could sober up, was directed to leave the city by the court Tuesday.

Frank Poulson was arrested at Superior and Barr streets, charged with intoxication. He was arraigned and will be given a chance to sober up.

Auto Hit Rig.

An auto hit a rig in which there was a man, wife and two children, Monday afternoon, at Ewing and Berry streets, Officer Laughlin reported to the station. After damaging the rig considerably the auto driver took the accident lightly, according to the officer and refused to make a report of the accident.

L. Staples, 1654 High street, reported that a Huffman street car ran into his automobile Monday at the corner of Calhoun and Berry streets, causing him to hit the machine of L. J. Tholen. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Jonas S. Falkner, wanted at Tipton for child neglect, has been arrested by Detective Sergeant Spillner.

Paul Brooks, of Auburn, Ind., was stranded in a ditch Monday night one mile from the city on the Leo road. He was driving a truck and telephoned the police station that he would let the truck remain there until Tuesday. As he turned out of the way for a team, he left the roadbed and the wheels sunk.

Automatic safety gates are said to be more efficient than human flagmen. They are operate by electricity, and in 6,000 tests they failed only four times.

PAYS LITTLE HEED TO CASEMENT TRIAL

English Public Apathetic Regarding Progress of Noted Case.

London, June 27.—The second day of the trial of Sir Roger Casement for high treason opened with no change in the apathetic attitude with which the general public regards the case.

The principal reason offered for this lack of interest is that the attention of the country is focussed upon the continent where what possibly may prove the decisive phase of the great war is at a crucial stage on both the eastern and western fronts.

The atmosphere of the court room is not that of a trial for life and the chief justice was compelled yesterday to insist that there must be no laughter in court. The laughter was evoked by the rich brogue and smart repartee of the Irish soldier witnesses.

The attitude of Casement himself is far from being one of gravity. He appears neither crushed nor subdued by the seriousness of his position and takes the proceedings in a most casual manner. Much of the time he appears abstracted and even yawns frequently. With folded arms and head resting on his hand he usually has the air of being bored except when he chats with the three policemen who sit around him in the iron barred dock.

The prisoner appeared to be in a cheerful frame of mind as he entered the dock, although he displayed little of the jauntiness shown at the preliminary examination.

The prosecution resumed the introduction of testimony immediately. The witnesses were the same as those called at the preliminary hearing and few new points were brought out during the early proceedings. Witnesses gave accounts of the movements of Sir Roger and his companions, Capt. Robert Monteith and Daniel J. Bailey, from the time of their landing on the morning of Good Friday in a boat from the German submarine near Tralee until the arrest of Sir Roger.

John McCarthy, an Irish farmer, described finding the boat in which the three men were said to have landed, and told of discovering buried on the beach two hand-bags containing revolvers and ammunition.

Mary Gorman, a servant girl, identified Sir Roger as one of three she met hurrying away from the beach early Friday morning. She was followed by Thomas Hearn, a sergeant in the Irish constabulary, who told of tracing Sir Roger to the ruined fort in the vicinity of which he arrested him. Harn identified revolvers, maps of Ireland and a flag of the revolutionists which were found in a hand-bag. There was a stir in the court room as the big green emblem of the rebels was spread out in the center of the room and all eyes turned towards the prisoner. He shifted uneasily in his seat and then leaned back with folded arms, smilingly nervously as he gazed at the flag.

Alexander Sullivan, chief counsel for the defense, volunteered the information to the court that the emblem on the flag was that of the city of Limreick.

Mr. Sullivan cross-examined the police witnesses at length in regard to the general unrest in Ireland and brought out the fact that the people of the south were arming themselves against those of the north and against conscription, and when the military refused to serve against Ulster, the southerners felt they could not trust the soldiers to protect them against Ulster volunteers.

One police witness said that, although the carrying of arms and drilling went on unhampered by the authorities, the landing of arms would have had a very grave effect.

CAN YOUTH AND OLD AGE BE HAPPY IN MARRIAGE?

(By Mark Larkin.)

Los Angeles, Cal., June 27.—Youth and old age can never mate. A young girl can never marry an old man and be happy. The abyss between their modes of living is as wide as the difference between their ages, and there is no way of bridging it.

This is the knowledge that Mrs. Beulah Moshier Eyster has gained from her experience in marriage. At the age of 17 she wed John Eyster of Altadena, 83 years old. Three months later, she left him to come back to the home of her parents here.

"It is the most tragic mistake in the world for a young girl to marry a man many years older than herself," says Mrs. Eyster. "The old saying, 'Better to be an old man's darling than a young man's slave,' should be turned around, for the girl who marries a man much her senior can put it down that she will have to be his slave.

"I would never marry another old man even if he had five million dollars. Freedom is the most precious thing in the world and every girl should be careful that she does not sacrifice it when she steps into matrimony. I would give a million dollars, if I had it, for my freedom right now."

Mrs. Eyster declared that the difference between their ages was so great that happiness was out of the question for John Eyster and herself.

"Of course, I didn't realize this in the beginning," she said, because I was only a girl. My marriage brought me nothing but sorrow and unhappiness and my greatest desire now is to say something that will make it possible for other girls to profit by my experience."

Here, according to the girl wife, are the reasons a young girl should never marry an old man:

An old man lacks the proper understanding of love; his is a selfish interpretation of the word. An old man, especially if he has been a bachelor, lacks good manners and is unwilling to learn them. He will not eat with his fork. He will not blow his nose in a handkerchief. He will throw water on the floor instead of into the sink. He will insist on keeping a plow and lawn mower and a scythe in the house and he will find fault with the woman who tells him that the place for such things is in an out-house. An old man is insanely jealous. He believes everybody is trying to steal his wife. He is jealous of the carpenter, the plumber, the electrician and even of his wife's girl friends. An old man eternally preaches economy and objects to buying necessary clothing for his wife.

"In my opinion," says Mrs. Eyster, no girl should marry a man more than six or seven years her senior. If it is possible, she should marry a man about her own age. She should avoid marrying a bachelor. A bachelor has never thought of anybody but himself before his marriage and a wedding ceremony is not apt to change him."

On their wedding day John Eyster told his bride that he would leave no stone unturned in his effort to keep her happy. He also told her that he possessed great wealth, so she says, and would grant every wish that money could gratify. But, according to Mrs. Eyster their honeymoon was not over before her husband began nagging and preaching economy.

"It was then I learned," said the girl bride, "that the story of his wealth was a myth. He did not have the vast holdings to which he pretended. In fact, his annual income was only $600 a year and he mortgaged his place in Altadena to buy the furniture for the house in which we lived. His only source of income, aside from the lemons he raised on his two-acre Altadena place was the rental from a small ranch in northern California."

According to Mrs. Eyster, her husband said he would give her half of all he had after their marriage. But when she suggested that he give her a joint tenancy deed to his property, she says he refused.

"This was not an attempt on my part to get hold of his property; on the contrary, it was merely a partnership arrangement to which I thought I was entitled. However, I do not want any of his property now. All I want is my freedom. And I hope my experience will convince other girls that there is nothing but heartaches in trying to be an old man's darling."

JUST AFTER THE CEREMONY.

GERMANS TURNING TO SOFT DRINKS

Non-Intoxicants Supplanting Beer in Empire of the Kaiser.

Berlin, June 15.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—War, which has worked so many changes in the daily habits of the Germans, has now conspired with war weather to induce the Germans to drink "soft drinks." Bottles of lemon sour, ginger ale, cream soda and other beverages included under the generic name of "pop" in the United States, are beginning to make their appearance on shelves and bars formerly devoted to beer, and the thirsty people are drinking them, not from choice, but because they have to.

It is no longer possible to make enough beer to meet even fairly modest demands of the reduced home population. The majority of the larger beer gardens will not be opened at all this summer, and for some weeks it has been no unusual thing to find some of Berlin's biggest restaurants and beer halls without a drop of beer early in the evening of warm days. The sale of beer to households in containers charged with carbonic acid gas has been discontinued, and only favored old customers can still get bottled beer.

Bavaria, the greatest beer-drinking country of the world, where many a solid citizen normally drinks one to two gallons daily, and where the great beer halls are filled at almost all hours of the day is in a still worse plight. The time in which beer may be sold has been steadily shortened, and now there has come an order permitting saloons, beer halls, etc., to sell beer only from 10 to 12, 2 to 4 and after 9 o'clock at night. Exceptions are made in the case of beer dispensed in factories to their workers, and by farmers to their help. No beer whatever may be sold locally until after the wants of the Bavarian soldiers have been supplied.

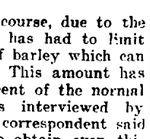
The scarcity is, of course, due to the fact that the empire has had to limit strictly the amount of barley which can be turned into malt. This amount has been fixed at 50 per cent of the normal amount, but brewers interviewed by The Associated Press correspondent said they were not able to obtain even this amount. An unforeseen inroad has further been made into the available amount of barley by the fact that the shortage of coffee has required the roasting of great quantities of barley as a substitute.

The government has granted the brewers permission to malt in the second (current) quarter of the year the full quota of barley allowed them for the third quarter. This will rob hot summer days of some of their terror, but even at best, the supply will be utterly inadequate.

Many of the war zone children wear gas masks on their way to and from school.

How to Heal Skin-Diseases

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.



At any reliable druggist's get a jar of Resinol Ointment and a cake of Resinol Soap. These are not at all expensive. With the Resinol Soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the Resinol Ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again. Sample free, Dept. 30-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Advertisement.

PAVING FOR LAKE AVENUE.

Ordinance Will Be Submitted to City Council Tonight.

Decision to prepare an ordinance ordering paving of Lake avenue, from Anthony boulevard to the city limits, was made Monday afternoon at a meeting of the board of public works. The ordinance is to be submitted to the city council at its regular semi-monthly meeting tonight.

An improvement resolution calling for paving of Lake avenue was defeated by remonstrance a short time ago, but members of the board consider the improvement an absolute necessity because the section to be paved links the present city pavement with the county's stone road.

The board ordered plans to be prepared for the paving of Melita street from Harrison to Hoagland and for the construction of a sewer in the alley east of Davis street, from Link to Mary.

Action Is Rescinded.

Action taken previously as an improvement resolution for the paving of Grace avenue was rescinded and the board ordered the street paved from Fox avenue to Broadway at uniform width. This will bring condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of a strip of ground at one point in order to avoid a jog.

Revised plat for the Weisser park addition was submitted to the board of works and approved. Plat for the C. Schaper addition, between Hamilton and John streets, Weisser Park avenue and the city limits. The property is owned by Caroline E. Miller, daughter of the late C. Schaper.

Another committee composed of Jacob Bill, August Knoche, Warren Smitley, C. Kaiser, A. Schmidt and Rev. A. Meyer will wait on the board of works regarding the low water pressure which usually exists throughout that portion of the city.

W. G. Burns, chairman of the Seventh Ward Improvement association, addressing the meeting, explained a number of problems with which his organization is now dealing. He explained why residents of his ward object to the building of the new Hope hospital at the southwest corner of Reservoir park, and asked residents of the Tenth ward to assist them in the project. Herman Korte was chairman at last night's meeting and V. J. Cramer acted as secretary. The next meeting will be held at the same place July 6.

Hero of Ypres Joins U. S. Army

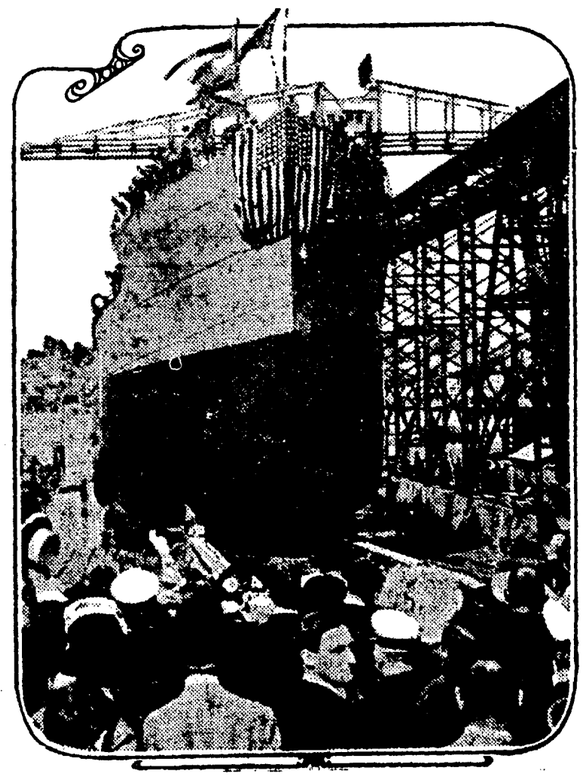
Alexander B.C. Weel

Weel, of Brooklyn, has resigned a captaincy in the Royal Highlanders of Canada and enlisted as a private in the United States army to go to the Mexican border.

Capt. Weel's regiment in the British army was known as the "Black Watch" and he was mentioned for bravery at Ypres.

Weel was at his home in Brooklyn on furlough when he decided to answer the call for men for Uncle Sam's forces.

NAVY LAUNCHES TANKER CUYAMA.



Launching U. S. Navy tanker Cuyama at the Mare Island Navy Yard. The big crane over the vessel is used to regulate the speed of craft as they slide down the ways.

Vallejo, Cal., June 27.—With the christening of the big navy tanker Cuyama out of the way, officials here are preparing for the construction of Uncle Sam's new battleship, the California, which is to be the finest type of fighting craft in the world.

A huge crowd witnessed the ceremony at the launching of the Cuyama recently when the big vessel glided slowly into the water. Miss Margaret Offley, daughter of Capt. Cleland N. Offley, head of the machinery department at Mare Island, broke a bottle of champagne over the bow. The vessel was launched six months after the keel was laid. It is understood that it will be used on the eastern seaboard.

Aguilar Makes Public His Messages to the Latin-Americans.

HE DECLARES OUR PURPOSE HOSTILE

Seeks to Array All Latin-America Against the United States.

Mexico City, June 27.—Foreign Minister Aguilar made public today messages sent to Latin-American countries in which the government of the United States is accused of perfidy and with concentrating troops along the border with hostile purposes toward Mexico. The messages are in answer to communications from South American countries offering their services to mediate between the United States and Mexico.

The messages say that after the incidnt at Matamoros the United States began to gather its armed forces along the international line with the intention of aggression against Mexico. It is asserted that Mexico is not seeking war but that if it is forced to fight it will go to the last extreme at the cost "of the blood of its sons and the destruction of its wealth."

The messages conclude by stating that the "perfidy" of the American government not only affects Mexico but all Latin countries on this continent. It is added that Elizo Arredondo, the Mexican minister at Washington, has been instructed to get in touch with his Latin-American colleagues who have offered to mediate and to do everything in his power to prevent war. The final sentence of the messages read: "The people and government of Mexico are lovers of peace and will maintain peace at any cost on the understanding that the dignity and soveireignty of the republic is not attacked."

BITTER ATTACK ON U. S.

Opposition in Rio Janeiro Chamber of Deputies Starts Something.

Rio Janero, June 27.—The keen interest with which Barzil is following the developments of the crisis between the United States and Mexico received a new impetus today following a spirited discussion in the chamber of deputies during which an opposition made a bitter attack on the United States.

The discussion was opened by this deputy, who commenting on the last note sent to Mexico by Secretary Lansing, declared he was astonished that the United States should make difficulties in accepting the explanation of Mexico, while promptly accepting those of Germany in regard to the submarine war. The speaker asserted that Germany was continuing its undersea campaign in violation of its promise to Washington and that the United States did not dare to protest. He concluded by expressing the hope that Brazil would continue to maintain its traditions by defending the principle of the sovereignty of all countries without regard to the economic or military strength of any nation.

Deputy Sousea Silva, speaking for the government, defended the international policy of the administration and declared that Brazil stood firm for the solidarity and fraternity of the American nations. Deputy Sousea also denied reports that the voyage of Dr. Lauro Muller, minister of foreign affairs, to the United States had to do with the Mexican situation. He said that the voyage had been determined on before the relations of Mexico and United States became critical and was undertaken solely for the sake of the health of the minister.

Deputy Sousea Dantas, who has taken Dr. Muller's place during his absence from the country, questioned in regard to the attitude of Brazil in the present crisis, said that the government had entered into no negotiations, but in common with all Americans, was watching the situation with the anxious hope that a peaceful solution would be found.

HIS PLEA TO ARGENTINE.

U. S. Attempting to Maintain Unjust Claims, Says Aguilar.

Buenos Aires, June 27.—Foreign Minister Jose Luis Murature has received a message from Gen. Candido Aguilar, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, containing an appeal for the support of the governments of Latin-America in Mexico's controversy with the United States.

General Aguilar asserts that the United States is attempting to maintain by force in weak countries unjust claims on the part of its citizens. He contends that by agreement foreigners in Mexico who acquire property after a certain period of time renounce the protection of their respective governments.

Minister Murature has also received a telegram from Dr. Romulo S. Naon, Argentinian minister at Washington, expressing the hope that the difficulties between Mexico and the United States will be solved peacefully.

FORMER VILLA MEN GO OVER

Flocking Back to Mexico to Receive Welcome by Carranza.

NEW EVIDENCE THAT BREACH HAS HEALED

Handbills Tell of Villa Pledge to Support de Facto Government.

El Paso, Texas, June 27.—Evidence that the possibility of war with the United States has healed the breach between the Carranza and Villa factions in Mexican politics, continued to increase here today. More than one hunlred wealthy Mexicans, who prior to the surrender of the Villa garrison of Juarez last January, had been active in supporting the bandit leader, and who since have been refugees in El Paso, crossed the Rio Grande and apparently were received in good favor by authorities of the de facto government.

Tell of Villa's Pledge.

Hand bills, printed in Spanish, asserting that Villa himself had been pledged to support the Carranza government in the event of a break with the United States, were circulated in Juarez and to some extent in the Mexican quarter of El Paso. All reports indicated, however, that the bandit chieftain has not yet joined the constitutionalist forces, but with a body of his troops, is somewhere in the Rio Florido district of southern Chihuahua, awaiting developments in the crisis.

Gen. M. Medinavietia, formerly Villa's chief of staff, and Gen. Jose Ysabel Robles, minister of war in the Guietterez cabinet, were guests today of Gen. Francisco Gonzales, commandant in Juarez. It was reported here that they, both of whom have directed extensive military campaigns in northern Chihuahua, are to be assigned to important commands in Gen. Trevino's army of the north.

Were Formerly Bandits.

Private advices here today said that several hundred men of the force of ten thousand Mexican troops, which have been concentrated at Bustillos, 70 miles west of Chihuahua City for the ostensible purpose of blocking any attempted American advance down the Mexican Northwestern railway toward the capital, formerly were members of bandit bands, scattered and broken by Gen. Pershing's troops. Operating in conjunction with them, it was said, are the command of Calexico and Canuto Reyes, former Villa leaders, who recently were granted amnesty by Gen. Trevino. Well-informed Mexicans here said today they had been told that only a few of the cirtentifo faction, the former wealthy land holders of the republic, are still under the ban of authorities of the de facto government. Gen. Marcelo Caraveo, former Orozco leader and adherent of Huerta, is now occupying a command at the Mexican field base at Villa Ahumada.

Heavy Guard in Bivouac.

With the American demands before Carranza, the heaviest guard yet maintained was bivouaced about the two international bridges last night. From the Mexican side came reports that practically the entire former garrison was withdrawn from Villa Ahumada, 83 miles south. It is said, a large command is entrenching there. Two troop trains, to one of which is attached Gen. Gonzales private car and two cars of foodstuffs, are awaiting in Juarez to carry the remnant of the garrison to the field base, should hostilities develop. Preparations for the reception of the state troops and the two additional batteries of the fifth field artillery under orders to take station in El Paso continued today. It was expected that the first of the new soldiers will arrive here some time tomorrow.

CRAMPS MEXICAN ARMY.

Curtailed Shipment of Supplies Already Has Effect.

San Antonio, June 27.—Curtailed shipments of supplies into Mexico from the United States already has affected the Mexican army, according to reports reaching Gen. Funston's headquarters here today. It became known that the reason the Mexican forces recently left Nuevo Laredo was because they were unable to obtain forage for their horses from this side of the border.

The situation opposite Naco, Arizona, where 1,500 Mexican troops are being held on trains, aroused widespread speculation here. Gen. Funston has announced that American officers were sure they had fathomed the design of this Mexican troop movement and had reinforcements sent to the American force at Naco and entrenchments have been thrown up there.

SCENE AFFECTING ONE.

Mexican General Sheds Tears at Prospect of a Break.

Brownsville, Tex., June 27.—United States Consul J. H. Johnson, who closed consul affairs in Matamoras last night, held a conference with Gen. Alfredo Ricaut, de facto commaander of the Matamoras district, during which an affecting scene occurred, it became known today.

"I hope it will be possible in the event of a break of relations between our country," Gen. Ricault told Mr. Johnson, according to the latter, "that half an hour before it occurs I may have the pleasure of shaking hands with you and Gen. James Parker, commanding the border patrol at Fort Brown, at the international bridge."

Tears filled Gen. Ricaut's eyes as he made this statement, Mr. Johnson said.

KOWALSKI LEAVES.

Sergeant August Kowalski, who has been in command of the United States army recruiting station here for the past four months has gone to Toledo, Ohio, to take charge of the station in that city. He has been succeeded here by Corporal George H. Bradley. Corporal Bradley has had years of experience in the army. He will be advanced to sergeant. Corporal Magner, of Sandusky, Ohio, has been assigned to the local office.

The Woman's Loyal circle will give its annual picnic Wednesday afternoon at Robison park. All members are requested to bring their baskets well filled.

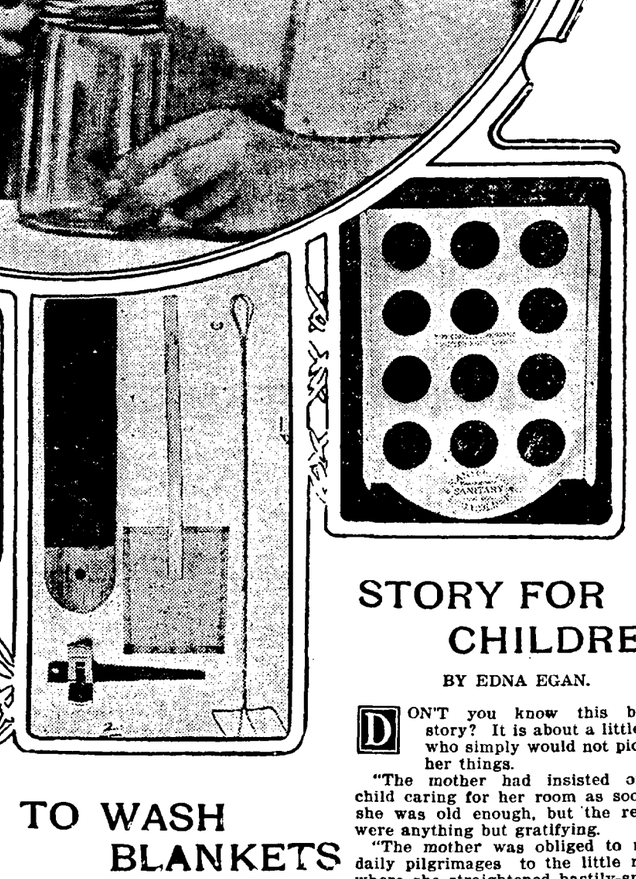
Summer Time Necessities for the Housewife



SUMMER EATABLES

BY MRS. McCUNE.

FOR breakfast hot coffee is almost always in order in every home, and if it is also demanded at dinner, it will not take more than ten minutes to prepare and serve it.

A mould of ice-cold cereal with fruit and toast will complete a very tasty breakfast. For luncheon there are a number of cold beverages that will appeal to the appetite—tea, coffee, chocolate, buttermilk, lemonade, malted milk are all good; a vegetable salad of string beans, tomatoes or some other refreshing vegetable, with a French dressing made of good oil, will answer nicely for a substantial, and with bread and butter and a dish of ripe fruit with cream and sugar will be all that any one could possibly require.

If one hot dish is desired, a corn pudding, creamed peas or scalloped tomatoes will prove satisfying, and hot tea is always in order.

It is the cold dinner which most housewives find most difficult to plan and prepare, though I wonder at this, for there are so many good things possible for such a menu. Clear soup, jellied or iced, is always appetizing and healthful, and the fruit soups which were described in this department some time ago are excellent for a summer dinner.

For a meat dish, beef or veal loaf, symmetrically sliced and served in a ring of sliced tomatoes dotted with mayonnaise dressing, will prove to be appetizing; or you may have a jellied meat with peas, or cold roast beef or mutton with a mayonnaise of asparagus. Sometimes you will have three or four kinds of cold meat in the refrigerator,; perhaps a little of each; these may be jellied together with peas and bits of canned pimento added to make the dish more tasty and attractive.

Serving meat and salad in combination is new and very nice. It saves extra work and dishwashing and provides a novelty for the dinner table as well.

Dessert follows, of course, and if you can manage a sherbet at home you will have supplied the very nicest sort of complement for your cold dinner.

Frozen raspberries or peaches, or a lemon or orange water-ice costs little and are easily made if one has one of the new freezers. Then there are the gelatine dishes and creams, almost as good as a frozen dessert and quite as inexpensive. A ring of lemon jelly filled with fresh-sliced and sugared peaches and served with cream is a charming sweet dish. Or you may prefer a rice pudding packed in ice and salt for two or three hours and served with fresh or canned red raspberries. Floating island, if made intensely cold, cannot be improved upon, and plain cream whipped and sweetened and served icy cold with lady fingers makes a dainty hot evening dessert.

Most men prefer hot coffee, even after a cold dinner, but that, as I said before, is easily supplied and very satisfying.

ODDS & ENDS

A GIRL who is skillful with her needle and who wants to use the leisure hours at a summer resort doing something that will count, might try her hand at embroidering the fine lingerie Dutch collars as gifts. There are few among us who are not conscious that the coming autumn and winter will demand many bridal gifts, and it is far easier to prepare them now than to buy them then. The work of the moment on the porches is embroidering the wide round collar that will be quite a fashion all winter. It is made of the finest handkerchief linen, with a scalloped, button-holed edge, and above this is a bold design in openwork embroidery.

A PHYSICIAN says that he knows of many persons who have taken sea voyages and avoided the usual seasickness by eating freely of salt mackerel, dried salt fish or dried beef. One of the greatest human comforts to the voyager known as the thin-blooded creature, always cold on a steamer, is to have flannel foot warmers, also a blanket kimono to put on over the night clothes at night, when cold is so noticeable. Those who are not seasick are often sick from the cold.

BRIGHT collars, gay corsage bouquets, and half a dozen other devices are employed by dressmakers and tailors to supply the enlivening touch of lightness and brightness which the coming of spring and the expectation of sunshine to come seem to demand. An interesting example in this connection is the narrow fold of bright colored silk which decorates the hem of some of the new suits. It is narrow, so narrow as to resemble a "piping," takes the place of the one-time protective braid, and is visible to the depth of a quarter of an inch or less the whole way round the edge of the skirt. The same shade repeated on the coat preserves the harmony of the general scheme.

BEAUTIFUL hands are a sign of good breeding, it is said, and certain it is that no one who neglects her hands can expect them to look well. Only regular attention and steady care bring forth any results in beautifying the hands. The girl who works for her living need not despair, however, for if she will devote a few moments each night to her hands they will look almost as well as those of the lady of leisure. Be careful first of all as to how the hands are washed—in tepid water is the most satisfactory, for it is not too cold to remove the dirt and not too hot to redden the flesh. Constantly changing soap is very bad for the skin. A good soap should be selected and be used regularly without change. Be sure that all the soap is off the hands, then dry thoroughly, so that the flesh is not left damp and moist. By going to a manicurist once in a while and by watching attentively how the work is done you may be able to do your manicuring at home the rest of the time.

TO WASH BLANKETS

THE glorious sunny days make the housekeeper aware that it is time to wash her blankets and other woolens. So many women write asking how to wash blankets that a few simple directions are given here.

First, blankets are made of wool, which is a substance particularly affected by two things—temperature and rubbing. The wool fibre shrinks when it comes in contact either with very cold or very hot water. The fibre also becomes broken, if squeezed or rubbed too violently.

The best way to wash blankets, then, is to keep in mind that we can neither squeeze nor wring them nor use too hot or too cold water without making them shrink. Unless there are some very soiled spots it is best to use a soap solution. This is prepared as follows:

Four quarts cold water; one large bar white soap, shaved; 2 tablespoonfuls borax.

The soap should be shaved and added with the borax to the cold water, then heated to boiling or until perfectly liquid. The water for the blankets should be tepid, or about 110 degrees. The tub may be filled partly full of such water and about one quart of the above soap solution used.

The blankets should then be immersed in this water and washed by a gentle squeezing or sousing motion until they appear clean. Remove the blankets from this first water and repeat in two other soap waters, if necessary. The last water should be tepid, but clear, with a half cup of borax added to whiten them still further.

The blankets should then be gently squeezed or pressed dry. They may be wrung through a wringer if carefully done, but should never be wrung by twisting.

The whole washing should be done as quickly as possible, and the blankets at once hung in a sunny, windy place. If the two opposite edges of the blanket are pinned together after the manner of large tablecloths, there will be less danger of the blanket drying unevenly.

STORY FOR CHILDREN

BY EDNA EGAN.

DON'T you know this barrel story? It is about a little girl who simply would not pick up her things.

"The mother had insisted on the child caring for her room as soon as she was old enough, but the results were anything but gratifying.

"The mother was obliged to make daily pilgrimages to the little room, where she straightened hastily-spread bed clothes; picked up and put away ribbons, sashes, shoes, and stockings; hung up hats coats and dresses.

"She puzzled long and hard and finally hit upon a solution.

"One day the child came into her mother's room most explosively.

"'What is that old barrel doing in my room?' she demanded.

"'That, my dear, is for my convenience,' replied the mother calmly. 'I am tired of picking up your things and putting them away, So after this when I find them out of place I shall simply drop them into the barrel. You may take them out or leave them in as you please.'

"'But mother, the old thing looks perfectly horrid. I don't want it in my room.' The child was ready to cry.

"'My dear, the moment I find that it does not have to be used it will be taken out. As long as I find things to put in it there it stays.'

"For awhile there was marked improvement; but little by little the barrel repository began to fill up.

"Every few days there was a rummage and emptying to find some mislaid article; it seemed as if the discipline were failing of its effect; the child did not in the least mind digging into the barrel for what she wanted. One day there was a party and an especially pretty frock for the occasion. The next morning the frock hung over a chair just as it had been taken off. It wrung the mother's heart to do it, but she felt this was the Spartan test.

"Another party was imminent; the day came; it was time to go; no sound was heard above stairs. The mother finally went up. Sounds of sobbing came from the child's room; she softly opened the door. On the floor lay the party dress, a mass of crumpled muslin, lace, and ribbons; on the bed lay a disconsolate little figure; a tear-stained face was lifted.

"'Oh! Mother! You put my best dress in the barrel and now it is ruined.'

"'Mother is sorry, but you were warned.'

"'Oh! I know it! But if you will only take that barrel out I will never, never, never, never, leave anything about again.' And I think the story goes she did not.

"Now this is the way I warned the children. I told them that when I went into the playroom at night and found it looking like a cyclone's path, that I should put everything into the barrel I proposed installing. As I said in the beginning, I believe I shall have peace and safety."

WALLPAPER

Presents Great Problem of Keeping It Clean

WHEN a bed stands in the corner of a room so that one of its sides extends directly against the wallpaper, the maid should be instructed to pull the bed well away from the wall when it is being made so that the paper will not get soiled from the pulling and smoothing of the covers, or from the contact of the person's clothes who crowds in between bed and wall when smoothing the covers on that side.

On sweeping days, too, it seems almost impossible to prevent the marks from dusty fingers from leaving tracks on the light wallpaper, and greasy finger marks are difficult to eradicate. A little French chalk rubbed on the spot will sometimes remove the worst of the grease spot, but if this fails it is possible to iron out the grease with a hot iron after laying a piece of blotting paper over the spot to absorb the grease as it is absorbed with the heat.

When having a room or hall papered always ask the paperhanger to leave a few scraps of the new paper so that it may be used for patching if the wall is defaced at any time.

MILADY'S BEAUTY

IF soap bark is used to wash the hair inclose the bark in a six-inch bag and sew it up. Steep the contents in a quart of hot water, but do not boil it. The bag can be used the same as a sponge to assist in the work. Rinse the hair carefully with warm water, then with cold water, and rub perfectly dry. This is recommended for oily hair.

A SHAMPOO that also acts as a tonic for oil hair is made of half an ounce of borax, a quarter of an ounce of bicarbonate of soda, one-half dram of camphor, a quarter of an ounce of glycerin, a pint of distilled or rose water and one ounce of camphor. Shake the camphor in the alcohol until the former is dissolved. Then mix with the other things. To use, massage well into the scalp and through the long hair. Let it stay on for fifteen minutes and then wash off in hot clear water, rinsing several times. Use no soap.

UNDER no circumstances rub soap into white hair. Put it into a warm or hot suds and use fresh water freely for rinsing and be liberal with soft, warm towels when drying. Avoid a yellow or green soap that contains alkali and makes the hair yellow. Use pure castile soap that has previously been reduced to a jelly in warm rainwater to which a little bay rum has been added.

SLEEP is a great preserver of youth. Eight hours at night and a short nap during the day will do much to keep the face free from wrinkles. Always sleep with the bedroom window open a few inches at the top, both in summer and winter. A daily morning bath, tepid in winter and cold in summer, with a brisk rub to follow, will keep the skin fresh and clear. Two hours must be passed in the open air, walking, riding or playing games. All tight clothing, and especially tight lacing, must be avoided, as compression disturbs the circulation and is often the cause of enlarged veins and red noses.

BAD complexion, lacking luster, elasticity and plumpness, often indicates want of goodness in the vital or nutritive system. A mild diet, a gentle temperature, an even digestion, open air exercise, sleep and tranquility of mind are all necessary to loveliness. Fresh meats, to be nutritious, should be rare. Avoid all highly spiced foods and drink plenty of water. Oranges, pineapples, grapefruit, olives, whole wheat bread, tomatoes and apples are all beauty foods. Substitute lemon juice for vinegar and eat sparingly of rich salads and pastries.

MANY believe that when the hair is falling the use of tonics will stop it; this is a mistake; a tonic cannot prevent the hair already loose from falling any more than a leaf can be fastened back into its place on a tree by applying fertilizers to the roots. But the scalp can be so invigorated by proper massage that the follicles will secrete the oils as they should, and the new hairs will not fall. It is always advised to cut off very long hair when it begins to fall. The strength then goes into the length that is left, giving it a new and more vigorous growth. Hair that is uneven is not ugly, neither is its unevenness a sign of bad condition. It is only that hair that is the least inclined to be wavy or is fine and soft "flies" much more than the heavy locks. A small bottle of bandoline kept on the dressing table and just a speck passed over the hair after dressing will help, and the invisible net may be worn when one does not wear a veil.

VERY curly hair which is difficult to manage can be more easily brushed and combed if a few drops of brilliantine or a little olive oil is poured on the brush. The hair should be divided into strands and each strand combed separately, beginning at the very end and working gradually upward.

DON'T allow your cheeks to become hollow. Of course, to retain the full, round contour good health is necessary, but there are a number of people whose health is good and whose cheeks are hollow. For these massage is the remedy. Use a good vegetable cream and massage each night just before going to bed, for about fifteen minutes. The movement to be used should be upward—never massage downward, as the object is to make the muscles and flesh hold up firmly. The rotary movement can be used also, working from the center of the cheek outward. Some people make the mistake of massaging too heavily. You must remember that the flesh is delicate, and the cushions of the fingers should be used very lightly. Don't plow the flesh.

FAMILY INFLUENCE

YOU don't mind me talking, do you, lady?" said the long, lean "handy" man who was putting on the weather stripping. "I'm built so I work faster when I talk—honest. It ain't hard for me to talk. I don't have to stop to think none when I do it.

"Yes'm—I can do all your extra work around here—beat rugs, wash windows, fix storm doors, clean off snow, do your garden work, et cetry. I've got a wife and three kiddies that's got to be taken care of, and you bet I don't ask my wife to go out washing! She's got her hands full taking care of me and the kids and that's enough for even a big strong woman like she is.

"Say—that woman of mine is mighty good. She's making a man of me. I used to drink, you know. Well, I just got the habit. You see, there ain't much else to do when you're with a bunch of fellows and haven't got any home and kind of roustin' about. I was thirty before I found this woman. She was a widow and I told her all about my faults, but she took me, God bless her. That was five years ago.

"Gosh, I look forward to going home nights. Everythings that cheery—and the kids to play with. The oldest is a boy—four years old. Next comes the two-year-old, and the baby's six months. And every one of them has taken a prize in a baby show. Yes, ma'am. They're some kids.

"You see, I got something to work for now, and something to look to at the end of the day. It keeps me straight. Anyway, I'd do anything for that woman of mine. I couldn't go back on her after her showing me what a good woman's like. Gosh, she's good!

"We're farmer folk, you know, raised in Nova Scotia. But us boys thought we'd do better in the states. One after the other we left the farm and went out to make our fortunes. Well, I ain't made any fortune, but I got a wife and three of the finest kids in Christendom, and I'm supporting them comfortable. You see my regular job is janitor of a flat building. That gives us a warm place to live and a little money, and I add considerable to it dong these odd chores.

"Well, when us boys got together in the city we thought we'd like to have our old father with us, being as our mother was dead. So we finally got him to say he'd come for a visit, though he wouldn't promise to stay. He stayed in the city just three days and then he said he was going back on the farm, where he could live in peace and safety. He said it was hard for him to believe the good Lord could hear anybody's prayers with all the noise going on in the city.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, June 27.—Stocks continued under the influence of the Mexican situation at the outset of today's operations, declines far outnumbering gains. Losses of a point or more were recorded by Texas company, American Can, United States Smelting, United Fruit and Maxwell Motors, but these were offset by corresponding advances in Mexicans, California Petroleum, Industrial Alcohol, Crucible Steel and other equipment issues. United States Steel opened slightly lower, soon made up more than its loss and as promptly yielded again under pressure of large offerings. Rails were a negligible factor with an irregular trend.

Prices hardened in all quarters later, various developments, such as the higher rates granted to transcontinental roads and rumors of large orders by our government to some of the munitions companies contributing to that end. Reading, yesterday's weak feature, displayed sudden activity and strength on its advance of two points, Crucible extending its gain to 3½ and United States Steel suggested substantial absorption on an extreme rise of 1¼. There was marked improvement in other industrials, shipping shares and specialties. Trading slackened at noon with recoveries well sustained. Bonds were irregular.

Baby Bond's Big Brother Also Popular

The $500 bonds of the same issue as the much talked of Baby Bonds, and except for the larger denomination, identical with the Baby Bonds, are proving exceedingly popular among the local business men who prefer the larger investment but who desire the same security and rate of interest of the Baby Bond.

Baby Bonds are in $10 denominations, secured by first mortgages on local real estate and bearing six per cent. interest. For further information call the Wildwood Sales Company, Shoaff building.

SHOWS RAPID GAIN IN VOCATIONAL WORK

State Director Points Out Much Progress in State During Year.

Indianapolis, June 27.—Dr. W. F. Book, state director of ovcational education, will make a detailed financial report of the cost of vocational education in the state at the next meeting of the state board of education and also will make recommendations for the development of the work which eh thinks should be brought before the board and the next legislature.

In preparation for this work, Dr. Book has outlined in brief form some of the advancements of vocational educational work in the state up to date. He says 113 vocational departments and schools for industrial and domestic science education have been established, with an enrollment of 12,186 students this year. This is a net gain for the year of 55 schools and 4,647 students and reports are not in from Crawfordsville and Salem.

Eight new cities have taken up the vocational work in industrial and home making lines; eight cities and 351 new pupils have been added to the agricultural group; and work in old centers of this work has been improved.

Book comments with much pleasure on the work in Terre Haute, where a girl's school costing $16,000 has been built and additions have been made of the old Rose Polytechnical buildings and grounds valued at $100,000. He also refers to the inetrest in the work in Evansville, Columbus, Anderson, Richmond, Madison and other cities.

Concluding his report, Book says Indiana problems and needs and the results in vocational education which have already been attained in Indiana will be in the minds of leaders in vocational education throughout the country this year.

"The Indiana work has the sanction of the leaders throughout the country and will become an example for the rest of the states," he says.

The state board of education is considering recommendations that the state vocation educational law be amended as follows:

That the establishment of part time classes be mandatory upon all board of education of towns of 5,000 population or over.

That attendance of all boys and girls under 18 years of age who have left school and entered any type of profitable employment be required for at least five hours each week during the regular school year.

That in addition to the provisions for part time education complementery to daily employment, part time education be also provided through continuation schools for all youthful workers who are at work in juvenile employment, regardless of whether it is complementery to the daily employment.

That the law relates to the child labor and the issuance of working permits be amended so: 1—That working permits are required for all types of employment for all youths under 16, including those engaged in farm work, any form of domestic or personal service or any other employment.

Based on Experts' Report.

The board received these recommendations recently at a meeting where a report was made by a survey committee which had just completed the first vocational educational survey in the state. The survey was made in Richmond by experts and conditions found there were made the basis for the recommendations.

The committee was composed of Prof. R. J. Leonard, professor of vocational education at Indiana university; Dr. W. F. Book, state director of vocationa education; C. A. Winslow, special agent of the state board; John Lapp, director of the bureau of legislative information; Miss Cleo Murtland, secretary of the women's work. National Society for Industrial Education of New York city; Dr. F. G. Bonser, professor of industrial education at Columbia university in New York, and J. T. Giles, superintendent of Richmond schools. Thirty-eight persons were employed in making the survey.

The committee said the limitations of the present vocational education law were shown in conditions found in Richmond. Seventy-six boys and sixty-nine girls were found to be working only through the grace of owning a working permit and only one boy and two girls were found to be of foreign birth. The committee says these youths stand slight chance of success in the modern competitive order.

Economic Necessity.

According to the investigators most of the children stopped school because of economic necessities. Forty-two boys and thirty-one girls gave this as their reason; nineteen boys and fifteen girls wanted to work; three boys said their fathers were dead; seven boys and sixteen girls said they had various reasons for stopping; only eight boys and five girls said they did not like school.

In thirty-three instances where children were sent to work, the committee found the father was a skilled mechanic and because of this surprise is expressed because they could not support their families without the assistance of the children. In fifty-three instances the father was a laborer.

The great majority of the children went into factory labor and the average wage of boys and girls was $4.30 a week. Boys received from $3 to $9 a week and girls from $3 to $7.

Aside from general recommendations to improve the law the committee suggested the adoption of a new course of study to meet the conditions applying particularly to improving working conditions in Richmond. Night school classes were found to be the solution of troubles in many instances.

WAR SEEMS ALMOST NORMAL CONDITION

Queer Influence Noted on Psychology of European Public.

Vienna, June 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The general state of belligerency in Europe has not only modified the material course of life, but has had such an influence on the psychology of the public that after two years, a state of war has become an almost normal condition, according to a woman contributor to a prominent newspaper.

The constant presence of the thought that war is the great condition of the day, and to win it the prime objective, has in the course of the past few years, given a secondary place to the interests of the masses, she said, so that now the loss of relatives on the battlefield is no longer associated with the self of a person but with the will of the aggregate to win. For this also sacrifices of a material nature are made, whose rendering no other cause or demand could hope to achieve.

While the war is not as yet looked upon exactly as a normal state in which a continent ought to find itself, there is a striking stoic indifference about it, in many respects. There is of course still a keen desire that peace may come soon, but coupled to it inseparably is a grim determination to show that the central power group cannot be effaced.

Fine weather and reassuring crop reports from all parts of the empire have served to heighten the impression here that all is well. Vienna and Budapest are close to their habitual tendency to look upon life as a thing to be enjoyed to the full, even if bread tickets and two meatless days per week must be taken into account. This has gone so far as to cause the resurrection of a ninety-year-old French opera, and permit a merry interest in the presenting to a favorite singer by an admirer of a parrot made of solid gold. The precious bird is life-size and was handed over the footlights.

For two years everybody has been preaching the gospel that one must die once anyway, and that a little sooner or later does not make a great difference. Association with this idea has been a blessing to many, and its reiteration has had its effect upon the psychology of the masses, so that today it is accepted as an obvious inevitability to meet death on the firing line. The condition in question is said by some to have strong similarity to the views held in the ancient world on human sacrifices when these were the practice and when its victims were drawn from the population when other sources failed.

FIXES TIME LIMIT FOR RELEASE OF TROOPERS

President Will Not Wait Beyond Tomorrow or Thursday at Latest if Carranza Refuses to Yield.

DECISIVE STEP BY WASHINGTON COMING SOON

Washington, June 27.—There were clear indications today that if American cavalrymen captured by Mexican troops at Carrizal were not released within 48 hours, action would be taken by the United States.

The impression prevailed in official circles that President Wilson would not wait beyond Thursday at the latest and possibly not beyond tomorrow afternoon for a definite reply from the Carranza government to the note demanding the immediate release of the prisoners and a declaration of intentions.

Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City reported in an over night message received early today that he had delivered the note to the Mexican foreign office yesterday morning. He did not indicate how it had been received or when a reply might be expected.

Discussed by Cabinet.

Discussion of the Mexican crisis occupied today's brief session of the cabinet. When it was over Secretary Lansing announced that there was no change in the situation; that the administration was awaiting word from Carranza.

Secretaries Baker and Daniels said no new army or navy orders had been given.

While the diplomatic aspects of the crisis awaited Carranza's action, the war department drove forward its efforts to hasten mobilization of the national guard on the border.

Must Back Up Regulars.

DR. JORDAN GETS THREATS BY MAIL

Interventionists Seek to Intimidate Peace Mission Members.

El Paso, Texas, June 27.—Dr. David Starr Jordan, who is here as a member of a Mexican peace mission, said today he had received a number of threatening letters from interventionists. But despite threats, he added, the peace conference will continue.

Two more members of the commission—Frank P. Walsh and Modesto Rollan, are expected to arrive late today. Dr. Jordan expressed the belief that William J. Bryan will not be among their numbers.

"We're not against intervention if intervention is necessary in the name of humanity," Dr. Jordan said, "but we do object to a soldier's row being made an excuse for it. We ought to intervene on broader grounds than mere revenge."

The cars are being taken over the state as a part of agricultural extension work. This work is in line with that being done over the entire country. The cars have made a tour of the state for the last three months, stopping a day at each place. The work is under the direction of the United States department of agriculture and the extension department of Purdue university. The exhibit is a large one and many chicken breeders, it is anticipated, will be in attendance.

New York, June 27.—How he served Herr Von Der Goltz, self-confessed conspirator as "secretary at $2 per day," was told today by Charles Tucker, in the trial of Hans Tauscher, former German army officer charged with complicity in the alleged plot to blow up the Welland Canal in September, 1914.

Tucker testified that he met Von Der Goltz accidentally in New York and that the latter engaged him to help "get Canada." GERMANS MAKE STRONG STAND

Von Linsingen's Men Hold Against Terrific Russian Attacks.

ALLIES SHOWING MARKED ACTIVITY

Numerous Battles Raging Along Franco-Belgian Front.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Teutonic stand against the Russians southeast of Kovel is being firmly maintained in defending this vital railway junction point that German continue to deliver heavy attacks. Berlin today reports a successful assault on the Russian lines southwest of Sokul where the Russians have made their nearest attack to Soul. The ground gained was held against all counter attacks.

The incessant heavy shelling of the German lines from the front in Belgium to a point south of the Somme by British and French artillery is continuing, giving color to a widely held belief that an allied offensive is in progress. There also has been marked reconnoitering activity along this front and numerous gas and smoke clouds have been let loose by the entente forces. Berlin denied that the French have reaped any advantage from these attacks.

Berlin, June 27.—(Via London, 4:55 p. m.)—Russian positions southwest of Sokul, in Volhynia, have been stormed by Gen. von Linsingen's troops and held against counter attacks, according to announcement made from the war office today. Several hundred Russians were taken prisoners.

Marked activity continues in evidence along the Franco-Belgian front held by the British and the northern wing of the French line. Numerous battles are being waged by the entente forces in the operations, the war office announced today. The artillery fire on the German lines was especially intense in the vicinity of Sommeme.

Concerted Attack by Entente Allies is Indicated.

London, June 27.—Today's dispatches give little indication of the general course of European war events within the past few hours along the France-

ON WATCH FOR HOSTILE SIGN

Funston and His Staff Keep Close Watch on Carranza's Army.

NO AGGRESSION IS AS YET APPARENT

American Units on Border Have Been Placed for Instant Action.

San Antonio, Tex., June 27.—Gen. Funston and his staff searched every report from all border stations today for signs of hostility on the part of Carranza's army that is pouring into northern Mexico, but the real work at department headquarters was the supervision of the multitudinous details incident to preparing the American force for efficient action.

Overnight and early morning reports from El Paso, Eagle Pass, Brownsville and other headquarters posts indicated no aggression by Mexicans.

For Instant Action.

Units of the American army have been stationed in such manner that almost instant action could be obtained by the commanding officer here. No relaxation of efforts to guard the border towns and ranches from bandits has been displayed, but far more attention has been

Arthur Cramer, a farmer living six miles out on the Lima road, was painfully hurt Monday evening when his team of horses, hitched to a wagon, became frightened and ran away, throwing him off. He was found some time later lying at the side of the road in a semi-conscious condition by some people passing in an automobile and was taken home. The team of horses continued on down the road at top neck speed and were not found until some time later. Cramer was painfully bruised about the head, but his injuries are not regarded as serious. He had been to Fort Wayne and was on his way home when the accident occurred.

QUIZ IS DELAYED AT REQUEST OF PREMIER

London, June 27.—3:27 p. m.—Questions regarding the progress of the Irish negotiations directed to Premier Asquith in the headquarters today, were postponed at his request.

One of the questions which had been intended to ask the premier today was whether the proposals did not represent the unanimous decision of the cabinet.

BACKYARDS ONCE MORE INSPECTED

Ladies Scoring Entries in Civic Health and Beauty Campaign.

Second inspection of Fort Wayne lawns and back yards began today in the contest to decide best kept places in the city's civic beauty and health campaign, the director of which is Mrs. Josephine L. Nesbitt. Fifty women of the city are doing the inspection work with Mrs. Nesbitt. These women met Monday afternoon at the Commercial club to discuss details of the plans of the work this week. The inspectors anticipate ability to complete their inspections this week. The third and final inspection will take place in August.

Showed the Contrasts.

At Monday's meeting Mrs. Nesbitt showed contrasts in Fort Wayne pictures taken before and after the clean-up campaign became effective. Mrs. Nesbitt gave an illustrated lecture Monday night at the corner of McClellan and Eliza streets. Tonight she will deliver a lecture at Broadway and Taylor. Lectures are also scheduled for later during the week. The lectures, parade, and pictures showing means of civic betterment have stimulated campaign workers to a material degree.

MANY MACHINISTS LEAVE FOR NEWPORT

Several Fort Wayne machinists, members of Friendship lodge, have gone to Newport, R. I., to accept employment at the navy torpedo station. One hundred machinists are wanted, according to the following letter that has been received at the local machinists' headquarters: "The torpedo station is in need of about one hundred machinists. If there are any men who desire employment and can fulfill the qualization all they will have to do will be to come up here and they will immediately be put to work. The filling out of the application blank under the civil service law will require only a few minutes and is no hindrance to any machinist desiring employment." The goverment pays from $3.75 to $4.48 a day for machinists, eight hours being considered a day.

New York, June 27.—Nearly 35,000 national guard troops from twelve states in the department of the east are under orders to start today for the Mexican border or are already on the way. Chicago, June 27.—Friends of John M. Parker, of Louisiana, nominee of the progressive party for vice president, urged him today to remain on the ticket. Bainbridge Colby, of New York, and other progressive leaders who are opposed to Charles E. Hughes for president, said that if Mr. Parker decides to stay in the race he should receive the votes of all loyal members of the bull moose party.

"I have not made up my mind what I will do," said Mr. Parker. "I am going home and think it over for a few weeks."

FORT WAYNE CLOSE TO 100,000 MARK

New Directory Gives the City's Population at 87,360.

Fort Wayne's population is dangerously near the 100,000 mark, according to the new city directory that will soon be ready for distribution. Mrs. Edith K. Andrews, the local representative of R. L. Polk & Co., estimates the population at 87,360. There are in the directory 43,680 names, which multiplied by two makes the population as stated above.

The following is reprinted from the foreward of the new directory:

"Perhaps in no other way is the progress or decline of the city more clearly shown than through the medium of the city directory. During periods of special prosperity, great numbers of people may be seen upon the streets, and the cry goes out, "How we are growing," but the next week when the excitment is over and the crowds decline then we look upon the matter with different eyes. One week business may be good, and the bank clearings out of the ordinary and again we cry, 'prosperity,' but with changing conditions business again changes and then we feel we are falling behind rather than advancing. But the city directory stands as a means of correct information concerning the city's growth and its corresponding prosperity from year to year."

Thomas J. Logan, deputy clerk of the United States court, was a business visitor in Hartford City Tuesday.

NOTED FORGER WINS HIS WAY TO FREEDOM

Peter Van Vlissingen Gets Release from Illinois Pardon Board.

Chicago, June 27.—Peter Van Vlissingen, who in November, 1915, confessed real estate mortgage forgeries amounting to $1,650,000, will be released from Joliet penitentiary on July 25.

The announcement was made by the state pardon board yesterday. Van Vlissingen has been in Joliet nearly eight years. He was sentenced to from one to fourteen years. Early in his term he applied for pardon, but his term was fixed at the maximum. Because of his exemplary behavior, however, seven months was taken from his maximum sentence, which, with the good time granted by the pardon board, was eight years and three years.

Says He Is Penniless.

Van Vlissingen says he will emerge from prison penniless and without prospects. His private fortune went to relieve his victims, among whom were numbered his nearest friends, all wealthy men and women. Mrs. Van Vlissingen, who sued for divorce in 1913, died last February. There was some mystery connected with her death, but it was finally declared due to angina pectoris. Mrs. Van Vlissingen at first obtained a decree, but this was fought by her husband on the ground that he had been cognizant, first as his secretary and later as his wife, of his misdeeds. The decree was set aside.

Theo J. Lefens and Conrad Seipp, who lost large sums through Van Vlissingen's forgeries, discovered his crimes. He confessed and was sent to Joliet the same day, being the quickest conviction of its kind ever obtained.

The forger at first worked in the prison shops and later became editor of the prison magazine. When the honor system was instituted he was sent with the road crews and his record was so good that his time was reduced.

Washington, June 27.—A very substantial growth in the manufacturing industry in Indiana is shown by the quinquennial census of manufacturers of the state, which has been made public by the census bureau. The comparison is for 1914 and 1909. Every item of the report except one shows an increase. The single exception was in the number of proprietors and firm members, which decreased from 7,671 in 1909 to 7,229 in 1914. During the same time, however, the average number of wage earners increased from 186,984 to 197,503, or 5.6 per cent.

The cost of materials used was $423,857,000 in 1914, as against $3334,375,000 in 1909, an increase of $89,482,000, or 26.8 per cent. The average cost of materials per establishment was approximately $53000 in 1914 and $42,000 in 1909.

The value of products was $730,795,000 in 1914 and $579,075,000 in 1909, the increase being $151,720,000, or 26.2 per cent. The average per establishment was approximately $91,000 in 1914 and $73,600 in 1909.

The salaries and wages amounted to $155,854,000 in 1914 and $121,816,000 in 1909, the increase being $34,038,000, or 27.9 per cent. Capital invested in Indiana manufacturing enterprises increased from $508,717,000 in 1909 to $568,863,000 in 1914, or 12.1 per cent.

The game was scheduled to start at 3 o'clock, and there was no time set for the finish. The lineups of the two teams are as follows:

Dr. Duemling's Apostles—Drs. C. G. Reall, B. Van Sweringen, E. C. Singer, D. M. Edlavitch, H. M. Senseny, E. N. Mendenall, M. B. Catlett, J. C. Wallace and D. R. Benninghoff. Plenty of substitutes were provided for both teams.

SURROUNDS THE RED CROSS WITH SECRECY

New York, June 27.—The war department has placed the movements of the Red Cross under the same cover of secrecy as those of regular army and the militia. Officials of the Red Cross throughout the country have been advised to be careful as to information they give out as the disposition of their forces would indicate the points where troops are to be sent.

The Red Cross began to enroll nurses three years ago for emergencies and now has 6,000 who are expected to respond if needed. It was arranged also to provide equipment and personnel for enough base hospitals to care for 400,000 men and to turn these over to the government in event of war.

FIERY DEBATE ON MILITIA DRAFT BILL

Guardsmen Measure Passes Senate After Heated Wrangle.

Washington, D. C., June 27. After one of the most stirring debates in a decade the senate last night passed the Hay resolution declaring the existence of an emergency in the relations of the United States and Mexico and authorizing the president to draft the national guard into the federal service for such use as he may care to put it to meet the situation.

Just prior to the passage of the resolution Senator Sherman, of Illinois, offered an amendment to the effect that, instead of an emergency, "a state of war exists between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico."

The offering of this amendment raised a commotion in the senate such as has not been seen in many years.

Wilson Men Accept Gage.

Administration leaders leaped from their seats to remonstrate with the Illinoisan and to urge him to withdraw his motion.

Republicans who had been insisting throughout the debate that a state of war existed became panic stricken when Senator Sherman put it squarely up to them to vote the way they talked.

After wrangling for nearly an hour the senate voted down the Sherman amendment without a roll call. Then it passed the emergency resolution with a provision instructing the secretary of war to accept the resignation of any national guardsmen who have families dependent on them for support and who wish to resign.

Bar Pay for Families.

Senators Lewis, of Illinois, Reed of Missouri, Hitchcock of Nebraska, and Smith of Georgia made an ineffectual effort to have the measure approved as it passed the house, providing pay of $50 a month for the dependent families of guardsmen. They were beaten, 30 to 45.

A motion of Senator Lewis to give the guardsmen a chance to resign or serve with pay for his family, as he chose, was defeated, 17 to 58.

The resolution, as amended by the senate, now goes back to the house, where it is said the leaders will insist upon the pay for the guardsmen feature which was beaten in the senate yesterday. A deadlock is likely to result, to break which President Wilson probably will be called upon for assistance.

Senator Sherman caught the senate leaders asleep when he offered his amendment to the effect that a state of war exists between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico.

"We are apt to delude ourselves with fine phrases," said the senator. "Emergency sounds more euphonious than war. But for my part I am tired of mere phrases. I favor a declaration of war."

Hungarian Authorities to Take No Chance on the Weather Man.

Budapest, (Via Berlin to London, June 27, 1:20 a. m.)—With memories of the 1915 weather fresh in mind and the freakish weather of the past three weeks as a warning that a record crop can easily be turned over night into a partial failure, the Hungarian agricultural authorities have decided upon unusual and radical measures to harvest the 1916 crops in the speediest possible manner.

The municipal local authorities throughout the country have been empowered to requisition for harvesting purposes the services of every man, woman and child at home, not serving in some indispensable way, at fixed wages. Prisoners of war working in non-military concerns also have been requisitioned for the harvesting, several thousand workmen have been imported from Russian Poland and all the troops in the interior who can be spared will be furloughed for the same purpose.

The ministry of agriculture has acquired all available harvesting machinery for distribution among the peasantry, and agricultural experts estimate that six weeks of sunshine, after the long rains, will result in the production of a record breaking crop in Hungary.

WOULD FREE PARTY POLITICS FROM RUM

Speaker Says Prohibition Will Soon Banish Traffic from Land.

Indianapolis, June 27.—The seventeenth annual convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America was formally opened here today with an address of welcome by E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Indiana, and response by the Rev. Robert L. Davis, superintendent of the league in North Carolina.

Mr. Davis pleaded for freedom in every political party from the influences of the liquor traffic. He said that prohibition would soon drive the liquor traffic out of America.

"The rumshops from Carolina to California from Maine to Mexico must die. This is the verdict of society, of business, of science and of the people and all of these are echoing the verdict of God, 'king alcohol, thou must die.'"

The college men's oratorical contest yesterday afternoon was won by De Loyd F. Wood, of the Ohio Wesleyan university and the second prize was awarded to Leon E. Carnell, of Syracuse university. Wood's subject was "The Challenge of the Century." Carnell spoke on "Individual Responsibility."

ROOSEVELT WILL DINE WITH HUGHES

Colonel Accepts Invitation to Break Bread With G. O. P. Nominee.

New York, June 27.—Theodore Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to dine with Charles E. Hughes at the republican presidential nominee's hotel here at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night, it was learned here today.

Only the candidate and the colonel, it was stated, will be present at this dinner, which will be held in Mr. Hughes apartment.

The appointment with Mr. Roosevelt brought about a change in Mr. Hughes immediate plans. Instead of returning to his temporary summer home at Bridge Hampton, N. Y., this afternoon the candidate will remain in New York until Thursday.

While Mr. Hughes was receiving callers today the national sub-committee which will direct the organization of the new national committee and its executive committee was meeting. The sub-committee had before it the selection of a national chairman which Mr. Hughes is known to have made. It is understood that William R. Willcox, former public commissioner was Hughes first choice. W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, chairman of the sub-committee, expected to consult Mr. Hughes later in the day.

On behalf of the republican club of California, Mr. Henning invited Mr. Hughes to visit San Diego during the campaign. The candidate said he was anxious to visit the Pacific coast and the two discussed a suggestion that the presidential speech-making tour be put under way in cities in California, Oregon and Washington early in September, Mr. Hughes later making addresses in the middle west and the east. Mr. Hughes took this plan under advisement.

a substantial number of state troops is available to back up Gen. Funston's regulars, who unquestionably would lead any movement.

President Wilson's first step, should he decide to force the issue, probably would be to lay the whole situation before congress in joint session. It is believed he so informed committees of both houses in his conference with them Sunday night.

Specific authority, under which the national guard could be employed beyond the border and also authorization for calling out volunteers would be needed.

It is regarded as certain also that any resolution presented for action would include a reaffirmation of the position of the administration that is being forced into military action for the defense of its own territory from outlaws, and has no purpose of territorial aggrandizement.

Expect a Surrender.

Mexican officials here have expressed the opinion that General Carranza would surrender the American prisoners whatever reply he might make to the demand for a formal diplomatic expression of his purposes. The state department has had no official report tending to confirm this view.

Every day's delay in what seems the inevitable break in relations with the Mexican government sees the army in better position for the first swift action that may follow. This has influenced against pressing matters to an immediate issue. Had the border forces been sufficient to release the regulars for aggressive operations it is thought probable a time limit would have been included in Secretary Lansing's note demanding release of the prisoners.

Trains Sweeping Southward.

Advices from General Funston's headquarters indicate that trains loaded with state troops are sweeping southward today from many parts of the country. Additional regiments are entraining or receiving the last necessary equipment. At the war department and in congress hurried measures are being taken to provide supplies promptly for the army ordered to the border.

A definite statement of the number of guardsmen en route to the border was not available. Secretary Baker's order directing that movements of these troops be arranged between General Funston and the officers commanding the various army departments cut out the red tape and delay incident to centralization of all this work in Washington.

Another task aided by delay in an outbreak of general hostilities is that of getting American residents out of Mexico. The number there has been reduced to less than a thousand.

paid to marshalling the thousands of men along the border.

The units of the national guard now moving throughout the United States are expected to begin arriving in Texas tonight. Where they will be stationed will not be made public here and in most cases those commanding the guardsmen have not been informed of their final destinations.

See Some Impatience.

Some impatience was displayed at Gen. Funston's headquarters today that so much publicity already had been given to the movements of troops and it was indicated as practically certain that a censorship that would be far reaching in its operation soon would be instituted.

The activity of Mexican troops at Naco last night was explained today. Information had reached headquarters here that the Mexicans had planned to sweep across the line to Bisbee and there raid the office and storehouse of the copper smelting concerns. The Twenty-second infantry was rushed from Douglas to Bisbee last night.

FILIBUSTER IS HALTED.

Soldiers Bar Plan to Retaliate Upon Mexicans.

Nogales, Ariz., June 27.—A heavily armed filibustering expedition organized to cross the line at Sasabe and bring back an automobile seized by the Mexican authorities, was broken up here last night by the military authorities. Eighteen men, all carrying revolvers or automatic pistols, and most of them rifles or shotguns, were quietly leaving town in six automobiles when a squad of infantry barred the road.

he brought to her on February 9, the day of her death.

"I bought the bottle, of six-ounce size, of Otto Peterson and filled it two-thirds full in my room," he said. He testified yesterday that Marion when he met her in Helm's wood refused to accept it, saying "that will not do me any good."

Orpet was in better voice than yesterday. He talked with more assurance and more connectedly.

"Why did you tell State's Attorney Dady that you were at Madison on February 9th?" asked Mr. Potter.

Every Ear Strained.

Every ear was strained as Attorney Potter asked:

"What were your relations with C. Youker?"

"There was a tacit understanding between us. I had known her six years."

"Did she return your affections?"

"Yes."

"You were engaged?"

"No, there was an understanding. No date was set for marriage, I had not ever formally asked her to marry me."

"Did you tell Mr. Dady or any one else that you saw Marion take poison?"

"No."

The Cross-Examination.

Interrogation for the state was by Attorney David R. Joslyn, who is assiting State' Attorney Dady. He asked about an automobile ride which Marion and Orpet took last September.

It was on this trip that the relations between the young pair passed the bounds of morality, the witness admitted.

"You stopped and went into the woods?" asked Mr. Joslyn.

"Yes."

"What did you say to Marion?"

"I can't remember."

"Well, make a guess."

"I can't guess, as that would be independent of any real memory."

"You were desperately in love with her, weren't you?"

"Not then, that came later."

"You can't remember independently of the letters, how your love developed?"

"No, sir."

Mr. Joslyn called attention to a letter which the defendant wrote to Marion last September in which Orpet spoke of "this kind of weather makes me think of tussing." "What do you mean by 'fussing'?"

"It means paying attention to a girl," explained Orpet.

Women Hang Their Heads.

For a half hour questions and answers were of a nature that women hung their heads and the men were plainly uncomfortable, but Mr. Joslyn's insistent voice went on relentlessly. The young witness faced by his father and mother, turned his head as he replied. There was a sigh of relief as "exhibit one"—a letter from Orpet to Marion, was called to the witness' attention.

Mr. Joslyn asked about Orpet's return from the university in June a year ago and having called on Marion.

"Her parents were there always but some times I stayed after they had gone to bed," said Orpet.

"Nothing occurred at that time which the parents might not have seen?" asked Attorney Joslyn.

"No, sir."

Orpet said he had only one year of chemistry in his studies at the University of Wisconsin.

"And you knew pretty much about potassium cyanide?"

"If I ever studied about cyanide I have forgotten it," answered the witness.

"Weren't you considered quite an expert?"

"No, sir."

"Not by Celestia Youker?"

"No, sir."

Miss Youker it appeared was an excellent student of chemistry, but when Orpet was called upon to discuss the subject with her, had to refer to his text book on the subject, he said.

NATIONAL GUARD IS MOVING SOUTHWARD

and Vermont was ready with 1,200 men. New Jersey had one infantry regiment ready to start and expected to send other units later. The Massachusetts and New Jersey troops are bound for El Paso. The Vermont guardsmen are ordered to Eagle Pass, Texas. Those of Connecticut to Nogales, Ariz.

THREE REGIMENTS STARTED.

Framingham, Mass., June 27.—Actual movement of the brigade of Massachusetts militia toward El Paso, Tex., begun late last night, was continued through the early hours today and by 6 a. m. three regiments of infantry had started on their long journey. These were the Ninth, Second and Fifth. Later trains were prepared for the Eighth regiment, field hospital, ambulance company, signal corps, one squadron of cavalry and one battery of field artillery.

Camp Whitney was turned over today to the recruits.

NOT BEFORE THURSDAY.

Michigan Guardsmen Delayed in the Start Southward.

Camp Ferris, Grayling, Mich., June 27—The first contingent of Michigan national guardsmen to leave for the border will not be able to depart from Grayling until Thursday at the earliest, it was announced today. Surgeons were still busy making physical examinations and army officers had a mass of routine work to complete before the Thirty-first regiment—which is to be the first to depart—could be mustered in.

Belgian front, where the British artillery has been notably active for two or three days. The latest reports from both Berlin and the front, however, lend color to the somewhat prevalent belief that the long threatened concerted attack by the entente allies on the various fronts is in preparation, if not in actual process of execution.

At Verdun the situation has not materially changed over night. Paris reports further progress for the French in regaining ground in the region of the Thiaumont work north of Citadel. Rather spirited fighting also has been in progress in the region of Fleury, with no alterations in position.

Operations by Teutonic submarines are being continued in the Mediterranean, where the British steamer Cardiff and French steamer Foulnet have been sunk.

Constantinople reports successes in Turkish Armenia, where the Russians in some sectors north of the river Tchoruk are said to be retreating toward the Black sea coast after a defeat at the hands of the Turks.

FRENCH RETAKE TRENCHES.

Struggle for Possession of Fleury Village Still in Progress.

Paris, June 27.—(11:23 a. m.)—The French have recaptured another section of the trenches at Thiaumont, in the Verdun sector, according to an official statement issued by the war office today. The struggle for the possession of the village of Fleury is still progressing.

Three allied aeroplanes dropped 65 shells on German ships near the Belgian coast.

ITALIANS MAKE GAINS.

Rome, June 27.—(Via London, 6:43 p. m.)—Following up their recent successes on the Trentino front, the Italians have driven back the Austrians still further, the war office announced today. The Italians have captured Posina and Arsiero.

Guy Colerick, city attorney, and C. B. Tolan, city sealer, have gone to Rome City, where they will spend a week's vacation.

He was born in Jay county about thirty-one years ago and has always lived here, being employed on the Lester Pesinger farm at the time of his death. He is survived by his father, John L. HOW TO BE SLIM

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughed at on account of your fat, but go to any good druggist and get a box of Oil of Korein capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 27.—Churches should advertise and should have a service worth advertising, Rev. William E. Barton, editor of a church paper and pastor of the First Congregational church of Oak Park, Ill., said in an address before the convention of the Associted Advertising Clubs of the World, here today. He said:

"I believe in advertising church services, but I wish it understood in advance that I believe first of all in having something to advertise, and that the thing advertised should not be meretricious, or cheap, or theatrical, but fundamentally and invariably the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

"But there is no reason why the gospel should be either preached or advertised in a dull or uninteresting fashion. Jesus was an interesting preacher. He knew how to get the attention of the crowd and how to keep it. He did not always preach alike. He changed His style of preaching at least four times and always for a reason. He did not depend upon His miracles to bring in the crowds; indeed, He deprecated the gathering of multitudes after that fashion. But He got the people and they heard Him gladly.

"Every church should consider thoughtfully what are its best and cheapest and most productive forms of advertising. I am satisfied that a good many churches do not utilize to the full the available resources of this character. I place well to the front among advertising agencies the local press. A minister ought to go to the editor of the local paper, or papers, large or small, and say frankly, 'I want to help you in every way I can and I want you to help me. I want to give you all the news features you care for in connection with our church work and to report them in a style which you will find interesting to your readers, and I want to know what features of our work you are willing to announce and to report.'

"I am prepared to be told that ministers ought not to seek newspaper notoriety, and I agree heartily with that statement; but ministers ought to seek to let their lights shine before men that they may see their good works and glorify their Father who is in heaven. So the first rule which I have learned to follow with regard to advertising the church itself is to make the largest possible use of the local press. I will fill just as many inches a week as the local papers will give me in announcing the services of my own church; and in reporting events of interest that have occurred there, and I will try to do it so well and have my copy in so early as to insure a good position and a favorable reading.

GOVERNOR SELECTS HERRON TO COMMAND

Indianapolis, June 27.—Capt. Charles D. Herron, U. S. A., adjutant of the Tenth regular infantry now stationed in the Panama canal zone, has been selected by Goveror Ralston to command the Indiana national guard with the rank of brigadier general, subject to the approval of the war department. The war department is expected to take favorable action at once on the recommendation made yesterday by the governor. If the approval is given Capt. Herron immediately on his arrival will assume command of the Indiana brigade, whether it is at Camp Raleton at Fort Benjamin Harrison or on patrol duty on the Mexican border.

As brigadier general, Capt. Herron, if his selection is approved, will be in supreme command of the national guard, wherever it may be. He will be at the head of the three regiments to be given over to the federal government by the state of Indiana, and the three colonels in command of the separate detachments of the brigade will be subject to his orders at all times. It will be the first time in the military history of the state that the militia has been under one head with the rank of brigadier general.

Capt. Herron is a son of William P. Herron, of Crawfordsville, where he was born and reared. He is a graduate of Wabash college. He formerly was instructor for the Indiana national guard, and later was transferred to the Twenty-third regiment, then stationed at Fort Harrison.

WOMAN SWALLOWS POISON.

Mrs. S. C. Spence, of Anderson, Ends Life After Quarrel.

Anderson, Ind., June 27.—Mrs. Samuel C. Spence, 31, committed suicide by swallowing poison at her home here last night after differences with her husband, a laborer, who had taken their three children and gone to the home of a relative.

Aurora, Ill., June 23.—Miss Bessie Amell, 20, a nurse, was never stingy about smiles. Today she need not be stingy about anything. Her smiles have won a fortune for her.

Miss Amell was in professional training in Ravenswood hospital in Chicago. Mrs. W. S. Blake, of Los Angeles, was one of her patients. Mrs. Blake was old and alone in the world. The only sunshine that brightened her life was the smile of nurse Amell.

On recovery Mrs. Blake returned to Los Angeles. Her death just occurred in Portland, Ore., and Miss Amell has been notified she is sole beneficiary to a fortune of $500,000. Mrs. Blake had no other heirs.

"I don't know what I will do with the money," says Miss Amell. "I can hardly realize that Mrs. Blake has left me so much. I did so little for her."

DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

I Thessalonians 2:1-12.

1. For yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

2. But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Phillippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.

3. For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleaness, nor in guile:

4. But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5. For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; God is witness:

6. Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.

7. But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:

8. So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.

10. Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:

11. As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,

12. That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

The End of the Progressive Party.

The action of the progressive national committee at Chicago Monday, when it voted 32 to 6 to follow the advice of Colonel Roosevelt and give endorsement to the candidacy of Mr. Hughes, the republican presidential nominee, marked the finish of the progressive party as a national entity. It is dead beyond resurrection, and those who have tears to shed may as well proceed to shed them. It does not by any means follow that the rank and file of progressive party voters have been delivered, body, soul and breeches, to the republican party. That was made very plain by the course of committeemen from six of the states which voted disapproval of the Roosevelt program, and by those from nine other states who refused to vote at all. Still more emphasis was given it by the declaration of Raymond Robins, chairman of the recent progressive convention, and by others in the company of bull moose leaders that they will probably support President Wilson.

We may fully expect to find the widest divergence of views regarding the amazing letter of Colonel Roosevelt in which he administers the death blow to the political organization which he nurtured into being four years ago. Mr. Hughes and his friends are going to see it in a manifestation of the loftiest patriotism and the most conspicuous example of self-sacrifice in the history of American politics. The remainder of the country will scarcely subscribe to any such appraisement. The outstanding phase of the colonel's pronouncement is his malignant attitude toward President Wilson. He goes to the length of making all else subservient to his purpose to accomplish Mr. Wilson's defeat. His labored defense of his own course and has studied effort to rally behind him in the new tack he has taken the thousands of sincere voters who followed his leadership four years ago amounts to ruthless audacity. He was the self-proclaimed leader of a cause that, at least by his own estimate, was of supreme importance to this country's well being, and he fought for it vigorously. Without important change in the alignment of his opponents since that time, Colonel Roosevelt now casts that cause into the ditch, and puts the duty of the hour on an anything-to-beat-Wilson basis. We do not believe the real, purposeful progressives will accept the new-made faith he has proclaimed for them. If they had a cause at all, that cause is still a live one, despite the fact that Colonel Roosevelt has put to death the organized expression of its ideal.

A very real duty devolves upon those who remain at home no less than upon those who respond to the call for service upon the Mexican border. That duty is to make certain that the dependent families of the soldiers do not suffer for necessities during the absence of the bread-winners. Several Indiana cities have already taken up this matter in splendid fashion. Unless there shall be speedy termination of the trouble on the border their example should be followed by every Indiana locality that has contributed men to the service.

Under the ruling of the high court the Corn Products company and its affiliated corporations will be compelled to dissolve, and details for the unscrambling are now being arranged. Even the Corn Products company will be disposed to forgive and to forget, however, if the net result is increased profits as was the case in Mr. Rockefeller's benevolent oil enterprises.

If it's all the same to Mr. Bandit Villa, we prefer to apply in advance the discount to the new rumor that our one-time friend has been shot and severely wounded by one of his own men. Senor Villa has been dead and wounded so often that confidence in this sort of thing is beginning to wabble perceptibly.

Somehow we fancy those Tenth ward citizens mean business in their efforts to secure a new fire department station in that locality and an improvement of the water system thereabouts. They very clearly know what they want and are going to it to get it because they're going after it.

With the democrats, the republicans and the prohibitionists extending the glad hand of effusive welcome to the uncertain progressive, that interesting but puzzled political orphan can at least be assured that if worst comes to worst, he has some place to go.

The new city directory will say that Fort Wayne now has a population of 87,360, a handsome gain during the past year. The city directory, too, has always been conservative in its estimates. You can safely assume that it is so in the present instance.

Now they are accusing the special prosecutor who has been pushing the prosecuting of the graft cases at Muncie. Well, since it's wash day down at Muncie, that town might as well send all her linen to the laundry while she's about it.

And when the history of the present Mexican trouble is finally written, it must doff its hat to the splendid valor and courage of those colored troopers who fought at Carrizal.

The Assassination of the Progressive Party, Aged 4

Who Killed It? History Will Say, and in Saying Will Cover Some Great Names With Shame, Declares Herbert Quick.

(The second of four articles in which Herbert Quick, who knows politics from A to Z, tells the real inside story of the death of the progressive party, born four years ago and just laid to rest.—Editor.)

By Herbert Quick.

"Beautiful Evelyn Hope is dead"—and so is the progressive party, the beautiful Evelyn Hope of American history.

It was scarcely out of its swaddling clothes, and it lies here on its little white cot, with some devoted souls standing by, still insisting that it lives—but the sounds which issue from its lips are not breathing. They are the death rattle in its throat.

Who killed it? History will say, and in saying will cover some great names with eternal shame.

As my influencing contribution to the verdict of history, let me tell of what took place at the Maple Bluff farm, the home of Senator Bob LaFollette, at Madison, Wis., some five or six years ago.

Then there was no progressive party, but a powerful progressive movement in the republican party, which commanded the sympathy and aid of many progressive democrats. The movement was strongest in the middle west, and on the Pacific coast, but it was not without its witnesses for the truth in every state in the union.

LaFollette had spent a decade putting Wisconsin at the head of the movement by his sturdy radicalism, and his sane, sound, democratic program of legislation. He had already accomplished so much that his Wisconsin achievements alone will give him place among the greatest of American statesmen.

Dolliver, who had so long trod with Aldrich and his group the downward road of political iniquity, had felt his great soul in revolt, and in a three days' onslaught in the senate had driven the big burglars before him cowed and trembling. Insurgency everywhere was setting the Aldriches, Cannons, Ballingers, Tafts, Hitchcocks, Penroses, Cranes, Butlers, Lippitts, Smoots and their ilk into tremors of fear and rage.

It was a great, an inspiring time. It looked as if the republican party would soon be captured by the insurgents and returned to the democracy of Lincoln.

When did Roosevelt return from Africa? I can date the occurrence by that. By reference to the books I find he reached the United States in June, 1910. That being the case, some of the things mentioned above had not yet taken place; but let it go. They were all foreshadowed by what had occurred; they were all already conceived in the womb of Time.

At LaFollette's home, which had become a sort of shrine to which the insurgents went for inspiration, there was about the usual Sunday group on that sunny May Sunday in 1910.

Talk ran on Roosevelt, then surrounded with newspaper men on his homeward trip from Africa, all eager to know what he was going to do politically. Our company wondered about this, too. Would he take sides with righteousness? Would he support the horrible, clumsy, senseless, sordid, plutocratic Taft administration for which he was so solely responsible? Surely not! Oh, if he were only here now! He would be a tower of strength for that decency and righteousness of which he was always talking. He was so needed that even as the hart panteth for the waterbrooks, so panted the hearts of most of those present for the return of Roosevelt.

LaFollette listened to these generous rhapsodies, saying nothing, until the question as to his views on the return of the colonel was plumped directly at him.

"I think," said he, "that every true friend of the progressive movement ought to wish that Col. Roosevelt might stay just where he is—in Africa!"

There were gasps of astonishment.

"When Roosevelt returns," Fighting Bob went on, "the FIRST GREAT PERIL OF OUR MOVEMENT will be upon it. He will either fight us, or he will thrust himself in as the creator and leader of the movement which for seven years as president he tried to hamstring by the power of his great office.

"We are a happy family of fighters. He will introduce disunion among us. He will smear over and obscure the issues. HE WILL MAKE PRINCIPLES HAZY AND EXALT PERSONALITIES! He is not a progressive, except with his tongue, and never was.

"He talks for progressivism, but he has put on guard against us who were making the fight in the states, his judges, his district attorneys, his postmasters and United States officials generally over whose portraits forms we have had to march to every victory we have won in the past nine years.

"He has tried to strangle AT ITS BIRTH every progressive movement which he could not control. Why does he want to control them? Has he any sinister motive? I will not say, but in all history there is no instance of a similar policy except for sinister motives.

"However that may be, the best thing we can hope for is that when he returns he will fight us openly; for if he associates himself with us openly or covertly he will either rule us or ruin us—and if he rules us he will surely ruin us."

I cannot tell this story, even sketchily today. I will go on with it tomorrow?

(Toledo Blade.)

For much of the feeling against automobilists, more pronounced a few years ago than now, the manufacturers of automobile horns may be held responsible.

They have made horns which said "Get out of the road!" though drivers merely wanted to say "Look Out!" Their contrivances demanded the right of way. What the motorists desired to say was "Please let me by," or "Move over a little bit," or "If it isn't too much trouble for you, I'd like to pass you." The tones are imperious. Most of them are lacking in common politeness. What the inventors should have striven for is not something to make a pedestrian jump, but something that will make him glad to be warned. The exercise of a little ingenuity might have caused dogs to wag their tails when they were saluted. Instead, most dogs when they hear an automobile horn either run howling away or else turn as if they would devour the whole blessed machine if they could.

The field is still open. Designers of horns can make the world a good deal happier as more certainly they can make it more courteous, if they muzzle the harshness of their instruments. Few motorists enjoy seeming boors. As it is, that cannot be helped. They are compelled to take such horns as are in the market, and good mannered horns are not now to be had. What man will seize the opportunity and brighten the streets and highways with amiable, well-behaved, honey-tongued sounds?

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL?

THE GRASSHOPPER

Here is the grasshopper, as light in the knob as the interior of a toy balloon.

Shhh! not so loud! It's doing one of those classic barefoot dances. Only the

Haw! Haw! aren't you glad you're a low-brow or one of the masses and get enjoyment watching a Chas. Chaplin film? (So are we!)

This dancing on a lawn in bare feet is supposed to be classic, and artistic, but imagine one of the dames that do it scrubbing a floor in her bare feet when somebody walked into the room.

TYPE OF WOMAN SOLDIER IN MEXICO.

Women and girls are always with the Mexican armies, not only as camp followers, but as "soldaderas"—female soldiers. They can shoot with the best of them, and many are expert riders.

There was a soldadera in Villa's band, who fled one morning when United States troopers surprised a band of the chieftain's men. They declined to shoot when they recognized the fleeing figure on a horse as a woman.

Revolutions of the past five years trained practically all the younger women in northern Mexico in the use of arms. Their presence in the battle line will complicate the duties of United States troops sent to clean up the country.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

AMERICAN AIRMEN BREAKING RECORDS

Daring Aviators in French Army Training School Prove Fearless.

Paris, June 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Robert Rockwell, of Philadelphia, and Paul Pavelka, of Madison, Conn., have broken two records in their preparatory training at the military flying school at Buc, according to information given out at the headquarters of the Franco-American flying corps.

Rockwell completed his trial flights required before incorporation in the corps in 25 hours and was publicly congratulated by the officer commanding the school. Pavelka, who, previous to enlisting in the flying corps, served fourteen months in the trenches with the foreign legion, established a record in pistol shooting while in the air. He placed twelve bullets out of twelve shots in the head of a moving silhouette, representing the body of a man, at a distance of 100 yards. His work with the machine gun is said to be fully equal to his precision with a revolver. Pavelka now has his license for the most recent addition to French aviation, the new fast Nieuport biplanes, as well as all the other machines in the service.

Willis Havilland, of Chicago, and Frederick Prince, of Boston, have also finished their preliminary training at Buc, and have gone to Pau to familiarize themselves with the newest machines before going to the front. Pavelka is completing his preparation at the Aerial Artillery school at Cazeau. Robert Soubrian, of New York, whose preparation was delayed by illness, will soon undertake his official trials and then join the corps.

MINISTER SERVES ON JURY.

Waives Right to Exemption in Suit Over Payment of Insurance.

Indianapolis, June 27.—Although a minister is exempt from jury service, the Rev. Daniel M. Horner, a Lutheran clergyman living near Broad Ripple, did not care to exercise his right, and today sat on a jury in a trial in the superior court, room 5, in a suit between a stepmother and a stepdaughter. Mrs. Sarah E. Howard, widow of George R. Howard, formerly a guard at the Monument, and Mrs. Mary Alice Beckman, Howard's daughter by a former marriage, both seek an interest in $1,000 insurance money paid into court. The widow contends that she and Howard made a contract by which she was to get the insurance money in return for a loan.

When you buy an article for $50.00 and agree to pay for it within six months' time, the terms of payment are just as much a part of the contract as is the price. You have no more right to break your part of the contract than the merchant has to break his, and the merchant who should attempt to charge you $55.00 for what he sold you for $50.00 would only be doing just what you are doing when you buy on six months and let your account run a year. Think it over. Foster's.

Muncie Finds Number of Flies Greatly Reduced by Spring Campaign.

Muncie, Ind., June 27.—Muncie is more nearly a flyless city now than ever before at this season of the year, and conditions are ascribed largely to the cleanup campaign in the spring. Conditions that were nearly as good existed last year until August and even then the flies were comparatively few in number. It has been the ambition of the health and school authorities in the last few years to exterminated the fly. Thousands of fly "swatters" were distributed among the schools and cash prizes were awarded to the children bringing in the most dead flies.

But Run Into Each Other in Little Italian Hamlet.

Headquarters of the Italian Army, June 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Zagora, which is a little mountain hamlet that was buried in oblivion before the war, is famous today as the only point on the Austro-Italian front, and perhaps on any army front, where enemy trench lines actually run into each other. For 400 miles on this front the Austrian and Italian trenches run parallel, being often as close as thirty to fifty yards, but at Zagora they slide into each other and then slide away again, uphill and down dale, following the general trend of the Isonzo river which empties into the Adriatic sea far above Venice.

The situation at Zagora illustrated the difficult and curious character of the warfare on this front, where there are probably not anywhere opposing lines of trenches crossing so much as a single acre of flat land, for there is no flat land except on a rare mountain top.

"You must see Zagora, they're always fighting there, playing little tricks on each other," said a division staff officer to a correspondent of the Associated Press. He then took down a photographic map and showed two lines of trenches running for miles along the mountain sides. "The upper is the Austrians, and the lower is ours," he explained. "Note that at Zagora the two lines run together."

It was decided that the best time to see Zagora was in the early morning when the actual firing was desultory. Many miles of walking before daybreak over a pontoon bridge spanning the Isonzo river, and up a mountain side protected from artillery shells by tunnels, brought the party to the headquarters of the officer in command of the hill forces. The commander conducted his visitors still further up the mountain towards Zagora, already visible as a heap of ruins of what once had been the peaceful homes of peasants. The visitors went up at an angle of sixty degrees, in the shelter of old trenches that once had been front trenches. At every turn were visible little plots of wooden crosses where Italian or Austrian soldiers had fallen during the terrific fighting carried on by the Italians to gain their way up the face of the mountain.

"It has been like a sword duel between us all the time," said the commander, "with little artillery fire because either side using guns would in view of the closeness of the opposing trenches kill both friends and enemy."

"It's wonderful the way the soldiers have kept up their spirits here," he went on. "For a whole month last fall, when the mountain was a mass of wet rock and mud, when it was possible to get food up only by night, when the men could not be relieved, when to strike a light meant death from a sniper, when our trenches were but hastily constructed piles of stone felt by the Austrians as we pushed them foot by foot towards the mountain top, the men held on with amazing cheerfulness. Not even the wounded complained. The death struggle developed the best qualities of our men. Even the socialists among them whose principles do not include fighting, became some of my best soldiers."

As the visitors came full upon the shattered blackened stone walls of the hamlet of Zagora, the commander advised: "Stoop low, now, and run quietly. When you reach our front line, don't talk, don't even whisper. The Austrians will hear you and begin an attack, thinking we ourselves are about to start one."

The party halted near the walls of what once had been a huge country kitchen, built under the lower side of a house, facing toward the mountain top. Within stood men against the wall with rifles in their hands peeping out little apertures. On the other side of this wall, not two feet away, stood silent enemy watchers, always ready to fire. The place might have been a tomb, so silent were its occupants. The only sound came from the floor where men were sleeping with their faces covered with blankets to deaden their snores.

This place of Zagora, with its silence fraught with expectant danger, was more impressive than any open field filled with the shriek of bursting shells. The party crept from this silent corner through dark tunnelled ways and zigzagged about other ruined foundation walls, where other soldiers stood, and on, down a line, until the Austrian trenches could be seen through a maze of barbed wire defenses.

An officer pointed to the barbed wire and said: "We are on such intimate relations with the Austrians that we and they use the same barbed wire protection. There isn't room to plant any more and their wires prevent them from getting at us, as well as keeping us from getting at them." Then, with a dulled expression, he pointed to the bodies of soldiers lying in the open space, caught in the wires, fruit of attacks and counter-attacks. "The Austrians won't let us pick up the dead, so there they lay," he explained. "They play the mitrailleuse there until they die. Sometimes it takes a long time. This morning a man died who had been there for three days with a fractured leg. At least he doesn't move any more, so he must be dead."

How to Get Rid of a Cold.

Summer colds are serious. Read how C. E. Summers, Holdredge, Neb., got rid of his: "I contracted a severe cough and cold and could hardly sleep. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and the very first dose relieved me. I took a second dose before going to bed and can truthfully say I did not cough all night. By using as directed the next two days my cough was entirely cured and I give Foley's Honey and Tar full credit for my speedy recovery." Foley's always soothes and heals. Children love it. The charms of the Country club were enjoyed by one hundred and fifty ladies this afternoon, who were guests at an auction bridge party given by Mrs. Arthur E. Smith and Mrs. B. Paul Mossman. The porches and living room were decorated with many jardinieres of Canterbury bells and daisies, the colors of pink and white being the favorite and the contrast between the flowers and the gay colors of the costumes and hats against the green of foliage and lawns around the club house was very beautiful. A luncheon after the game was enjoyed equally with the visiting of those who sewed instead of playing and the contestors in the games. Assisting ladies were Mrs. George Jacobs, Mrs. B. J. Griswold, Mrs. John Vesey and the Misses Chapin. Visiting guests from away included Mrs. Emory J. Wilson, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Hesser, of Davenport, Iowa, and Mrs. Ralph Pidgeon, of Los Angeles.

MERMAID SUIT GAY AS PORCH AWNING.

By Betty Brown.

The Bathing Girl is ready for the high dive into the whirl of fun and frolic. Her bathing suit is not as the bathing suits of half dozen years ago—"a simple thing, good enough to swim in." One dresses for the beach as gayly and smartly this summer as for tea-dance or matinee.

Here is a pussy willow taffeta suit with blue and white stripes, and many of the beach suits are as gayly striped as porch awning. The waist is made surplice fashion with a very wide girdle finished in front with a navy blue lapel. The belt is also blue.

The silk "troudies" are fastened to the elastic belt of the skirt. Three elastic bands shirred in at the knees keep silk hosiery in place no matter how gayly a mermaid may disport in the water.

The beach hat is becoming—but whatever will her curls do? She'll probably wear a rubberized handkerchief under her hat. It's navy blue silk with shirred crown.

Miss Mellie Greunsfelder has returned from a week's visit in Logansport, where she attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Bertha Greensfelder, to Fred Goodman, on June 22. Rabbi Meyer Messing, of Indianapolis, officiated at the wedding. The bride is well acquainted in this city.

The following people motored to Hamilton lake for dinner Sunday: Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Kruse, Dr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Thimlar, and Misses Ignota White, Marie Travis, Lucile Vail and Merrydel Waterfield and Messrs. James Peddicord, Al Fruite, Dr. E. C. Singer and Dr. H. M. Senseny.

A week-end house party at Tippecanoe lake was composed of Mrs. Sarah Vesey, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Vesey, Misses Margaret and Catherine Vesey, Clara Poole, Constance Underhill, Dorothy Wilding, Helen Niblick, of Decatur and Joseph Underhill. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Offutt joined the party on Sunday.

The Bay View study club has closed its year's program of work and elected to serve as officers, Mrs. J. P. Martin, president, Mrs. W. C. Geake, vice president; Mrs. C. W. Honeck, secretary; Mrs. A. E. Kickley, treasurer; chairman of program committee, Mrs. Willard Smith. The club held a picnic with their families at Swinney park last Thursday.

Mrs. Jerry Strayer and children, Betty and Billy, are to leave Thursday, for their home in Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Strayer has been with her mother, Mrs. Mason Long, for three months and the little boy was born here during the time. Mrs. Strayer will be accompanied west by Miss Ella Jones, to California, and by her sister, Mrs. Chester Schiefer, as far as Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lose spent the week-end in Indianapolis, visiting their son, Ralph, who is in camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Mr. and Mrs. Lose were much impressed with the view they had of the camp where thirty-five thousand men looked like a hundred thousand to them, and found the Fort Wayne boys in good health and spirits, who enjoyed a picnic supper as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lose.

Two small companies were given on Monday afternoon and evening in honor of Miss Pearl Nelson, of James street, who announced that she is to wed H. K. Chambers on August 2. Miss Helen Norton and Mrs. L. C. Nelson entertained the A. R. girls in the evening and Miss Nelson gave the afternoon party at her home. Miss Nelson has been a teacher in the James H. Smart school for several years.

Miss Kay Spencer entertained forty people on Monday evening at her studio as a result of the combined efforts of herself and pupils in presenting a benefit recital at Elks' hall for the Y. M. C. A. fund. As this money was turned over to the general fund through Mrs. M. S. Willson, one of the chairmen, and as the Vazenois brothers offered to donate at the time of the benefit several gallons of ice cream for the purpose of increasing the funds raised at the music recital which they supposed had a social side to it, the gathering of last night was a sort of a wind-up affair. Mrs. Willson was an honor guest at the party and the ice cream so generously donated was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present.

Schone—Linnemann.

The wedding of Miss Rose Linnemann and Mr. Carl J. Schone at the Church of Precious Blood at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning was a very pretty one. A brother to the bride, Rev. A. Linnemann, of St. Joseph's college, Rensselaer, officiated at the ceremony and mass. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Johanna Linnemann, and the groom by his brother, Mr. Raymond Schone. The bride wore a very becoming gown of white taffeta and her tulle veil fell to the bottom of the short skirt of the dress and was held to her hair with a tiny wreath of swansonia blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of bride roses tied with tulle ribbon. The bridesmaid wore a stylish pink taffeta gown with a beautiful bonnet of pink malin and silk embroidered in colors. The bridesmaid's bouquet was composed of pink roses. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Linnemann, of 1025 Andrew street, and relatives were present to extend congratulations to the bridal couple. The house was tastefully trimmed with festoons of smilax and many pink and white roses. The bride's table was done in pink and white and the big wedding cake was an ornamental feature of the table. Later in the day the bride and groom went to lake points on a trip that will last from a week to ten days and on their return they will make their home for the present with the bride's parents. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schone, of Washington boulevard east, and is a machinist who is employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works. Both bride and groom are liked and admired by their many friends.

Walker—Archer.

Miss Carrie Archer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Archer, and Mr. Victor Walker, a son of Mr. E. C. Walker, of Auburn, were married on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the bride's home by Rev. Mr. Schoemaker, of Trinity Lutheran church. Little Vera Archer, the bride's sister, was ring-bearer and the bride's only attendant. Mr. Perry Archer, a brother to the bride, was the groomsman. Miss Wensley played the wedding music and "Hearts and Flowers" during the ceremony. The bride wore a handsome gown of white net trimmed with bands of satin and she held a bouquet of roses and snapdragon. There were thirty-five guests at the wedding and after felicitations with the bride and groom and their parents the wedding repast was served. The bride's table was extremely lovely with a decoration of white tulle tied on candlesticks, pink and white roses and smilax. The bride and groom left on a trip and will be at home when they return in their own home in Greenlawn avenue. Mr. Walker is a draftsman at the Bowser plant. For traveling the bride wears a blue cloth suit with hat to match in coloring. The bride is a bright and capable young woman with much knowledge of household affairs and a sweet disposition.

Piano Pupils' Recital.

A number of the pupils in piano of Miss Nellie Herrick gave a recital in Packard hall last evening to relatives and friends who were interested in their work. Miss Herrick has an individual way of teaching beginners that is not tiresome and the children don't have to worry about reading notes in the early part of their work. Instead of reading the children sing their pieces and learn to play melodies on the piano. Ehrman Kickley, Virginia Seemeyer and Helen Lawrence gave several illustrations of doing this and were very sweet and cunning while doing so as well as displaying very musical ears. Helen Lawrence appeared to be unusually musical and as little Virginia Seemeyer has only been studying for three months it seemed remarkable that she could do as much as she did. Victor Wohlford was another little student who sang and played and also beat a drum to show his progress in musical development. Esther Stock and Melvin Honeck played a duet and each played alone afterwards. Miss Esther needs to do some serious practicing with her left hand as does Calvin Ludwig, for their right hand development is more advanced than the other. Miss Ada Harris played a spirited duet with her teacher and also a rondo from memory, while Princess Rayburn and Melvin Honeck displayed splendid talent and are certainly most promising students. Miss Helen Bryson played with Miss Herrick in a duet for the closing number, kept good time and played accurately.

AT KEITH PALACE.

Guy Voyer in Skirts and Bustle at the New Palace.

The usually immaculate Guy Voyer in skirts that are a cross between a mother-hubbard and a sick sheath gown, with a bustle that looks like a bumping post at the end of a freight siding, furnishes the laugh of laughs in the hilarious farce comedy, "Whose Little Girl Are You?" at the New Palace. It is a musical adaptation of the sure fire hit, Charley's Aunt, with a score of clever specialty numbers thrown in and the comedy talk revamped to bring it right up to the minute. Guy Voyer's song, "The Villian Still Pursued Her," is a bit of nonsense that found a ready response with his first night audience, while the winsome and graceful little ingenue, Harrie Lee, does a half dozen singing and dancing numbers that will win her even more admirers. The Lasalle quartet exhausted its entire repertoire of new songs last night and sang a couple they used three weeks ago before the audience would call it quits.

Harrie Lee Matinee.

Wednesday afternoon will be Harrie Lee day at the New Palace for on that afternoon each woman attending the performance will be presented with a Japanese fan as a souvenier of this clever little girl. This is the last week of the Lasalle company's local engagement.

On Thursday evening the players will open their final offering, "My Cinderella Girl."

Even on a rare day in June the serge dress has its usefulness. Especially suitable for the cool days that so often overtake us in midsummer is this model designed by Mme Allie Bailey of the Fashion Art League of America.

It's navy blue brightened with an elaborate trimming of the new shiney black braid which is so popular this summer.

The braid forms a yoke for the skirt and a little vest of it is set in the bodice. The side pockets are really draperies—and take note of the buttons—should you ask any modiste "where's the button?" she'll tell you dozens of it are on the newest summer frocks.

"Vola-Vita' Grew This Hair,--You Try It!"

"Vola-Vita" is a Scientific Discovery on a New Principle. It Forces Hair to Grow by Giving Hair the Very Elements That MAKE It to Grow. Restores Original Color, Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair.

Both of these men were bald. One of them has done the seemingly impossible—he has actually grown hair on a scalp that was bald for years.

"By George! It's wonderful how Vola-Vita forces hair to grow even on the baldest heads. You ought to use it, Henry!"

There are thousands of men and women, bald or getting bald, who do not know that hair can actually now be made to grow.

The positive way to do it has been fully discovered. Vola-Vita, the new hair discovery, does it. It is absolutely new in principle.

Hair is made up of certain elements. If these elements are not in proper proportion, your hair always loses its growing power—its vitality. Then your hair falls out, grows thin, your scalp itches, dandruff often forms, baldness always follows, and the hair that is left turns gray.

Vola-Vita supplies the missing quantities of these necessary hair-growing elements. With these elements supplied, your hair and scalp are bound to resume their normal health. The results are positive. There is no guesswork—you can actually see and measure the results.

Vola-Vita gets down to these real, immediate causes of all hair and scalp troubles, and stops them definitely. The result is that your hair does absolutely stop falling, you actually see bald spots fill out with new hair, you can measure the increase in growth of your hair, dandruff positively stops, and you can't find a flake of it even on your coat collars itching stops and your gray, faded or bleached hair assumes its natural, original color, whether your hair was originally red, brown, black or any other color.

Vola-Vita is, therefore, not a dye. It gives renewed vigor to the color glands of the hair as nothing else does, or has ever done before. Vola-Vita contains no alcohol, as is found in other hair treatments. Alcohol dries up the secretions of the hair and seriously affects its vigor.

There is absolutely nothing else known on the market today like Vola-Vita. It is a clean, oil-less liquid, easy to apply, practically odorless. You'll see the results in a very short time. Might as well begin using Vola-Vita now. Satisfaction guaranteed.

"Vola-Vita" is sold in Fort Wayne by Peoples Drug Store, Miss Emanuel, T. C. Bohn, Dreier Drug Co., Meyer Bros. Co., B. R. Noll, D. & N. Pharmacy, Woodworth's Drug Store, C. O. TURKEY WILL MAKE FIRST TARIFF LAW

Unhindered by Foreign Interference from Any Quarter.

Constantinople, May 30.—Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Turkey is about to adopt its first tariff law unhindered by foreign interference. Up to the outbreak in connection with the public debt, so that it was not able to change its tariff without the consent of the great powers, which found it to their interest to keep the Turkish duties as low as possible. For many years they kept them at eight per cent. ad valorem and lower. Turkish statesmen often pointed out that the duties were too low to yield sufficient revenue, and the government long demanded their consent for an increase. Germany gave its consent about fifteen years ago, but England and France refused till several years ago, when they agreed to an increase to eleven per cent. Soon after Turkey joined the central powers and entered the war, the government denounced the so-called "capitulations," or arrangements which gave the foreign powers special rights in Turkey, including their control over the tariff system.

After waiting more than a year the government has now brought in a bill for revising the tariff. It is, for most articles, a very moderate measure, fully two-thirds of the duties ranging between only 10 and 15 per cent. Most other articles range between 20 and 50 per cent., and a few are as high as 100 per cent. These highest duties are intended for the protection of agriculture and some manufactured goods. There is a small free list, which includes school books not bound and other educational supplies. Agricultural machinery is also put on the free list in the interest of the farmers. Among dutiable articles there is no uniform tendency to increase duties; in fact, about one-sixth of the list shows even lower duties than are now paid.

INDIANA MAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Frank Moseley, Moore's Hill, Ind., writes: "I was troubled with almost constant pains in my sides and back and attributed it to weakening of my kidneys. I got a package of Foley Kidney Pills. Great relief was apparent after the first doses and in 48 hours all pain left me." If you have rheumatism, backache, swollen, aching joints or stiff, painful muscles, why not try Foley Kidney Pills? They stop sleep-disturbing bladder ailments, too. Dreier Drug C.—Advertisement.

When the gong sounds for the starting of the Mason-Izzo championship tilt tonight the fans will see the fastest ten rounds of fighting they will have seen in the city for a number of years. Frankie Mason, Fort Wayne's will o' the wisp, is primed to the limit for the scrap and if conditions can help Frankie he will win.

Frankie Izzo, the newly created king of the flyweight division, has the crown sitting on his head with the confidence that it is going to stay there. Izzo is not to be underestimated for he is more than a fair scrapper; he is a fighter of class. Mason is also a scrapper that has something behind each fist. Both boys are eager to get in the ring and, there's going to be a lot of cannonading in the ring and the battle is to be with gloves acting as 42-centimeters.

Mason and Izzo met in Chicago a number of years ago and the Chicago man came out with the totals to his credit. Frankie has been nursing the sore spot ever since that time and he wouldn't stop hunting Izzo until he gave him a return fight. Now he's got it and he says he is going to make the best of the opportunity.

There will be two other ten-round battles which makes a fan look twice to see what we've got. In the semi-windup Jimmy Dalton, of Indianapolis, meets Battling Hess, of this city. Hess, a local boy, is said to be one of the toughest nuts any fighter ever undertook to crack, and Dalton, who is an experienced fighter, will have one of the scrappiest scraps that he has had on his hands for a long time.

In the first bout of the evening Lee Lapado, the Friar football player, will meet Nip Howell, of Dayton. Lapado has a big following here among the football fans and friends that are pulling for him to give a good fight.

The Summit City Athletic club, headed by George Biemer, is promoting the bout. The advance seat sale for the scrap has been heavy and indications point to a crowded house. Lou Bauman, of Cincinnati, will referee the bout.

WOMEN PADDLERS TO CELEBRATE FOURTH BY RACING FOR NATIONAL TITLES IN FRISCO POOL.

(By Harold Johnson.)

Records are doomed when the crack women paddlers of the United States meet July 4 at San Francisco in the annual championships of the National Amateur Athletic union. Among the entrants are Miss Olga Dorfner, of the Philadelphia Turngemeinde; Miss Claire Galligan, of New York; Miss Dorothy Burns and Mrs. Aileen Allen, of the Los Angeles Athletic club ladies' athletic team. These four head a field of speedy mermaids, expected to star in the Sutro baths.

Miss Dorfner's records include the world's 60-yard and the American 100 and 200 yards. The Quaker city miss, conceded by expert judges to be the best woman spinter in the country, has, within a year, set the following records: 50 yards in 30 2-5 seconds; 100 yards in 1 minute 9 3-5 seconds, and 220 yards in a 60-pool, in 3 minutes 3 2-5 seconds.

Her 100 yards mark compares favorably with the world's record for women, held by Miss Fannie Durack, of Australia, which is 1 minutes and 6 seconds. Her American standard was set in open water while Miss Durack negotiated her century in a short, smooth pool.

Miss Galligan is rated second only to Miss Dorfner. The former, competing last March for the national women's life saving league of New York, won the 500 yards championship, setting the record at 8:05 1-6. She also established new standards for the 30 0and 400 yard distances on the way. Her time for the 300 was 4:43 4-5, and the 440 she covered in 7:06 3-5.

Miss Burns is the southern California champion at 50, 100 and 220 yards, the 150 yards back stroke and the ocean swim. A pupil of F. Vance Veith, coach of the Los Angeles A. C., she is considered the most perfect crawl stroke swimmer in the United States. Mrs. Allen is the champion woman diver of the Pacific coast and also is the only woman member of the Royal Life Saving league of England.

Other mermaids entered are Miss Frances Cowell, of Frisco, who won all the races at the Panama-Pacific exposition last year; Dorothy Becker, former holder of the 50-yard mark, and Alice Goodman, Edith Daly and Dolly Meyers, all of Frisco. Hawaii will be represented by Miss Ruth Stacker, former holder of the world's 50-yard record for women; Miss Lucile Legros, who has won many sprinting championships, and Miss Bernice Lane.

WILLAND CAN'T FIGHT FULTON ON LABOR DAY

Chicago, June 27.—Jess Willard and Fred Fulton are not going to fight on Labor day. That is a certainty. Thursday Tom Jones, in charge of Willard, wired that it would be impossible for the champion to get away from the Sells-Floto circus to fill a fight engagement on the date mentioned. Jones is willing to send his man against Fulton, but not until after his fat contract with the show folks expires.

Jones was perfectly willing to go through with the Labor day date, but the circus management told him Jess was too big a card to let away even for one day. The Minneapolis men who wanted to stage the fight say they will make no further bids. It was their intention to stage the fight in the open, and they rightfully contend that it will be too cold for an outdoor show after Labor day.

SKULL FRACTURED.

William Sites is Knocked From Bicycle and Seriously Hurt.

William Sites, 1503 Walton avenue, was seriously hurt about 5 o'clock Monday evening when a motorcycle hit the bicycle he was riding and threw him to the pavement, fracturing his skull. The accident occurred at Hanna and Hayden streets. Francis Harding, who lives on Clinton street and is employed at the Bass foundry, was riding the motorcycle that collided with Sites, and according to eye witnesses was in no way to blame. He reported the accident to the police station.

Sites was hurried to the St. Joseph hospital in the police ambulance. He had not regained consciousness Tuesday morning, but was reported as getting along as well as could be expected.

WILLIE RITCHIE PROUD OF HONORS FROM NEW YORK ATHLETIC CLUBMEN.

Willie Ritchie, ex-lightweight champion, and the "winged foot" emblem of the New York Athletic club, a gift of honor which Willie has displayed on the radiator of his new car.

San Francisco, June 27.—Willie Ritchie, who is "back among the home town boys," is quite proud of a new honor bestowed upon him by the New York Athletic club. On the radiator of his touring car glistens a large sized "winged foot" emblem of the club, the latest token of esteem from the eastern athletes.

When Ritchie first made his invasion of the east he won the regard of fight fans and athletes generally and was adopted by the big athletic club. At that time he was presented with a "winged foot" set with diamonds and rubies. Willie wears this beautiful gift on his coat lapel. This year when he started away from the east, the New York men gave him the larger emblem for his car.

"Since I am a Californian, it makes me feel mighty fine to win these honors from the New York club," said Willie. "I certainly appreciate their genial spirit back east. They make a westerner feel at home."

Ritchie is back in San Francisco to look after his business interests, which are growing all the time.

Former Manager of St. Louis Browns Demands Sum of $12,500.

Chicago, June 27.—Mordecai Brown, former manager of the St. Louis Federal league baseball club, has filed suit for $12,500 in the United States district court here against Otto Stiefel and Phillip A. Ball, owners of the club, alleging that amount still is due him on the unfinished portion of his contract, according to his petition. Brown contracted to manage the St. Louis team for the years 1914-16 inclusive for the total sum of $22,500. He said he received pay for one year's employment.

FISHER HAS THE LAUGH ON TINKER

Joe Tinker finally came to the conclusion that most people reached long ago, that neither Mike Doolin or Steve Yerkes is capable of playing big league ball any longer. Both men have been released by the mentor of the Cubs. Which doubtless gives Bob Fisher, of Cincinnati, a long laugh.

Fisher was the regular Cub shortstop last year. He outhit all the short fielders of the National league. Yet when Tinker assumed the management of the Cubs he announced that he would displace Fisher with Mike Doolin, who had shortstopped for his champion Federal Whales. How Tinker got waivers on Fisher from National league managers must ever remain a mystery, but he did. He shipped Bob out to the Pacific coast league.

Doolin proved a terrible frost this spring. In fact, his failure at short was largely responsible for the Cubs' mediocre showing to date. Tinker labored to get the once great Mike in shape, but at last realized that his case was hopeless. Tinker was doubtless influenced by loyalty to the Federal league in retaining Doolin over Fisher. This must have affected his judgment. Anyway, the laugh is Fisher's. Bob is now acting as utility infielder with the Reds, having been purchased recently by Herzog.

THE QUESTION WILL BE SETTLED THURSDAY

Are actors better ball players than Elks? This question is going to receive a final and authoritative answer Thursday afternoon when the Lasalle Musical comedy players and the B. P. O. Elks No. 155 will play off their rubber games at Lawton park.

Each club has won once from the other and Thursday's will decide it. Immediately after the game the two teams will go to the Elks' club for dinner and in the evening the Elks and their wives will be guests at the New Palace.

TOM TAGGART WILL RAISE A REGIMENT

By Willis S. Thompson

Indianapolis, June 27.—Senator Thomas Taggart has offered a regiment of infantry to the government in case of need, or in event of hostilities in Mexico. He has presented his offer to President Wilson.

The senator explains that it is his purpose to raise the regiment in Indiana in case the offer is accepted. He says he will personally supervise the work of recruiting. Senator Taggart declares that he does not know who might be the colonel of the regiment, that being a matter easier settled by the proper authority than other details. Personally, he assures interviewers he is not ambitious to command, preferring that officers with more military knowledge shall take charge.

"It might be like the United States senatorship situation," says one of his republican friends. "He was appointed senator and then he did not wish the nomination. The democratic state convention would not hear to any other course, reflecting the wishes of the voters, and he was forced by a unanimous call to accept. Now the whole state seems to have declared for his election.

"With a regiment of infantry recruited under the Taggart inspiration he might start something again that he might have difficulty in dodging, and the "T. T." fighters might go to the front and insist upon doing their fighting under his leadership. In which case he might have enough newspaper correspondents along to make a couple of extra companies."

WAR DEPARTMENT LOWERS AGE LIMIT

Corporal George H. Bradley, in charge of the Fort Wayne recruiting station, has received the following order from G. W. Read, adjutant general of the war department, which is self-explanatory. "The act of congress, approved June 3, 1916, 'The National Defense Act,' as construed by this department, renders unnecessary the parental consent to enlistment of persons between the ages of 18 and 21 years, and authorizes the enlistment of any person under 18 years of age who is able to meet the requirements and has the consent of his parents or guardians."

Forty-three applicants have sought enlistment this month. Of this number but eleven have been accepted. Those sent to Columbus barracks are the following: Dominick A. Deuitch, Avilla, cavalry; Asa Fusselman, Huntington, who served three years in the third United States cavalry, re-enlisted in that service; Frank Godfrey, a young man who is a full blooded Indian, cavalry, and Edward J. Mirtes, cavalry.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The barometric pressure is low over the Rocky mountain region and relatively low over the St. Lawrence valley. It is high in the extreme northeast, off the Pacific coast, and over the upper Mississippi valley and upper lake region. This distribution of pressure has resulted in showers in the gulf states, lake region, northwest and north Pacific states. The weather is cooler than the seasonal average in the lake region, but in the other sections of the country temperatures are close to the normal. During Monday the temperature was 100 degrees or higher at Abilene, Phoenix and Roswell.

Now Expect Orders to Entrain at Any Moment

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., June 27.—An air of expectancy pervaded Camp Ralston, where the Indiana national guard is concentrated preparatory to service on the Mexican border, as it was believed orders for at least a part of the Indiana brigade might be received to entrain at almost any moment. None of the troops, however, is expected to get away before Thursday at the earliest.

Meanwhile the Big Four railroad is collecting cars sufficient to move the entire guard and it was said there would be no delay for lack of railroad equipment.

Mustering and medical officers worked hurriedly today getting the guard ready to move the minute the orders are received. Maj. Robert H. Tyndall, commanding the field artillery battalion who was the first Indiana soldier to be mustered into the federal service, assisted today in invoicing the state property, preparatory to turning it over to the federal government. Everything from a field piece down to a harness buckle has to be invoiced. The entire equipment, not including animal equipment, is valued at about $70,000.

John Heddy, a private in A Company, Vincennes, died today after a prolonged illness. He was ordered removed to an Indianapolis hospital when his nervous condition became critical, but died on the way. The body will be sent to Vincennes.

Captain Scheffer Will Confer With Adjutant General Wednesday.

Battery B now has an enlistment of 152 men and is ready for the call any time it comes, according to Captain J. C. Scheffer. Captain Scheffer, Captain Harry Clark and Lieutenant Leonard F. Wood will go to Indianapolis Wednesday to confer with Adjutant General Bridges and upon this conference will depend largely the future of the local battery.

It is not at all improbable that the battery will be in camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison by the latter part of this week or the forepart of next, in view of the order of the war department for an immediate increase in the artillery arm of the service for duty on the Mexican border. The prospects are that three new batteries will be organized in the state.

Gart Shober reported Tuesday morning that he was sure of fourteen men for the Third regiment band, which he is organizing, with six on the waiting list. The band must have twenty-three pieces, but Shober is making an effort to secure thirty-two men.

Ninde and Lute H. Moore.

CAUSES SENSATION IN COURT.

Judge Blair Finds Queer Juror Venire Box in Use at Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., June 27.—A sensation was caused in the circuit court here when Judge Alonzo Blair, of Shelbyville, who is to act as special judge in the trial of Mayor Rollin H. Bunch for conspiracy to solicit and accept bribes, beginning July 5, learned that the box from which names of veniremen are drawn, consists of five separate comments, instead of one, as provided for by law. Harry Long, attorney for Mayor Bunch, made the charge before Judge Blair, who had the box brought into court for examination. County Clerk C. F. Bowden and the jury commissioners were called in and they told the court that because of the way the compartments were arranged it was impossible to mix up the names put into the box.

Judge Blair ordered a new jury name box provided. The one to be discarded has been in use in Delaware county for years.

Water Competition Wiped Out by War, Says Order to Railroads.

Washington, June 27.—Holding that water competition between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts has been completely destroyed under war conditions, the interstate commerce commission today ordered trans-continental railroads to revise their rate from the east to the Pacific coast by September 1, so that they shall not be lower than rates to intermediate points.

The order was a result of the investigation of existing rates on application of the Nevada railroad commission, the Spokane merchants and representatives of various intermediate cities.

The commission found that the need for lower rates to meet water competition has completely disappeared for the time being and that "there is little likelihood of any material competition by water during the present year."

The unprecedented freight rates being paid between this and other countries have attracted practically all of the ships here engaged in coast to coast service. In these circumstances coast rates are lower than conditions require.

Prosecution in Casement Case Rests Suddenly.

London, June 27.—The prosecution in the case against Sir Roger Casement, leader of the Dublin revolt, rested its case suddenly shortly after luncheon recess and the attorney general announced that he had no statement to make.

Mr. Sullivan immediately began an address in an attempt to have the indictment quashed. His argument was highly technical, being an effort to show that the alleged treasonable acts were committed outside British realms and could not be tried in Great Britain.

"SILKY" IS FOSTER MOTHER OF HUNDREDS OF LITTLE BROWN PHEASANT CHICKENS.

"Silky" and a Brood of Pheasant Chicks.

Snoqualmie Falls, Wash., June 27.—Kipling doesn't enjoy a vogue among the fowl of the county game farm here.

"Silky," a bantam hen whose mission in life it is to raise little Chinese pheasants for sportsmen to shoot, doesn't know there is such a thing as an "East" or a "West."

And she's exceedingly proud to be the foster mother of hundreds of little brown "Chinks," as the hunters call the gamy bird which has been introduced throughout the northwest.

Unlike the haughty, ultra-modern hen, "Silky" doesn't believe in birth control. This makes her task exceedingly onerous, though important. It cuts in dreadfully on sleep and pleasure.

The pheasant eggs, which the female "Chink" would allow to go unhatched (having modern ideas as to environment and the higher duty of her sex, probably,) are adopted by the little Cochin bantam.

Like the Old Woman in the Shoe, "Silky" often has so many children she doesn't know what to do. No sooner is one brood able to toddle about than another lot comes along. Life is just one big hatching after another.

"Silky," however, is borne up by a certain Rooseveltian disdain for mollycoddles. She doesn't speak to those barnyard creatures who complain about raising their chicks to be shot at by huntsmen. Her mother and grandmother hatched little "Chinks" for that purpose. And what was good enough for Ma and Grandma is good enough for "Silky."

Anyway, it makes her head ache to think about life and fate and the destiny of feathered creatures. So she just goes ahead and keeps her alien charges from falling into the creek, defies the hawks and scratches up the best living she knows how.

"Silky" is only one of dozens of Cochin bantams used on the county game farm here for this purpose.

WILL CONSIDER SPY RUN FUND DISPOSAL

Item is on Program for the City Council Session Tonight.

Question of dividing $1,500 contained in the budget for 1916 providing for a low dam in Spy Run creek, which, however, cannot be built because the county will not build the Fourth street bridge this year, will come up for discussion at a regular meeting of the city council tonight. It is asked in a petition that the money revert to the park appropriation account. The sum is asked divided as follows: purchase of lot 10, city park addition, $800; making fill at South Broadway, $150; for play devices and park swings, $50; and $500 to maintenance equipment account.

The traffic ordinance regarding through traffic at Berry street will also come up for a hearing by the council.

Chatain—Haller.

A home wedding of much beauty took place on Tuesday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Haller, 3203 Fairfield avenue, when their daughter, Marguerite A. Haller, became the bride of Mr. Robert M. Chatain, of Chicago. The wedding took place at noon in the presence of immediate relatives of the two families. The ceremony was read by Rev. F. W. Knatz, pastor of Salem Reformed church. Mr. Edward Haller had charge of the wedding music and "O, Promise Me" was rendered during the wedding service. The bride, who is an unusually beautiful young woman of a blond type, looked very sweet and girlish in a white gown of swiss and organdie that had a delicate border of blue flowers as a trimming. The bride wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair and held a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley tied with tulle ribbons. Little Marguerite Rahe was the only attendant and she had the honor of carrying the wedding ring in the cup of a lily, the lily stalk having white ribbons to finish its appearance. Blue sash and hair ribbons gave the pretty touch of color to the child in harmony with the same bit of color in the bride's costume. The house was elaborately trimmed with smilax and many flowers. Garlands of smilax hung on all the chandeliers and in archways between rooms and branches of dutzet in blossom, and marguerites were banked on mantels and on top of large pieces of furniture. In the diningroom, where a dinner was served to twelve people, the table was in smilax and pink and white snapdragon. This afternoon the bride ad groom started on a trip west and are going to Denver, Col. Chicago will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chatain as he is in the real estate business there. A house is ready to begin housekeeping in at the corner of Evans avenue, near Jackson park. The parents of the groom Chicago and his brother, Mr. Carl Chatain, of Topeka, Kan., and Miss Frieda Haller, of Chicago, were out of town guests at the wedding.

Explains Reason for Delay in Getting Militia to the Border.

Major General Wood, commander of the department of the east issued a statement today in which he declared that "the present system or rather lack of system of equipping the state militia for active duty is the main reason for delay in the mobilization and sending of troops to the border."

The militia is not permitted under existing rules to keep extra field equipment in their armories and as a result when the call to arms came, as in the present instance, rifles, canteens, clothing, etc., must be obtained from the nearest arsenal. There is no reserve supply of horses, necessitating purchase in the open market and their training before they can be used.

"This is far different from the regular army system and from the reserve system of European nations."

An European reserve can leave San Francisco for the headquarters of his company in his own country and find there awaiting him in lockers everything he will need.

"The result of the Mexican trouble, I believe, will be reconstruction of the system of equipping the national guard. In the future, I believe, state organizations will have on hand in their armories their own equipment."

FARMERS STIRRED BY BARN BURNING

Howard County Case May Be Connected With Cattle Poisoning.

Kokomo, Ind., June 27.—Farmers of Howard county have been aroused by a report that the burning of the barns on the farm of T. J. O'Toole, a large stock raiser near here, might be connected in some way with the recent poisoning of cattle belonging to Aaron Deardorff, a local dairyman. O'Toole could give no other explanation than that the fire was the work of an incendiary. He lost five blooded horses, more than 200 bushels of corn, twenty tons of hay and farm implements.

O'Toole was before the federal grand jury in Indianapolis recently in connection with an investigation to determine the authorship of a number of anonymous threatening letters circulated in Howard county, some of them pertaining to the poisoning of Deardorff's herd of cattle. The investigation did not result in charges.

A neighbor of Deardorff was convicted in the circuit court recently of poisining the cattle. Last week Deardorff found paris green scattered in his pastures again, but it was discovered before it affected any of the animals. Since then he has been guarding his farm with a gun. A proposal that a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest of the poisoner is pending before the county commissioners.

VILLA IS SHOT ONCE MORE, BORDER RUMOR

Field Headquarters, June 20—(By Courier to Columbus, N. M., June 27.)—Francisco Villa was shot from the rear by a Mexican he had impressed into his gang during the battle with Carranza troops at Guerrero, but his fate still is unknown.

This information was contained in a semi-official account obtained by Major Robert L. Howze, who was close on Villa's trail last April, and given out here today.

Major Howze learned the details of the wounding of the bandit chieftain from one of the Mexicans Villa drafted, and who afterwards deserted.

The details of the story agreed with facts American officers obtained in their pursuit of Villa and by their independent secret service work, but the account does not say whether the bandit died or recovered.

Villa, the Mexicain deserter said, exhibited every evidence of terror during the early stages of his flight, after the Americans had defeated his men at Guerrero. The informant said he believed Villa was dead, but if he still were alive, he was in the state of Durango, for which point he was heading during his flight from Gen. Pershing's men.

SOME MOOSE CHIEFS LINE UP FOR WILSON

Committee, Voting 32 to 6, Endorse Hughes at Roosevelt's Request.

Chicago, June 27. After a day of wrangling the progressive national committee last night voted to indorse Charles Evan Hughes for president.

Thirty two members of the committee supported the indorsement resolution offered by James R. Garfield, of Ohio. Six voted against it and nine declined to vote.

May Support Wilson.

Several of the fifteen minority members, including Raymond Robins, of Chicago, the chairman of the progressive national convention of three weeks ago, announced they probably would support President Wilson.

The action, which was taken in accordance with the wishes of Theodore Roosevelt, as expressed in a letter to the committee, marked the demise of the progressive party.

While the national executive committee was instructed to co-operate in the Hughes campaign it was admitted the full national committee never would have another meeting. The progressive party is now officially dead.

Debate Lasts Seven Hours.

The resolution as finally adopted after seven hours of debate was as follows:

Whereas, The statement issued by this committee in January and the platform adopted by the progressive national convention set forth that, putting aside all partisan consideration in view of existing world and national conditions, we would work with any man or party who saw the nation's need and put forth a leader fit to meet it; and

Whereas, We believe with Colonel Roosevelt that in nominating Charles E. Hughes, of New York, the republican party has put forth such a leader, we indorse and concur in the recommendation of Colonel Roosevelt that we support Mr. Hughes.

Line-up on Vote.

The various states and territories, through the committeemen, lined up as follows on the resolution:

Yeas—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, Wyoming, Hawaii—Total, 32.

Nays—Idaho, Kentucky, Montanna, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Utah—Total, 6.

Leaders of Opposition.

The opponents of the proposal to indorse Hughes put up a stubborn fight. Leaders on this side were Matthew Hale, of Massachusetts, who presided as vice chairman of the committee in the absence of Victor Murdock, the chairman; Bainbridge Colby, of New York, who held the proxy of the committeeman from Florida; John M. Parker, of Louisiana, who was nominated for vice president by the progressives three weeks ago, and others.

There were heated scenes during the day, and one of these came when Mr. Robins declared that Mr. Colby already had declared himself for Wilson.

"You're a liar," shouted Mr. Colby.

HUGHES WELCOMES MOOSERS.

New York, June 27.—Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee for president, sent a telegram to O. K. Davis, secretary of the progressive national committee last night welcoming the support of the progressive party and arraigning the present administration for its "weakness and incertitude."

In making public the contents of the telegram Mr. Hughes also gave out a letter he had written to Colonel Roosevelt in which he declared that the nation was indebted to the colonel "for the quickening of the national spirit and for the demand for an out-and-out 100 per cent Americanism."

AD CLUBS MEN ARE MAKING THINGS HUM

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes the dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—Advertisement.

The case of David Evans, charged with child neglect, was continued until June 29 in municipal court Tuesday, after testimony had been given showing that Evans had substantially spent the last three years idling while his wife worked by the day to support a family of two children. PAYS LITTLE HEED TO CASEMENT TRIAL

English Public Apathetic Regarding Progress of Noted Case.

London, June 27.—The second day of the trial of Sir Roger Casement for high treason opened with no change in the appathetic attitude with which the general public regards the case.

The principal reason offered for this lack of interest is that the attention of the country is focussed upon the continent where what possibly may prove the decisive phase of the great war is at a crucial stage on both the eastern and western fronts.

The atmosphere of the court room is not that of a trial for life and the chief justice was compelled yesterday to insist that there must be no laughter in court. The laughter was evoked by the rich brogue and smart repartee of the Irish soldier witnesses.

The attitude of Casement himself is far from being one of gravity. He appears neither crushed nor subdued by the seriousness of his position and takes the proceedings in a most casual manner. Much of the time he appears abstracted and even yawns frequently. With folded arms and head resting on his hand he usually has the air of being bored except when he chats with the three policemen who sit around him in the iron barred dock.

The prisoner appeared to be in a cheerful frame of mind as he entered the dock, although he displayed little of the jauntiness shown at the preliminary examination.

The prosecution resumed the introduction of testimony immediately. The witnesses were the same as those called at the preliminary hearing and few new points were brought out during the early proceedings. Witnesses gave accounts of the movements of Sir Roger and his companions, Capt. Robert Monteith and Daniel J. Bailey, from the time of their landing on the morning of Good Friday in a boat from the German submarine near Tralee until the arrest of Sir Roger.

John McCarthy, an Irish farmer, described finding the boat in which the three men were said to have landed, and told of discovering buried on the beach two hand-bags containing revolvers and ammunition.

Mary Gorman, a servant girl, identified Sir Roger as one of three she met hurrying away from the beach early Friday morning. She was followed by Thomas Hearn, a sergeant in the Irish constabulary, who told of tracing Sir Roger to the ruined fort in the vicinity of which he arrested him. Harn identified revolvers, maps of Ireland and a flag of the revolutionists which were found in a hand-bag. There was a stir in the court room as the big green emblem of the rebels was spread out in the center of the room and all eyes turned towards the prisoner. He shifted uneasily in his seat and then leaned back with folded arms, smilingly nervously as he gazed at the flag.

Alexander Sullivan, chief counsel for the defense, volunteered the information to the court that the emblem on the flag was that of the city of Limrelck.

Mr. Sullivan cross-examined the police witnesses at length in regard to the general unrest in Ireland and brought out the fact that the people of the south were arming themselves against those of the north and against conscription, and when the military refused to serve against Ulster, the southerners felt they could not trust the soldiers to protect them against Ulster volunteers.

One police witness said that, although the carrying of arms and drilling went on unhampered by the authorities, the landing of arms would have had a very grave effect.

CAN YOUTH AND OLD AGE BE HAPPY IN MARRIAGE?

(By Mark Larkin.)

Los Angeles, Cal., June 27.—Youth and old age can never mate. A young girl can never marry an old man and be happy. The abyss between their modes of living is as wide as the difference between their ages, and there is no way of bridging it.

This is the knowledge that Mrs. Beulah Moshier Eyster has gained from her experience in marriage. At the age of 17 she wed John Eyster of Altadena, 83 years old. Three months later, she left him to come back to the home of her parents here.

"It is the most tragic mistake in the world for a young girl to marry a man many years older than herself," says Mrs. Eyster. "The old saying, 'Better to be an old man's darling than a young man's slave,' should be turned around, for the girl who marries a man much her senior can put it down that she will have to be his slave.

"I would never marry another old man even if he had five million dollars. Freedom is the most precious thing in the world and every girl should be careful that she does not sacrifice it when she steps into matrimony. I would give a million dollars, if I had it, for my freedom right now."

Mrs. Eyster declared that the difference between their ages was so great that happiness was out of the question for John Eyster and herself.

"Of course, I didn't realize this in the beginning," she said, because I was only a girl. My marriage brought me nothing but sorrow and unhappiness and my greatest desire now is to say something that will make it possible for other girls to profit by my experience."

Here, according to the girl wife, are the reasons a young girl should never marry an old man:

An old man lacks the proper understanding of love; his is a selfish interpretation of the word. An old man, especially if he has been a bachelor, lacks good manners and is unwilling to learn them. He will not eat with his fork. He will not blow his nose in a handkerchief. He will throw water on the floor instead of into the sink. He will insist on keeping a plow and lawn mower and a scythe in the house and he will find fault with the woman who tells him that the place for such things is in an out-house. An old man is insanely jealous. He believes everybody is trying to steal his wife. He is jealous of the carpenter, the plumber, the electrician and even of his wife's girl friends. An old man eternally preaches economy and objects to buying necessary clothing for his wife.

"In my opinion," says Mrs. Eyster, no girl should marry a man more than six or seven years her senior. If it is possible, she should marry a man about her own age. She should avoid marrying a bachelor. A bachelor has never thought of anybody but himself before his marriage and a wedding ceremony is not apt to change him."

On their wedding day John Eyster told his bride that he would leave no stone unturned in his effort to keep her happy. He also told her that he possessed great wealth, so she says, and would grant every wish that money could gratify. But, according to Mrs. Eyster their honeymoon was not over before her husband began nagging and preaching economy.

"It was then I learned," said the girl bride, "that the story of his wealth was a myth. He did not have the vast holdings to which he pretended. In fact, his annual income was only $600 a year and he mortgaged his place in Altadena to buy the furniture for the house in which we lived. His only source of income, aside from the lemons he raised on his two-acre Altadena place was the rental from a small ranch in northern California."

According to Mrs. Eyster, her husband said he would give her half of all he had after their marriage. But when she suggested that he give her a joint tenancy deed to his property, she says he refused.

"This was not an attempt on my part to get hold of his property; on the contrary, it was merely a partnership arrangement to which I thought I was entitled. However, I do not want any of his property now. All I want is my freedom. And I hope my experience will convince other girls that there is nothing but heartaches in trying to be an old man's darling."

JUST AFTER THE CEREMONY.

Non-Intoxicants Supplanting Beer in Empire of the Kaiser.

Berlin, June 15.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—War, which has worked so many changes in the daily habits of the Germans, has now conspired with war weather to induce the Germans to drink "soft drinks." Bottles of lemon sour, ginger ale, cream soda and other beverages included under the generic name of "pop" in the United States, are beginning to make their appearance on shelves and bars formerly devoted to beer, and the thirsty people are drinking them, not from choice, but because they have to.

It is no longer possible to make enough beer to meet even fairly modest demands of the reduced home population. The majority of the larger beer gardens will not be opened at all this summer, and for some weeks it has been no unusual thing to find some of Berlin's biggest restaurants and beer halls without a drop of beer early in the evening of warm days. The sale of beer to households in containers charged with carbonic acid gas has been discontinued, and only favored old customers can still get bottled beer.

Bavaria, the greatest beer-drinking country of the world, where many a solid citizen normally drinks one to two gallons daily, and where the great beer halls are filled at almost all hours of the day ,is in a still worse plight. The time in which beer may be sold has been steadily shortened, and now there has come an order permitting saloons, beer halls, etc., to sell beer only from 10 to 12, 2 to 4 and after 9 o'clock at night. Exceptions are made in the case of beer dispensed in factories to their workers, and by farmers to their help. No beer whatever may be sold locally until after the wants of the Bavarian soldiers have been supplied.

The scarcity is, of course, due to the fact that the empire has had to limit strictly the amount of barley which can be turned into malt. This amount has been fixed at 50 per cent of the normal amount, but brewers interviewed by The Associated Press correspondent said they were not able to obtain even this amount. An unforeseen inroad has further been made into the available amount of barley by the fact that the shortage of coffee has required the roasting of great quantities of barley as a substitute.

The government has granted the brewers permission to malt in the second (current) quarter of the year the full quota of barley allowed them for the third quarter. This will rob hot summer days of some of their terror, but even at best, the supply will be utterly inadequate.

Many of the war zone children wear gas masks on their way to and from school.

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of Resinol Ointment and a cake of Resinol Soap. These are not at all expensive. With the Resinol Soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the Resinol Ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again. Sample free. Dept. 30-R. Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Advertisement.

He was instantly killed. The remains will be brought to this city on No. 8 and will be prepared for burial at the undertaking parlors of C. J. Ulmer. They will be taken to the home of the mother, Mrs. Mary Blauvelt, Wednesday, where they will be viewed by friends Wednesday afternoon and Thursday. PAVING FOR LAKE AVENUE.

Ordinance Will Be Submitted to City Council Tonight.

Decision to prepare an ordinance ordering paving of Lake avenue, from Anthony boulevard to the city limits, was made Monday afternoon at a meeting of the board of public works. The ordinance is to be submitted to the city council at its regular semi-monthly meeting tonight.

An improvement resolution calling for paving of Lake avenue was defeated by remonstrance a short time ago, but members of the board consider the improvement an absolute necessity because the section to be paved links the present city pavement with the county's stone road.

The board ordered plans to be prepared for the paving of Melita street from Harrison to Hoagland and for the construction of a sewer in the alley east of Davis street, from Link to Mary.

Action Is Rescinded.

Action taken previously as an improvement resolution for the paving of Grace avenue was rescinded and the board ordered the street paved from Fox avenue to Broadway at uniform width. This will bring condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of a strip of ground at one point in order to avoid a jog.

Revised plat for the Weisser park addition was submitted to the board of works and approved. Plat for the C. Schaper addition, between Hamilton and John streets, Weisser Park avenue and the city limits. The property is owned by Caroline E. Miller, daughter of the late C. Schaper.

CHARGES U. S. WITH PERFIDY

HE DECLARES OUR PURPOSE HOSTILE

Seeks to Array All Latin-America Against the United States.

Mexico City, June 27.—Foreign Minister Aguilar made public today messages sent to Latin-American countries in which the government of the United States is accused of perfidy and with concentrating troops along the border with hostile purposes toward Mexico. The messages are in answer to communications from South American countries offering their services to mediate between the United States and Mexico.

The messages say that after the incident at Matamoros the United States began to gather its armed forces along the international line with the intention of aggression against Mexico. It is asserted that Mexico is not seeking war but that if it is forced to fight it will go to the last extreme at the cost "of the blood of its sons and the destruction of its wealth."

The messages conclude by stating that the "perfidy" of the American government not only affects Mexico but all Latin countries on this continent. It is added that Elizo Arredondo, the Mexican minister at Washington, has been instructed to get in touch with his Latin-American colleagues who have offered to mediate and to do everything in his power to prevent war. The final sentence of the messages read: "The people and government of Mexico are lovers of peace and will maintain peace at any cost on the understanding that the dignity and sovereignty of the republic is not attacked."

BITTER ATTACK ON U. S.

Opposition in Rio Janeiro Chamber of Deputies Starts Something.

Rio Janero, June 27.—The keen interest with which Barzil is following the developments of the crisis between the United States and Mexico received a new impetus today following a spirited discussion in the chamber of deputies during which an opposition made a bitter attack on the United States.

The discussion was opened by this deputy, who commenting on the last note sent to Mexico by Secretary Lansing, declared he was astonished that the United States should make difficulties in accepting the explanation of Mexico, while promptly accepting those of Germany in regard to the submarine war. The speaker asserted that Germany was continuing its undersea campaign in violation of its promise to Washington and that the United States did not dare to protest. He concluded by expressing the hope that Brazil would continue to maintain its traditions by defending the principle of the sovereignty of all countries without regard to the economic or military strength of any nation.

Deputy Sousea Silva, speaking for the government, defended the international policy of the administration and declared that Brazil stood firm for the solidarity and fraternity of the American nations. Deputy Sousea also denied reports that the voyage of Dr. Lauro Muller, minister of foreign affairs, to the United States had to do with the Mexican situation. He said that the voyage had been determined on before the relations of Mexico and United States became critical and was undertaken solely for the sake of the health of the minister.

Deputy Sousea Dantas, who has taken Dr. Muller's place during his absence from the country, questioned in regard to the attitude of Brazil in the present crisis, said that the government had entered into no negotiations, but in common with all Americans, was watching the situation with the anxious hope that a peaceful solution would be found.

HIS PLEA TO ARGENTINE.

U. S. Attempting to Maintain Unjust Claims, Says Aguilar.

Buenos Aires, June 27.—Foreign Minister Jose Luis Murature has received a message from Gen. Candido Aguilar, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, containing an appeal for the support of the governments of Latin-America in Mexico's controversy with the United States.

General Aguilar asserts that the United States is attempting to maintain by force in weak countries unjust claims on the part of its citizens. He contends that by agreement foreigners in Mexico who acquire property after a certain period of time renounce the protection of their respective governments.

Minister Murature has also received a telegram from Dr. Romulo S. Naon, Argentinian minister at Washington, expressing the hope that the difficulties between Mexico and the United States will be solved peacefully.

FORMER VILLA MEN GO OVER

Flocking Back to Mexico to Receive Welcome by Carranza.

NEW EVIDENCE THAT BREACH HAS HEALED

Handbills Tell of Villa Pledge to Support de Facto Government.

El Paso, Texas, June 27.—Evidence that the possibility of war with the United States has healed the breach between the Carranza and Villa factions in Mexican politics, continued to increase here today. More than one hundred wealthy Mexicans, who prior to the surrender of the Villa garrison of Juarez last January, had been active in supporting the bandit leader, and who since have been refugees in El Paso, crossed the Rio Grande and apparently were received in good favor by authorities of the de facto government.

Tell of Villa's Pledge.

Hand bills, printed in Spanish, asserting that Villa himself had been pledged to support the Carranza government in the event of a break with the United States, were circulated in Juarez and to some extent in the Mexican quarter of El Paso. All reports indicated, however, that the bandit chieftain has not yet joined the constitutionalist forces, but with a body of his troops, is somewhere in the Rio Florido district of southern Chihuahua, awaiting developments in the crisis.

Gen. M. Medinavietia, formerly Villa's chief of staff, and Gen. Jose Ysabel Robles, minister of war in the Guietterez cabinet, were guests today of Gen. Francisco Gonzales, commandant in Juarez. It was reported here that they, both of whom have directed extensive military campaigns in northern Chihuahua, are to be assigned to important commands in Gen. Trevino's army of the north.

Were Formerly Bandits.

Private advices here today said that several hundred men of the force of ten thousand Mexican troops, which have been concentrated at Bustillos, 70 miles west of Chihuahua City for the ostensible purpose of blocking any attempted American advance down the Mexican Northwestern railway toward the capital, formerly were members of bandit bands, scattered and broken by Gen. Pershing's troops. Operating in conjunction with them, it was said, are the command of Calexico and Canuto Reyes, former Villa leaders, who recently were granted amnesty by Gen. Trevino. Well-informed Mexicans here said today they had been told that only a few of the cirtentifo faction, the former wealthy land holders of the republic, are still under the ban of authorities of the de facto government. Gen. Marcelo Caraveo, former Orozco leader and adherent of Huerta, is now occupying a command at the Mexican field base at Villa Ahumada.

Heavy Guard in Bivouac.

With the American demands before Carranza, the heaviest guard yet maintained was bivouaced about the two international bridges last night. From the Mexican side came reports that practically the entire former garrison was withdrawn from Villa Ahumada, 83 miles south. It is said, a large command is entrenching there. Two troop trains, to one of which is attached Gen. Gonzales private car and two cars of foodstuffs, are awaiting in Juarez to carry the remnant of the garrison to the field base, should hostilities develop. Preparations for the reception of the state troops and the two additional batteries of the fifth field artillery under orders to take station in El Paso continued today. It was expected that the first of the new soldiers will arrive here some time tomorrow.

CRAMPS MEXICAN ARMY.

Curtailed Shipment of Supplies Already Has Effect.

San Antonio, June 27.—Curtailed shipments of supplies into Mexico from the United States already has affected the Mexican army, according to reports reaching Gen. Funston's headquarters here today. It became known that the reason the Mexican forces recently left Nuevo Laredo was because they were unable to obtain forage for their horses from this side of the border.

The situation opposite Naco, Arizona, where 1,500 Mexican troops are being held on trains, aroused widespread speculation here. Gen. Funston has announced that American officers were sure they had fathomed the design of this Mexican troop movement and had reinforcements sent to the American force at Naco and entrenchments have been thrown up there.

SCENE AFFECTING ONE.

Mexican General Sheds Tears at Prospect of a Break.

Brownsville, Tex., June 27.—United States Consul J. H. Johnson, who closed consul affairs in Matamoras last night, held a conference with Gen. Alfredo Ricaut, de facto commaander of the Matamoras district, during which an affecting scene occurred, it became known today.

"I hope it will be possible in the event of a break of relations between our country," Gen. Ricault told Mr. Johnson, according to the latter, "that half an hour before it occurs I may have the pleasure of shaking hands with you and Gen. James Parker, commanding the border patrol at Fort Brown, at the international bridge."

Tears filled Gen. Ricaut's eyes as he made this statement, Mr. Johnson said.

KOWALSKI LEAVES.

He has been succeeded here by Corporal George H. Bradley. Corporal Bradley has had years of experience in the army. He will be advanced to sergeant. Corporal Magner, of Sandusky, Ohio, has been assigned to the local office.

AUBURN MAN NAMED AMONG NEW COLONELS

Kuhlman Chosen to Command Third Regiment of Indiana Men.

Indianapolis, June 27.—Gov. Ralston has announced the complete reorganization of the Indiana national guard's infantry, including the officers for each regiment.

The new provisional regiment, known as the First regiment, will become the One Hundred and Sixty-fourth regiment in the federal army, if the state authorities have anything to do with numbering the regiments as they are mustered into the federal army. The old Second regiment will become the One Hundred and Sixty-third regiment, and the old Third regiment will be known as the One Hundred and Sixty-second regiment.

The three new colonels of the regiments named by the governor follow: First regiment, Col. Leslie R. Naftzger, Indianapolis.

Second regiment, (in event Col. Henri T. Conde is retired from the service, which is probable,) Col. Thomas B. Coulter, of Vincennes.

Third regiment, Col. Aubrey L. Kuhlman, of Auburn.

The three lieutenant colonels are: First regiment, Captain John J. Toffey, jr., former inspector-instructor of the Indiana national guard and now chief federal mustering officer at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Second regiment, Major E. M. Emmett F. Branch, Martinsville.

Third regiment, Lieutenant Colonel W. Freyermuth, South Bend.

The governor announced he had nothing to give out at this time with regard to the commander of the new brigade from Indiana.

SUMMER EATABLES

BY MRS. McCUNE.

FOR breakfast hot coffee is almost always in order in every home, and if it is also demanded at dinner, it will not take more than ten minutes to prepare and serve it.

A mould of ice-cold cereal with fruit and toast will complete a very tasty breakfast. For luncheon there are a number of cold beverages that will appeal to the appetite—tea, coffee, chocolate, buttermilk, lemonade, malted milk are all good; a vegetable salad of string beans, tomatoes or some other refreshing vegetable, with a French dressing made of good oil, will answer nicely for a substantial, and with bread and butter and a dish of ripe fruit with cream and sugar will be all that any one could possibly require.

If one hot dish is desired, a corn pudding, creamed peas or scalloped tomatoes will prove satisfying, and hot tea is always in order.

It is the cold dinner which most housewives find most difficult to plan and prepare, though I wonder at this, for there are so many good things possible for such a menu. Clear soup, jellied or iced, is always appetizing and healthful, and the fruit soups which were described in this department some time ago are excellent for a summer dinner.

For a meat dish, beef or veal loaf, symmetrically sliced and served in a ring of sliced tomatoes dotted with mayonnaise dressing, will prove to be appetizing; or you may have a jellied meat with peas, or cold roast beef or mutton with a mayonnaise of asparagus. Sometimes you will have three or four kinds of cold meat in the refrigerator; perhaps a little of each; these may be jellied together with peas and bits of canned pimento added to make the dish more tasty and attractive.

Serving meat and salad in combination is new and very nice. It saves extra work and dishwashing and provides a novelty for the dinner table as well.

Dessert follows, of course, and if you can manage a sherbet at home you will have supplied the very nicest sort of complement for your cold dinner.

Frozen raspberries or peaches, or a lemon or orange water-ice costs little and are easily made if one has one of the new freezers. Then there are the gelatine dishes and creams, almost as good as a frozen dessert and quite as inexpensive. A ring of lemon jelly filled with fresh-sliced and sugared peaches and served with cream is a charming sweet dish. Or you may prefer a rice pudding packed in ice and salt for two or three hours and served with fresh or canned red raspberries. Floating island, if made intensely cold, cannot be improved upon, and plain cream whipped and sweetened and served icy cold with lady fingers makes a dainty hot evening dessert.

Most men prefer hot coffee, even after a cold dinner, but that, as I said before, is easily supplied and very satisfying.

ODDS & ENDS

A GIRL who is skillful with her needle and who wants to use the leisure hours at a summer resort doing something that will count, might try her hand at embroidering the fine lingerie Dutch collars as gifts. There are few among us who are not conscious that the coming autumn and winter will demand many bridal gifts, and it is far easier to prepare them now than to buy them then. The work of the moment on the porches is embroidering the wide round collar that will be quite a fashion all winter. It is made of the finest handkerchief linen, with a scalloped, button-holed edge, and above this is a bold design in openwork embroidery.

A PHYSICIAN says that he knows of many persons who have taken sea voyages and avoided the usual seasickness by eating freely of salt mackerel, dried salt fish or dried beef. One of the greatest human comforts to the voyager known as the thin-blooded creature, always cold on a steamer, is to have flannel foot warmers, also a blanket kimono to put on over the night clothes at night, when cold is so noticeable. Those who are not seasick are often sick from the cold.

BRIGHT collars, gay corsage bouquets, and half a dozen other devices are employed by dressmakers and tailors to supply the enlivening touch of lightness and brightness which the coming of spring and the expectation of sunshine to come seem to demand. An interesting example in this connection is the narrow fold of bright colored silk which decorates the hem of some of the new suits. It is narrow, so narrow as to resemble a "piping," takes the place of the one-time protective braid, and is visible to the depth of a quarter of an inch or less the whole way round the edge of the skirt. The same shade repeated on the coat preserves the harmony of the general scheme.

BEAUTIFUL hands are a sign of good breeding, it is said, and certain it is that no one who neglects her hands can expect them to look well. Only regular attention and steady care bring forth any results in beautifying the hands. The girl who works for her living need not despair, however, for if she will devote a few moments each night to her hands they will look almost as well as those of the lady of leisure. Be careful first of all as to how the hands are washed—in tepid water is the most satisfactory, for it is not too cold to remove the dirt and not too hot to redden the flesh. Constantly changing soap is very bad for the skin. A good soap should be selected and be used regularly without change. Be sure that all the soap is off the hands, then dry thoroughly, so that the flesh is not left damp and moist. By going to a manicurist once in a while and by watching attentively how the work is done you may be able to do your manicuring at home the rest of the time.

TO WASH BLANKETS

THE glorious sunny days make the housekeeper aware that it is time to wash her blankets and other woolens. So many women write asking how to wash blankets that a few simple directions are given here.

First, blankets are made of wool, which is a substance particularly affected by two things—temperature and rubbing. The wool fibre shrinks when it comes in contact either with very cold or very hot water. The fibre also becomes broken, if squeezed or rubbed too violently.

The best way to wash blankets, then, is to keep in mind that we can neither squeeze nor wring them nor use too hot or too cold water without making them shrink. Unless there are some very soiled spots it is best to use a soap solution. This is prepared as follows:

Four quarts cold water; one large bar white soap, shaved; 2 tablespoonfuls borax.

The soap should be shaved and added with the borax to the cold water, then heated to boiling or until perfectly liquid. The water for the blankets should be tepid, or about 110 degrees. The tub may be filled partly full of such water and about one quart of the above soap solution used.

The blankets should then be immersed in this water and washed by a gentle squeezing or sousing motion until they appear clean. Remove the blankets from this first water and repeat in two other soap waters, if necessary. The last water should be tepid, but clear, with a half cup of borax added to whiten them still further.

The blankets should then be gently squeezed or pressed dry. They may be wrung through a wringer if carefully done, but should never be wrung by twisting.

The whole washing should be done as quickly as possible, and the blankets at once hung in a sunny, windy place. If the two opposite edges of the blanket are pinned together after the manner of large tablecloths, there will be less danger of the blanket drying unevenly.

STORY FOR CHILDREN

BY EDNA EGAN.

DON'T you know this barrel story? It is about a little girl who simply would not pick up her things.

"The mother had insisted on the child caring for her room as soon as she was old enough, but the results were anything but gratifying.

"The mother was obliged to make daily pilgrimages to the little room, where she straightened hastily-spread bed clothes; picked up and put away ribbons, sashes, shoes, and stockings; hung up hats coats and dresses.

"She puzzled long and hard and finally hit upon a solution.

"One day the child came into her mother's room most explosively.

"'What is that old barrel doing in my room?' she demanded.

"'That, my dear, is for my convenience,' replied the mother calmly. 'I am tired of picking up your things and putting them away. So after this when I find them out of place I shall simply drop them into the barrel. You may take them out or leave them in as you please.'

"'But mother, the old thing looks perfectly horrid. I don't want it in my room.' The child was ready to cry.

"'My dear, the moment I find that it does not have to be used it will be taken out. As long as I find things to put in it there it stays.'

"For awhile there was marked improvement; but little by little the barrel repository began to fill up.

"Every few days there was a rummage and emptying to find some mislaid article; it seemed as if the discipline were failing of its effect; the child did not in the least mind digging into the barrel for what she wanted. One day there was a party and an especially pretty frock for the occasion. The next morning the frock hung over a chair just as it had been taken off. It wrung the mother's heart to do it, but she felt this was the Spartan test.

"Another party was imminent; the day came; it was time to go; no sound was heard above stairs. The mother finally went up. Sounds of sobbing came from the child's room; she softly opened the door. On the floor lay the party dress, a mass of crumpled muslin, lace, and ribbons; on the bed lay a disconsolate little figure; a tear-stained face was lifted.

"'Oh! Mother! You put my best dress in the barrel and now it is ruined.'

"'Mother is sorry, but you were warned.'

"'Oh! I know it! But if you will only take that barrel out I will never, never, leave anything about again.' And I think the story goes she did not.

"Now this is the way I warned the children. I told them that when I went into the playroom at night and found it looking like a cyclone's path, that I should put everything into the barrel I proposed installing. As I said in the beginning, I believe I shall have order."

WALLPAPER

Presents Great Problem of Keeping It Clean

WHEN a bed stands in the corner of a room so that one of its sides extends directly against the wallpaper, the maid should be instructed to pull the bed well away from the wall when it is being made so that the paper will not get soiled from the pulling and smoothing of the covers, or from the contact of the person's clothes who crowds in between bed and wall when smoothing the covers on that side.

On sweeping days, too, it seems almost impossible to prevent the marks from dusty fingers from leaving tracks on the light wallpaper, and greasy finger marks are difficult to eradicate. A little French chalk rubbed on the spot will sometimes remove the worst of the grease spot, but if this fails it is possible to iron out the grease with a hot iron after laying a piece of blotting paper over the spot to absorb the grease as it is absorbed with the heat.

When having a room or hall papered always ask the paperhanger to leave a few scraps of the new paper so that it may be used for patching if the wall is defaced at any time.

MILADY'S BEAUTY

IF soap bark is used to wash the hair inclose the bark in a six-inch bag and sew it up. Steep the contents in a quart of hot water, but do not boil it. The bag can be used the same as a sponge to assist in the work. Rinse the hair carefully with warm water, then with cold water, and rub perfectly dry. This is recommended for oily hair.

A SHAMPOO that also acts as a tonic for oil hair is made of half an ounce of borax, a quarter of an ounce of bicarbonate of soda, one-half dram of camphor, a quarter of an ounce of glycerin, a pint of distilled or rose water and one ounce of camphor. Shake the camphor in the alcohol until the former is dissolved. Then mix with the other things. To use, massage well into the scalp and through the long hair. Let it stay on for fifteen minutes and then wash off in hot clear water, rinsing several times. Use no soap.

UNDER no circumstances rub soap into white hair. Put it into a warm or hot suds and use fresh water freely for rinsing and be liberal with soft, warm towels when drying. Avoid a yellow or green soap that contains alkali and makes the hair yellow. Use pure castile soap that has previously been reduced to a jelly in warm rainwater to which a little bay rum has been added.

SLEEP is a great preserver of youth. Eight hours at night and a short nap during the day will do much to keep the face free from wrinkles. Always sleep with the bedroom window open a few inches at the top, both in summer and winter. A daily morning bath, tepid in winter and cold in summer, with a brisk rub to follow, will keep the skin fresh and clear. Two hours must be passed in the open air, walking, riding or playing games. All tight clothing, and especially tight lacing, must be avoided, as compression disturbs the circulation and is often the cause of enlarged veins and red noses.

BAD complexion, lacking luster, elasticity and plumpness, often indicates want of goodness in the vital or nutritive system. A mild diet, a gentle temperature, an even digestion, open air exercise, sleep and tranquility of mind are all necessary to loveliness. Fresh meats, to be nutritious, should be rare. Avoid all highly spiced foods and drink plenty of water. Oranges, pineapples, grapefruit, olives, whole wheat bread, tomatoes and apples are all beauty foods. Substitute lemon juice for vinegar and eat sparingly of rich salads and pastries.

MANY believe that when the hair is falling the use of tonics will stop it; this is a mistake; a tonic cannot prevent the hair already loose from falling any more than a leaf can be fastened back into its place on a tree by applying fertilizers to the roots. But the scalp can be so invigorated by proper massage that the follicles will secrete the oils as they should, and the new hairs will not fall. It is always advised to cut off very long hair when it begins to fall. The strength then goes into the length that is left, giving it a new and more vigorous growth. Hair that is uneven is not ugly, neither is its unevenness a sign of bad condition. It is only that hair that is the least inclined to be wavy or is fine and soft "flies" much more than the heavy locks. A small bottle of bandoline kept on the dressing table and just a speck passed over the hair after dressing will help, and the invisible net may be worn when one does not wear a veil.

VERY curly hair which is difficult to manage can be more easily brushed and combed if a few drops of brilliantine or a little olive oil is poured on the brush. The hair should be divided into strands and each strand combed separately, beginning at the very end and working gradually upward.

DON'T allow your cheeks to become hollow. Of course, to retain the full, round contour good health is necessary, but there are a number of people whose health is good and whose cheeks are hollow. For these massage is the remedy. Use a good vegetable cream and massage each night just before going to bed, for about fifteen minutes. The movement to be used should be upward—never massage downward, as the object is to make the muscles and flesh hold up firmly. The rotary movement can be used also, working from the center of the cheek outward. Some people make the mistake of massaging too heavily. You must remember that the flesh is delicate, and the cushions of the fingers should be used very lightly. Don't plow the flesh.

FAMILY INFLUENCE

"YOU don't mind me talking, do you, lady?" said the long, lean "handy" man who was putting on the weather stripping. "I'm built so I work faster when I talk—honest. It ain't hard for me to talk, I don't have to stop to think none when I do it.

"Yes'm—I can do all your extra work around here—beat rugs, wash windows, fix storm doors, clean off snow, do your garden work, et cetry. I've got a wife and three kiddies that's got to be taken care of, and you bet I don't ask my wife to go out washing! She's got her hands full taking care of me and the kids and that's enough for even a big strong woman like she is.

"Say—that woman of mine is mighty good. She's making a man of me. I used to drink, you know. Well, I just got the habit. You see, there ain't much else to do when you're with a bunch of fellows and haven't got any home and kind of roustin' about. I was thirty before I found this woman. She was a widow and I told her all about my faults, but she took me, God bless her. That was five years ago.

"Gosh, I look forward to going home nights. Everything that cheery—and the kids to play with. The oldest is a boy—four years old. Next comes the two-year-old, and the baby's six months. And every one of them has taken a prize in a baby show. Yes, ma'am. They're some kids.

"You see, I got something to work for now, and something to look to at the end of the day. It keeps me straight. Anyway, I'd do anything for that woman of mine. I couldn't go back on her after her showing me what a good woman's like. Gosh, she's good!

"We're farmer folk, you know, raised in Nova Scotia. But us boys thought we'd do better in the states. One after the other we left the farm and went out to make our fortunes. Well, I ain't made any fortune, but I got a wife and three of the finest kids in Christendom, and I'm supporting them comfortable. You see my regular job is janitor of a flat building. That gives us a warm place to live and a little money, and I add considerable to it doing these odd chores.

"Well, when us boys got together in the city we thought we'd like to have our old father with us, being as our mother was dead. So we finally got him to say he'd come for a visit, though he wouldn't promise to stay. He stayed in the city just three days and then he said he was going back on the farm, where he could live in peace and safety. He said it was hard for him to believe the good Lord could hear anybody's prayers with all the noise going on in the city.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, June 27.—Higher cable quotations and free buying on the part of a leading speculator here caused a material advance today in the value of wheat.

Opening prices, which ranged from a quarter to ⅞c higher, with July at $1.01¾ to $1.02⅛, were followed by an additional upturn and then a moderate reaction.

The close was nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to ¼c lower, with July at $1.01¼ and September, $1.04¼.

Liberal export business hoisted the corn market. After opening ½c to 1c higher, prices scored further gains.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, June 27.—Stocks continued under the influence of the Mexican situation at the outset of today's operations, declines far outnumbering gains. Losses of a point or more were recorded by Texas company, American Can, United States Smelting, United Fruit and Maxwell Motors, but these were offset by corresponding advances in Mexicans, California Petroleum, Industrial Alcohol, Crucible Steel and other equipment issues. United States Steel opened slightly lower, soon made up more than its loss and as promptly yielded again under pressure of large offerings. Rails were a negligible factor with an irregular trend.

Prices hardened in all quarters later, various developments, such as the higher rates granted to transcontinental roads and rumors of large orders by our government to some of the munitions companies contributing to that end. Reading, yesterday's weak feature, displayed sudden activity and strength on its advance of two points. Crucible extending its gain to 3¼ and United States Steel suggested substantial absorption on an extreme rise of 1⅛. There was marked improvement in other industrials, shipping shares and specialties. Trading slackened at noon with recoveries well sustained. Bonds were irregular.

Baby Bond's Big Brother Also Popular

The $500 bonds of the same issue as the much talked of Baby Bonds, and except for the larger denomination, identical with the Baby Bonds, are proving exceedingly popular among the local business men who prefer the larger investment but who desire the same security and rate of interest of the Baby Bond.

Baby Bonds are in $10 denominations, secured by first mortgages on local real estate and bearing six per cent. interest. For further information call the Wildwood Sales Company, Shoaff building.

SHOWS RAPID GAIN IN VOCATIONAL WORK

State Director Points Out Much Progress in State During Year.

Indianapolis, June 27.—Dr. W. F. Book, state director of vocational education, will make a detailed financial report of the cost of vocational education in the state at the next meeting of the state board of education and also will make recommendations for the development of the work which eh thinks should be brought before the board and the next legislature.

In preparation for this work, Dr. Book has outlined in brief form some of the advancements of vocational educational work in the state up to date. He says 113 vocational departments and schools for industrial and domestic science education have been established, with an enrollment of 12,186 students this year. This is a net gain for the year of 55 schools and 4,647 students and reports are not in from Crawfordsville and Salem.

Eight new cities have taken up the vocational work in industrial and home making lines; eight cities and 351 new pupils have been added to the agricultural group; and work in old centers of this work has been improved.

Book comments with much pleasure on the work in Terre Haute, where a girl's school costing $16,000 has been built and additions have been made of the old Rose Polytechnical buildings and grounds valued at $100,000. He also refers to the inctrest in the work in Evansville, Columbus, Anderson, Richmond, Madison and other cities.

Concluding his report, Book says Indiana problems and needs and the results in vocational education which have already been attained in Indiana will be in the minds of leaders in vocational education throughout the country this year.

"The Indiana work has the sanction of the leaders throughout the country and will become an example for the rest of the states," he says.

The state board of education is considering recommendations that the state vocation educational law be amended as follows:

That the establishment of part time classes be mandatory upon all board of education of towns of 5,000 population or over.

That attendance of all boys and girls under 18 years of age who have left school and entered any type of profitable employment be required for at least five hours each week during the regular school year.

That in addition to the provisions for part time education complementery to daily employment, part time education be also provided through continuation schools for all youthful workers who are at work in juvenile employment, regardless of whether it is complementery to the daily employment.

That the law relates to the child labor and the issuance of working permits be amended so: 1—That working permits are required for all types of employment for all youths under 16, including those engaged in farm work, any form of domestic or personal service or any other employment.

Based on Experts' Report.

The board received these recommendations recently at a meeting where a report was made by a survey committee which had just completed the first vocational educational survey in the state. The survey was made in Richmond by experts and conditions found there were made the basis for the recommendations.

The committee was composed of Prof. R. J. Leonard, professor of vocational education at Indiana university; Dr. W. F. Book, state director of vocational education; C. A. Winslow, special agent of the state board; John Lapp, director of the bureau of legislative information; Miss Cleo Murtland, secretary of the women's work, National Society for Industrial Education of New York city; Dr. F. G. Bonser, professor of industrial education at Columbia university in New York, and J. T. Giles, superintendent of Richmond schools. Thirty-eight persons were employed in making the survey.

The committee said the limitations of the present vocational education law were shown in conditions found in Richmond. Seventy-six boys and sixty-nine girls were found to be working only through the grace of owning a working permit and only one boy and two girls were found to be of foreign birth. The committee says these youths stand slight chance of success in the modern competitive order.

Economic Necessity.

According to the investigators most of the children stopped school because of economic necessities. Forty-two boys and thirty-one girls gave this as their reason; nineteen boys and fifteen girls wanted to work; three boys said their fathers were dead; seven boys and sixteen girls said they had various reasons for stopping; only eight boys and five girls said they did not like school.

In thirty-three instances where children were sent to work, the committee found the father was a skilled mechanic and because of this surprise is expressed because they could not support their families without the assistance of the children. In fifty-three instances the father was a laborer.

The great majority of the children went into factory labor and the average wage of boys and girls was $4.30 a week. Boys received from $3 to $9 a week and girls from $3 to $7.

Aside from general recommendations to improve the law the committee suggested the adoption of a new course of study to meet the conditions applying particularly to improving working conditions in Richmond. Night school classes were found to be the solution of troubles in many instances.

Queer Influence Noted on Psychology of European Public.

Vienna, June 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) The general state of belligerency in Europe has not only modified the material course of life, but has had such an influence on the psychology of the public that after two years, a state of war has become an almost normal condition, according to a woman contributor to a prominent newspaper.

The constant presence of the thought that war is the great condition of the day, and to win it the prime objective, has in the course of the past few years, given a secondary place to the interests of the masses, she said, so that now the loss of relatives on the battlefield is no longer associated with the self of a person but with the will of the aggregate to win. For this also sacrifices of a material nature are made, whose rendering no other cause or demand could hope to achieve.

While the war is not as yet looked upon exactly as a normal state in which a continent ought to find itself, there is a striking stoic indifference about it, in many respects. There is of course still a keen desire that peace may come soon, but coupled to it inseparably is a grim determination to show that the central power group cannot be effaced.

Fine weather and reassuring crop reports from all parts of the empire have served to heighten the impression here that all is well. Vienna and Budapest are close to their habitual tendency to look upon life as a thing to be enjoyed to the full, even if bread tickets and two meatless days per week must be taken into account. This has gone so far as to cause the resurrection of a ninety-year-old French opera, and permit a merry interest in the presenting to a favorite singer by an admirer of a parrot made of solid gold. The precious bird is life-size and was handed over the footlights.

For two years everybody has been preaching the gospel that one must die once anyway, and that a little sooner or later does not make a great difference. Association with this idea has been a blessing to many, and its reiteration has had its effect upon the psychology of the masses, so that today it is accepted as an obvious inevitability to meet death on the firing line. The condition in question is said by some to have strong similarity to the views held in the ancient world on human sacrifices when they were the practice and when its victims were drawn from the population when other sources failed.

A CREDIT TO THE CITY.

A well known business man said today that he considered the Summer Number of THE WILDWOOD MAGAZINE with its beautiful engravings a credit to Fort Wayne and that every citizen should secure a copy of this issue of THE WILDWOOD.
